Delores,
I want to thank you very much for helping me in the past. I really appreciated it. I hope you have a nice summer, and best of luck always!

Delores,
So you finally made it to be a senior, congratulations and good luck for year 12. Come.
I hope you have a great year.

Delores,
I've been really fun & enjoying meeting you. Good luck to come.

Dear Delores,

Dear Delores,

I've really enjoyed knowing you and watching you grow this past year. God has been good to us and there are more blessings in store. Sometimes the path

It is a real honor to write on this reserved page in your Senior Tomahawk!

Knowing you and working with you in Y-teens has been such a joy to me, Delores! Not until you are grown and leading a group of teenagers yourself will you realize what it means to have at least one girl who is always faithful. You have meant so much to me, and I have enjoyed watching you mature as a Christian. I appreciate the talks we had together. Not that I helped you much, but I was thankful that you would come to me.

I don't know what you'll be doing now that you've graduated. We are praying you will be able to stay in Ft. Walton. But whatever you do and wherever you go - we feel sure you'll be seeking to do the Lord's will in your life. If this is true, then we know you'll be happy. We are grateful for your friendship and thank God for you and your wonderful family.

May the Lord bless and keep you as you continue to serve Him.

Phil. 1:3

In His Love -

Dear Delores,

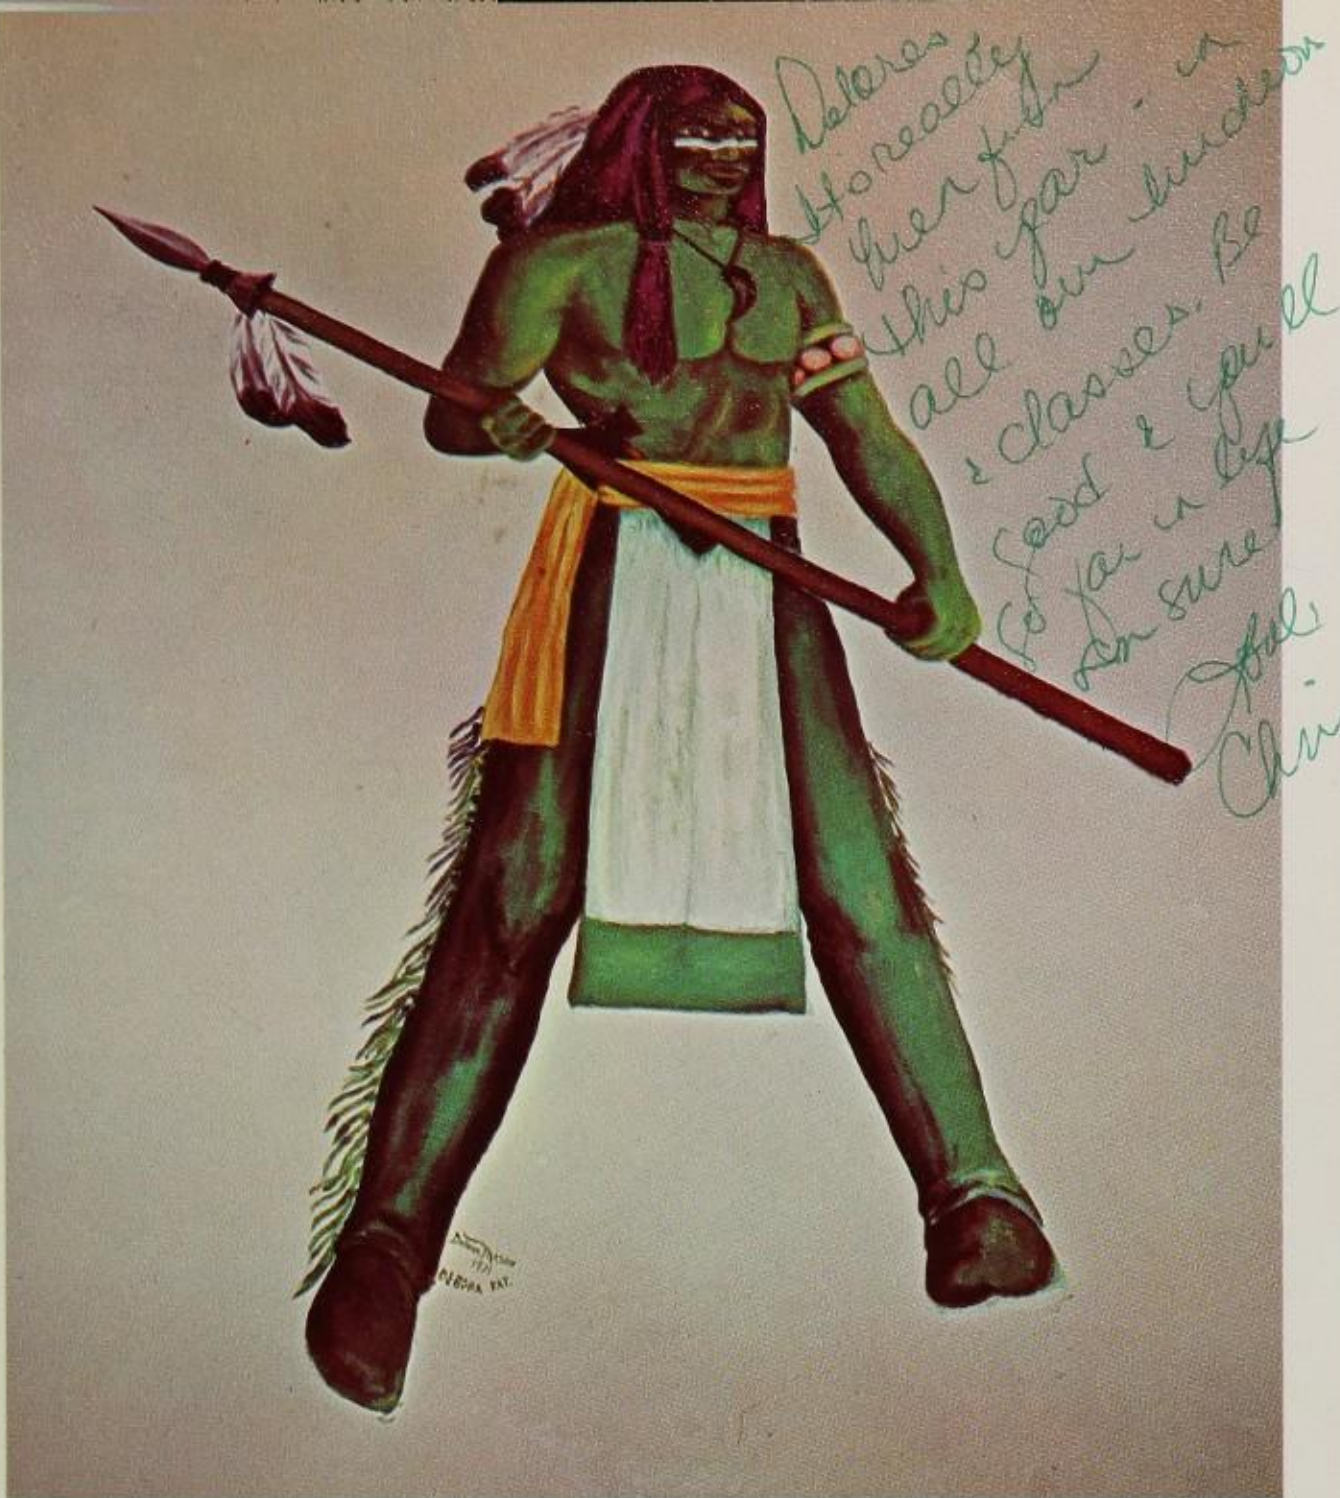

I'll try not to take up but half the space left, since someone that wrote above took more than her space. I am thankful to have had the opportunity to work with you for the past few years. Your growth in Christ has been very encouraging to me as a pastor. It is always a blessing to have young people come for advice but it is much more satisfying to see some of them pay attention to what has been said. Delores you will make it in life as long as you will listen to love. S.A. Kidd

Delores,

A wonderful era has ended, only to open upon a new and more challenging one! Jesus is the Key, in high school, college or working. My prayer for you is that you love Him more and more and share that love more. Be a follower of Christ as dear children. Things will not be easy now - indeed they never will be! But it offers us wonderful possibilities for growth and education in the ways of our Lord - serve Him with all your heart, love Him supremely and God Bless you. I am...

We will be very glad and we may get very discouraged. Just think of what Christ would thought for me. He is a wonderful person and we are living our best life. Always seek his will and you will find a happy life. In Christ Jesus our Father

It's not easy to be a school principal these days.

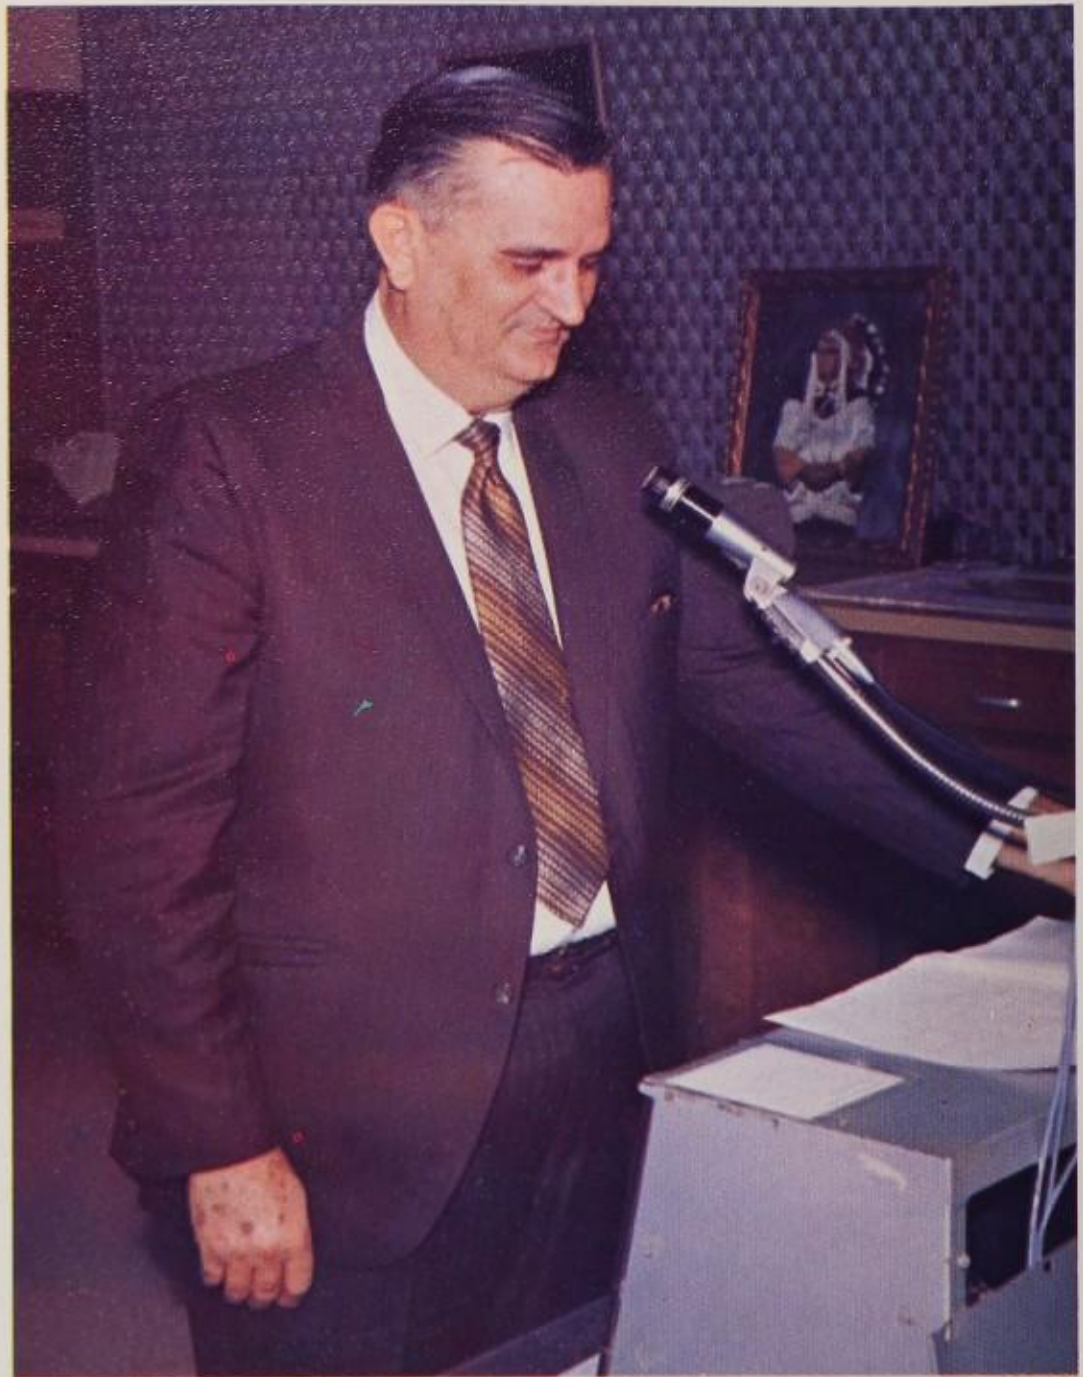

Satisfying simultaneous, yet often incompatible demands of students, parents and community officials is an impossible task.

For 31 years Principal H. A. Bruner has devoted his life to the education of at least 40,000 students.

Through his leadership, Choctawhatchee has become renowned among Florida schools.

With a firm hand and a quick wit, Mr. Bruner has showed that he knows that schools are more than just hallow halls, students more than paper people.

For being such an important part of us, we, the 1971 Tomahawk Staff dedicate this publication to our principal, Mr. H. A. Bruner.

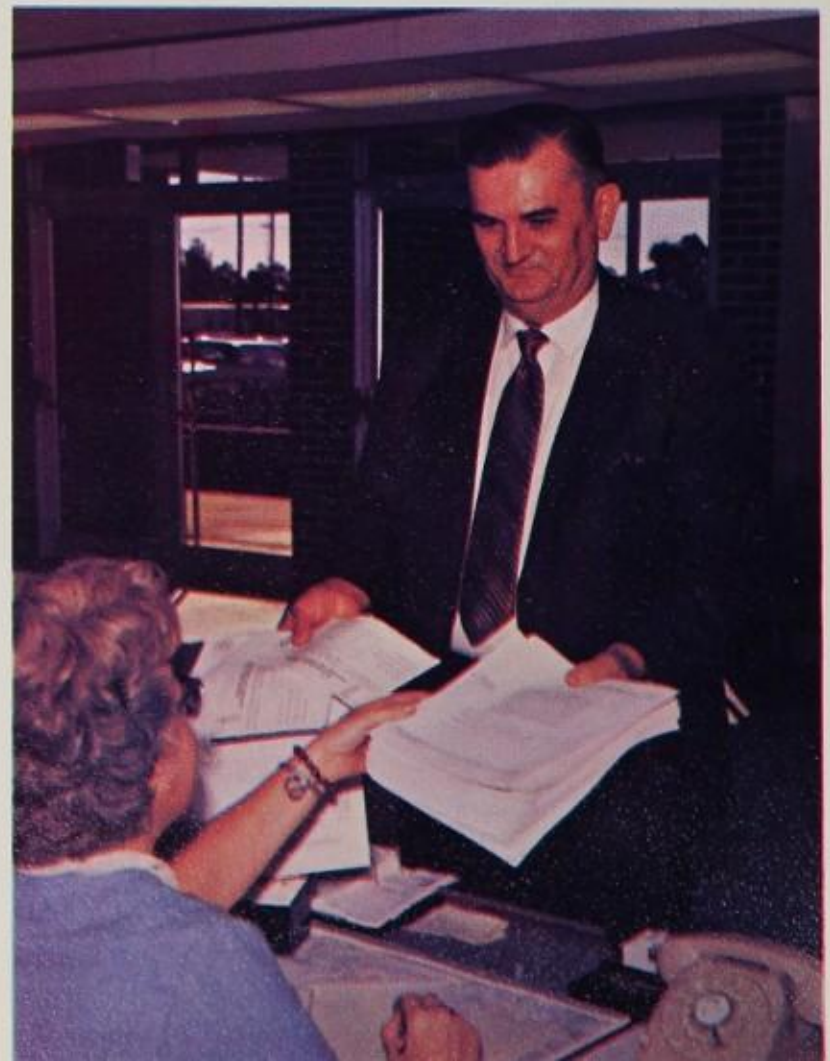

Making last minute changes in the day's schedule, Mr. H. A. Bruner uses the intercom system to notify teachers of new plans.

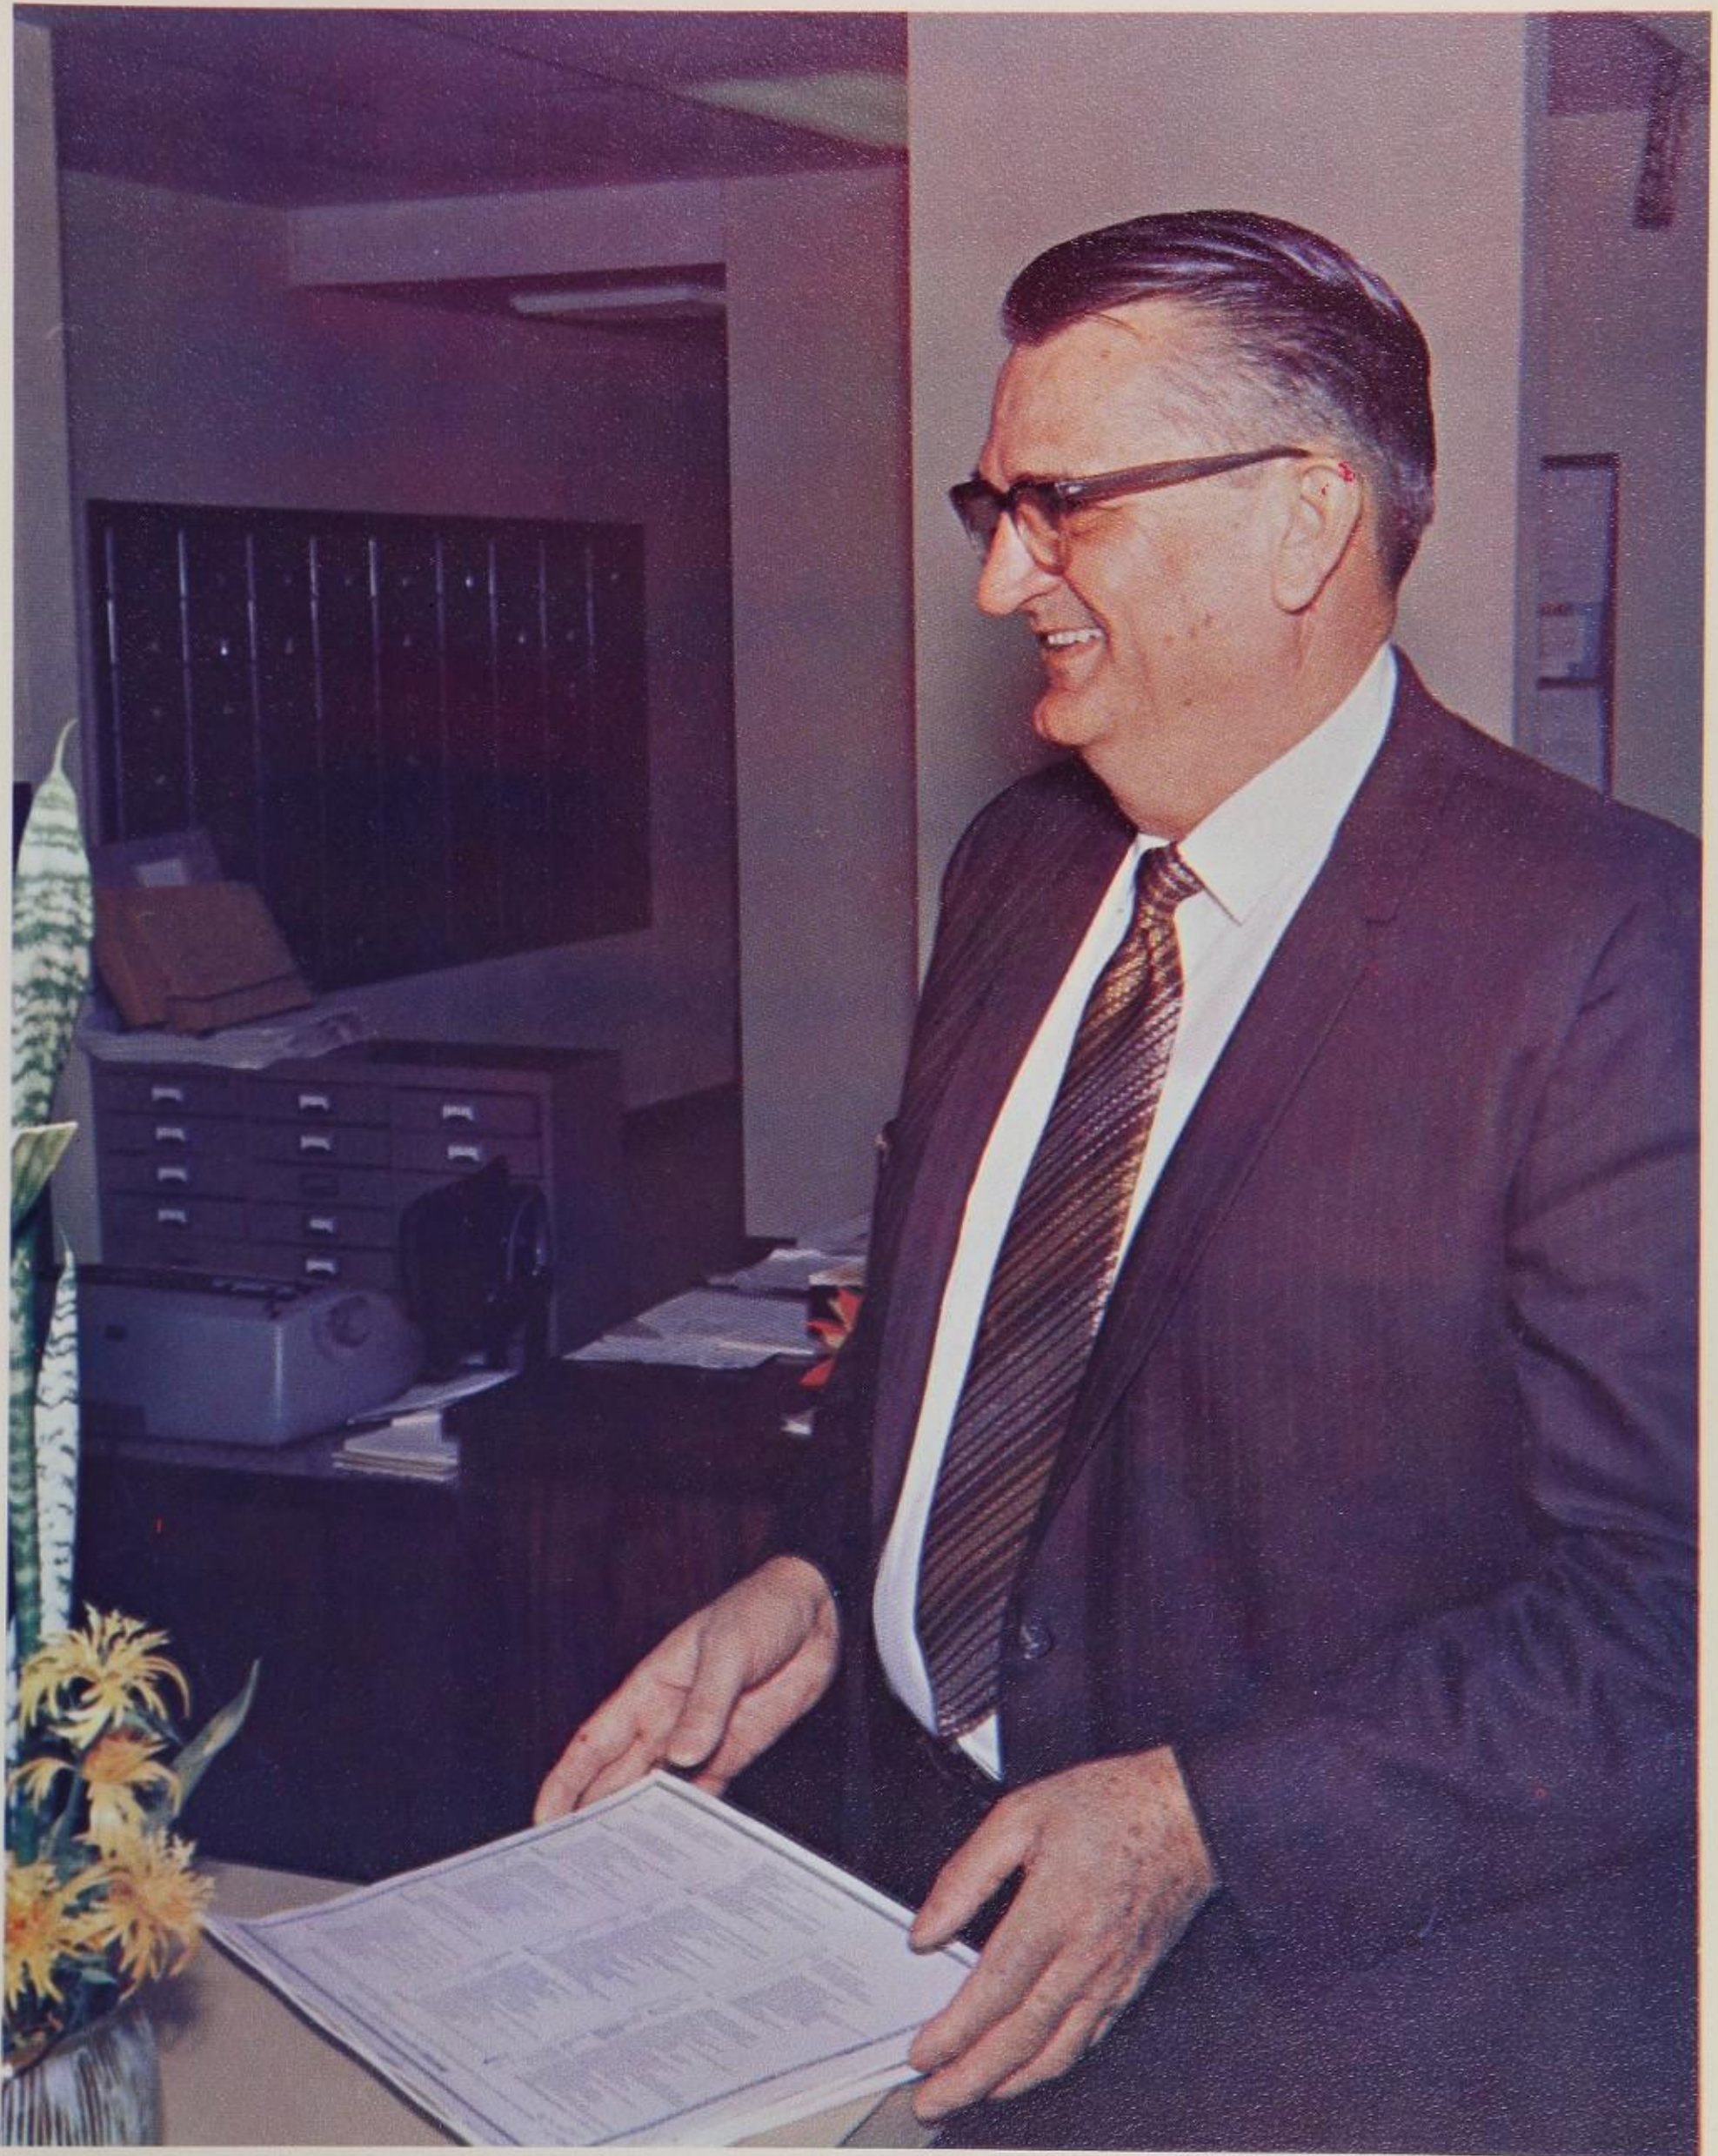

Mr. H. A. Bruner learns that problems can be overcome by discussing them with students.

Mr. H. A. Bruner returns accreditation forms to Mrs. Ila Dudley for future reference and filing.

ACADEMICS

Ken Baker, Beth Kelleyhouse, Mark Davis, and Greg Riley carefully paint creative sketches showing their own style in shading and colors.

Showing her patience and remarkable skills, Carol Sizemore carefully clips the unfinished edges of her sewing.

Trying to recouperate from the day's activities, a study-hall student relaxes his mind and enjoys a quiet moment.

Soothing massages in the warm sunlight give Nancy Barton's feet relief from all the aches and pains of daily activities.

student achievements outstanding in survey

Each day we grow older and more knowledgeable. With this growth, we gain wisdom and are able to evaluate the forces that shape each of our realities.

Academics is not just teachers, books, and homework. It is a key to our future. It expresses our accomplishments and ideas.

Surveys for accreditation were made of students' attitudes toward school. Results showed that the majority feels highly favorable toward Choctawhatchee, its academic environment, and well-qualified teachers.

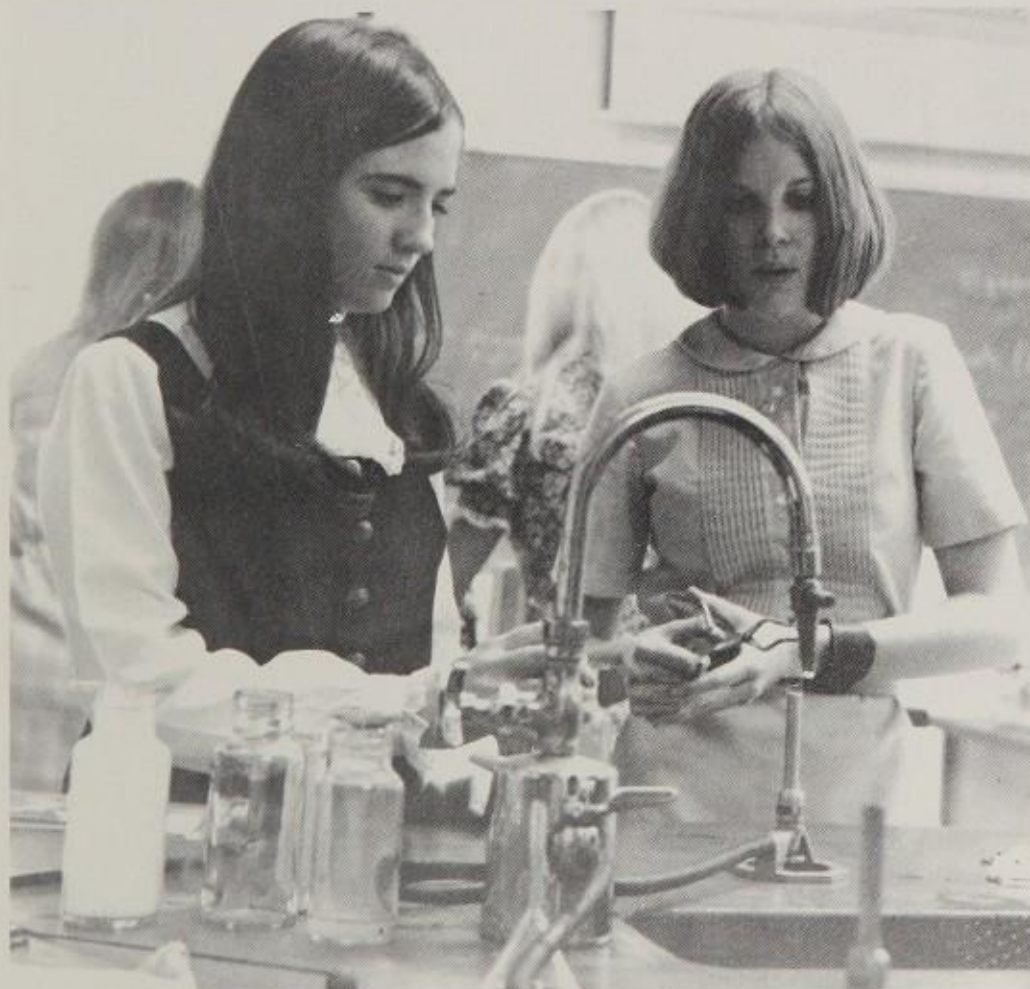

Students feel academically secure. They agree that their courses prepare them for a career or college after graduation.

Surveys revealed that students feel the school's personnel try to meet their needs. School rules are reasonable and students highly approve Choctaw's physical plant.

In the class of '70, test scores of the American College Testing Program averaged higher on each section than the national average. Also greatly exceeding the national average of 19.7, the composite score for Choctawhatchee students was 22.3.

Occupational intentions of the Class of '71 ranged from business to education. Most however, were undecided, but plan to further their education after graduating.

Another year has ended. With it has come a new period of time filled with changing ideas and greater opportunities. It is our ultimate chance to show that we are a part of all that we have met.

Performing chemical experiments, Eva Simmons and Sally Sage show precaution when heating new elements over a flame.

accreditation creates big job for teachers

Man vs. Computers! Man won the battle when the first computerized schedules were issued at Choctaw. Demands upon the administrative staff grew as complications arose from using this revolutionary technique.

Special committees of administrators and teachers spent long hours preparing for accreditation. Evaluation reports of the different departments accounted for a large part of the preparations and activities.

Assistant Principal Mr. Bruce Criswell attended a drug clinic held in Pensacola, Florida. Plans were discussed to start a new program in the school system to teach the problems of drug abuse and to better inform parents.

Legs acquired a new look upon revision of the dress code. Minis, midis, and maxis appeared everywhere. Included in the changes for boys was a more liberal hair length.

Teachers and administrators participated in open house held on September 22. This gave parents an opportunity to talk to teachers and see the school's facilities.

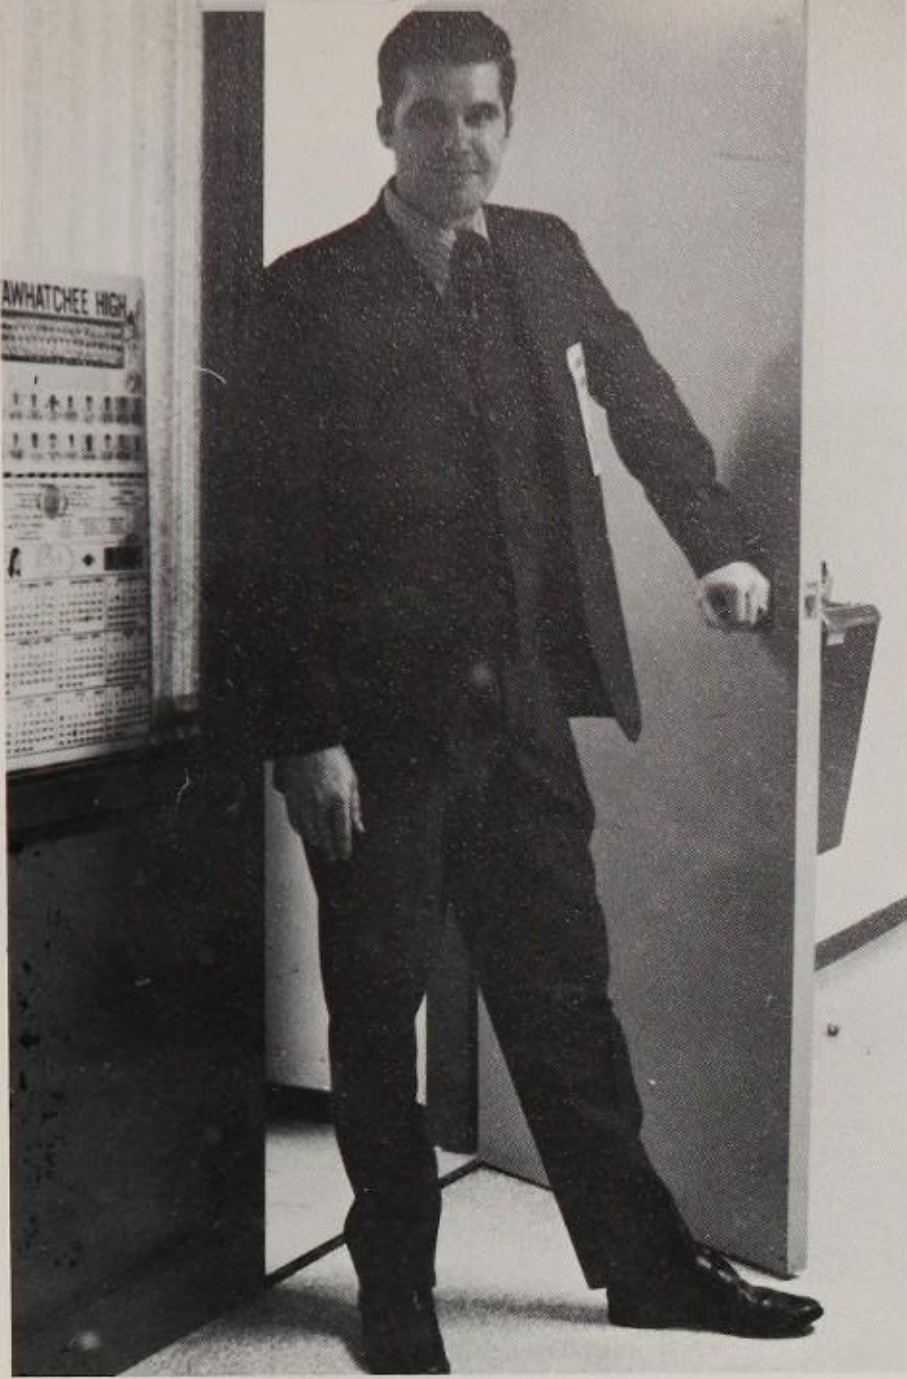

Thumbing through the homeroom files, Mr. H. A. Bruner, principal, notices that all cards are in appropriate order and are complete.

Requiring many corrections and consuming a great amount of time, computerized schedules provided much extra work for administrative personnel.

Mr. Bruce Criswell, assistant principal, leaves his office to attend to his other daily duties around the school.

Assistant principal, Mr. George Nied, boosts the Big Green spirit by selling football tickets prior to the games.

As part of her daily routine, Mrs. Elaine Clark; girls' dean, continues to write passes for students late to class.

ailing students cured! potent pink pills work

Monday morning blahs, everyday aches and pains and numerous other ailments were taken care of by Mrs. Joan Maki, smiling mother and nurse away from home. Pink aspirins were given to people with complaints.

In a special workshop, taught by Mrs. Ernestine Wilmot, club treasurers were instructed how to handle their money more wisely and how to keep their books accurate.

Mrs. Nancy Bledsoe joined second year worker, Mrs. Nita Stephens, in keeping accurate account of daily attendance records, along with handling all sign outs.

Advance Placement went into the planning stage under the direction of the guidance counselors. AP is a special program which enables high school seniors to earn college credits in English, science, math, social studies and foreign languages. Credit is given according to the student's score on his examination taken in May of his senior year.

Joining regular staff members Mrs. Doris Peterson and Mrs. Jewel Pierce, Mr. John Gordon helped sophomores plan courses for their remaining school years.

Mrs. Joy Love, new secretary for the guidance department, aided students as well as helped with office tasks.

Working diligently at her desk, Mrs. Joy Love, guidance secretary, handles college transcripts and helps with other student problems, too.

Mrs. Marilyn Passell, Playground Daily News' news editor, explains to journalism student, Judy A. Bosnake, the content of the front page.

networks hear views from media students

Mass Media students turned critic during Better Broadcasts' Look - Listen Poll. They expressed views to network sponsors.

Nouns, pronouns, and verbs proved a difficult feat for many as they tackled the new course, Grammar and Usage.

Tape - making gave Contemporary Literature students a chance to demonstrate their creative abilities. Inspired by poems and "now" music, students made collages.

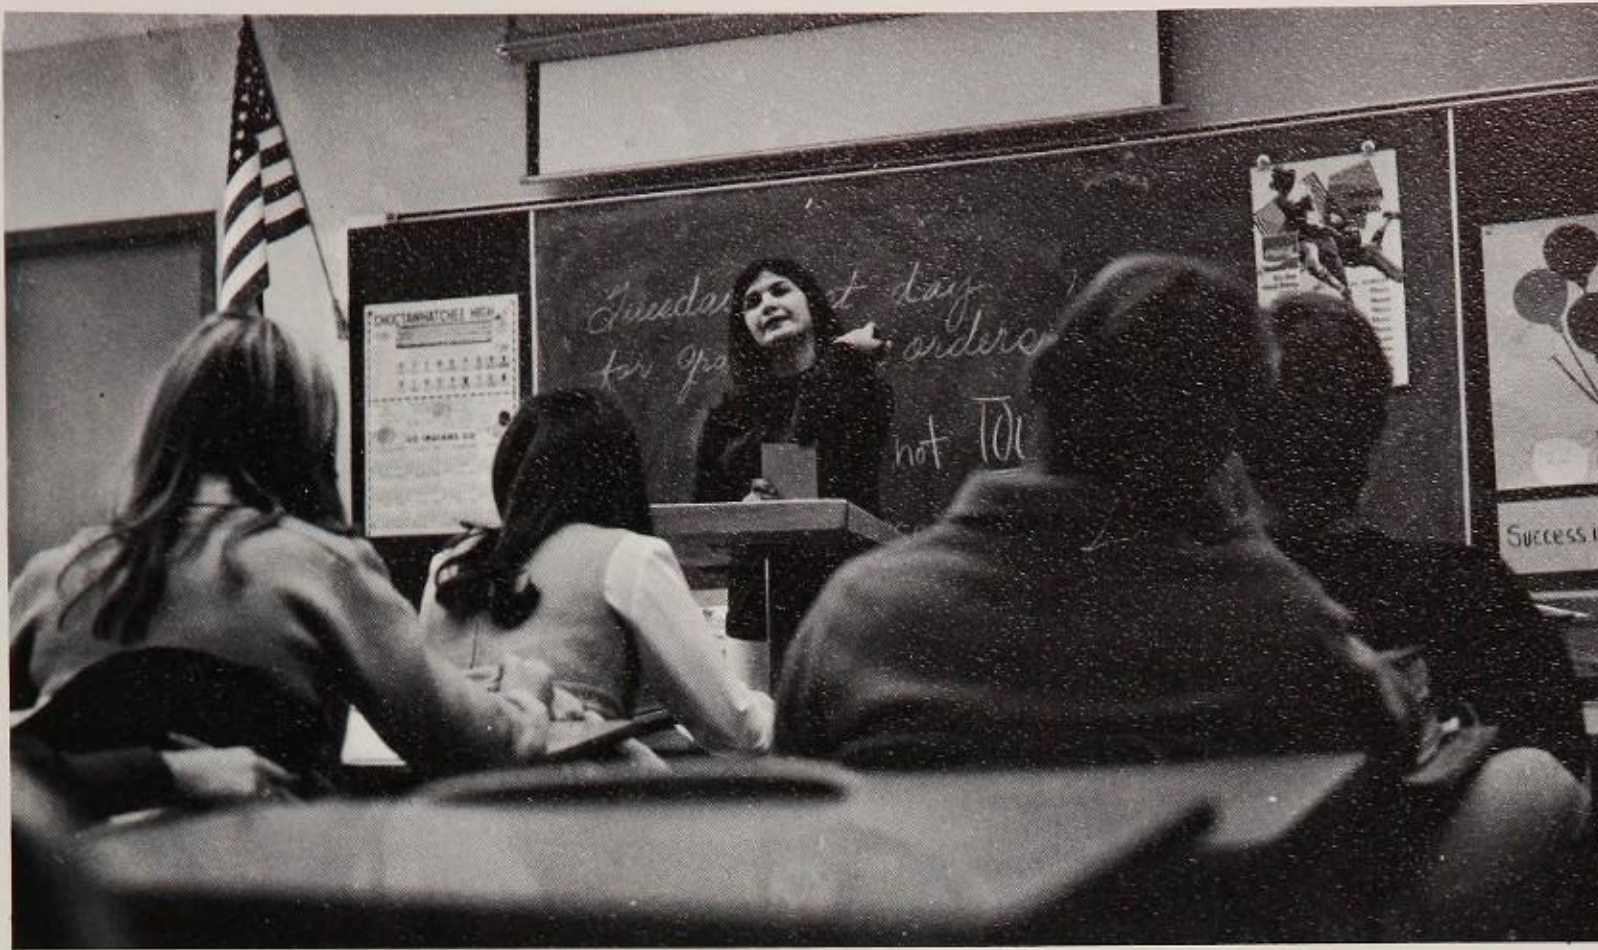

Current expressions used by teens were compiled into a TEENAGE SLANG DICTIONARY by tenth grade lexicographers.

Amateur journalists from 70 schools assembled at Choctaw for the Florida Scholastic Press Association District One meeting. Professional journalists introduced new concepts used by annual and newspaper staffs.

trigonometry causes population explosions

Lost one Home Ec room! Found (or rather snatched), one room by the math department! Enrollment of students taking Trigonometry and Analytical Geometry increased the need for another room. These students wanted the involvement, the challenge and the accomplishment of those math courses.

Other courses included Algebra I and II, Math V, Geometry, Applied and Business math, which explore the fun in numbers.

Math teachers showed their spirit by purchasing light green jackets. These new jackets prevented large cleaning bills by protecting their clothes from chalk dust.

Mrs. Lona Almond leads finger exercises, teaching Nancy Showers and Michele Beatty six functions of a triangle.

Dorothy Covey is having difficulty with her trigonometry problems, so David Cole takes time to assist her with his compass, ruler, and wise advice.

exploration opens mysterious new worlds

"Water, water everywhere and not a drop to drink!" This assertion from the Rhyme of the Ancient Mariner proved false in movies seen by Marine Biology students. Through special processes, the salt water that surrounds Fort Walton Beach can be refined for drinking purposes.

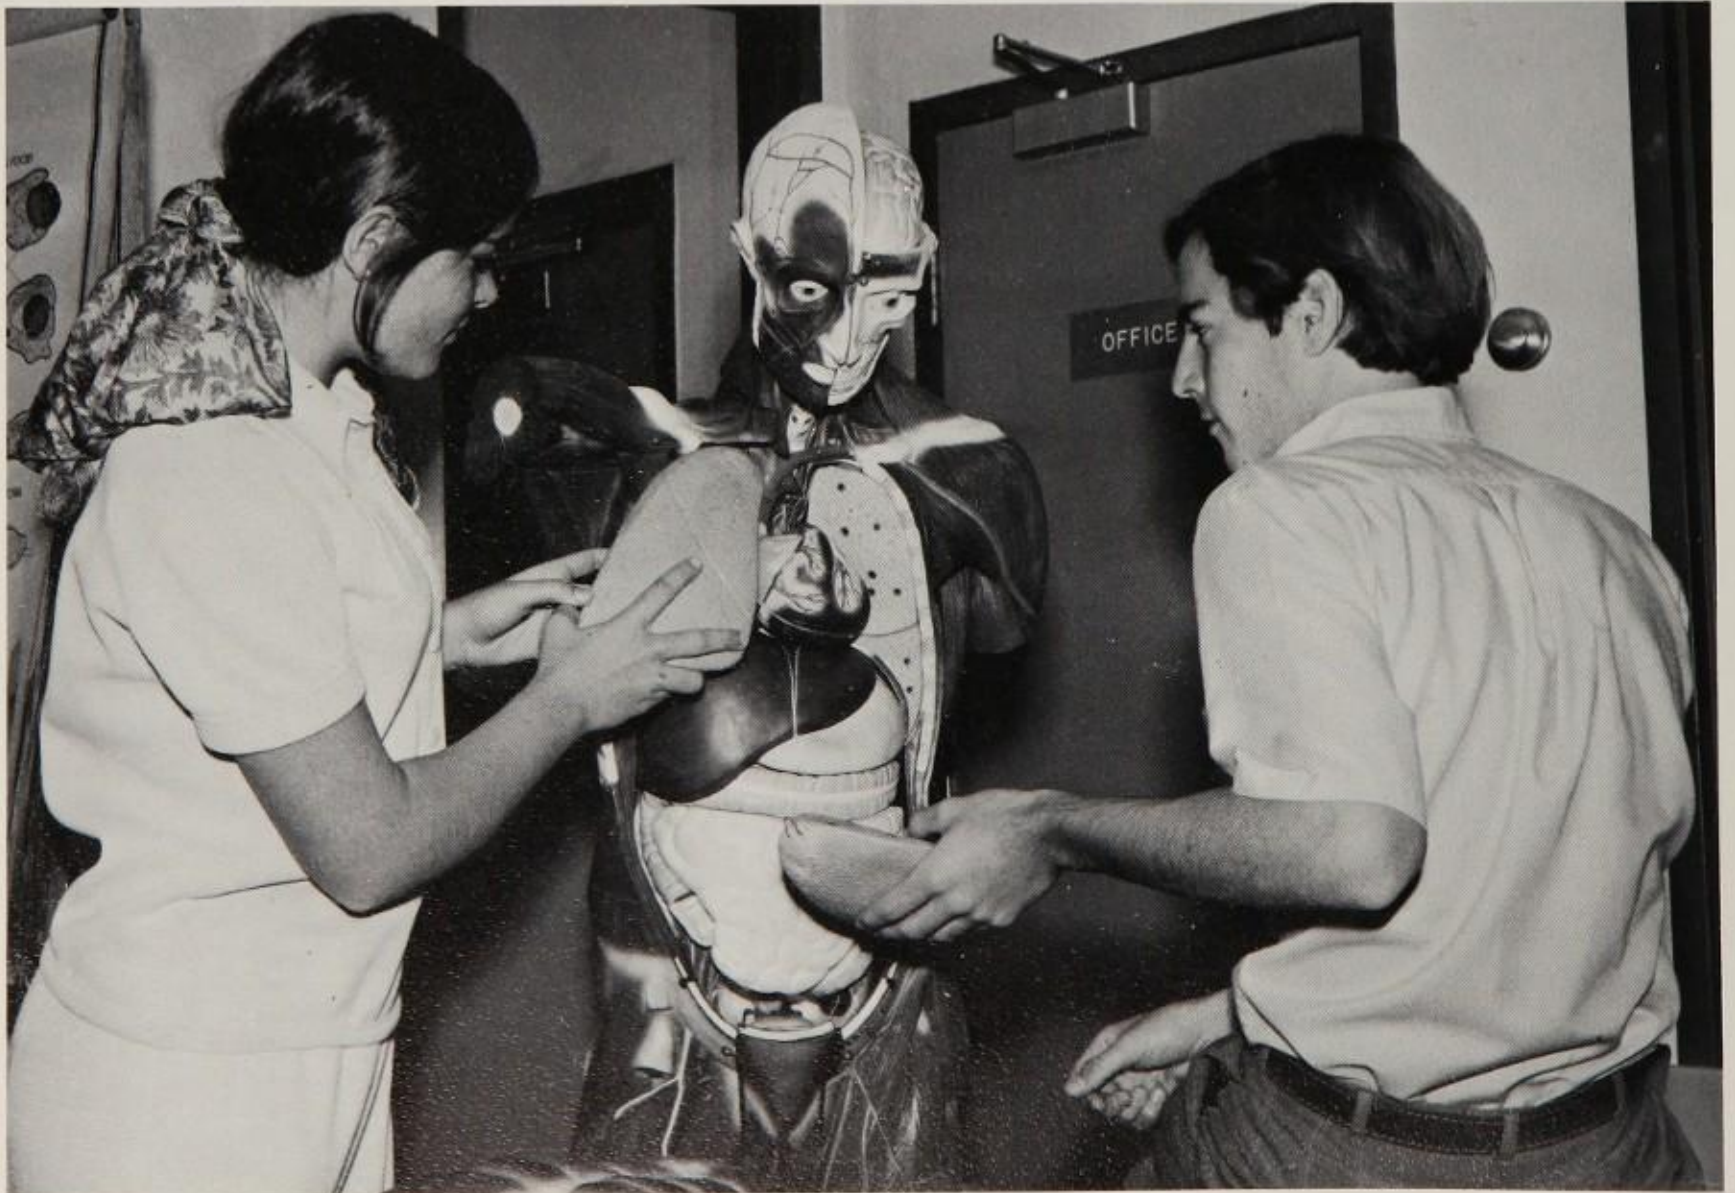

Biweekly field trips to Timber Lake, for credit, furnished Biology II students with first hand samples of land environment for study in the laboratory.

Bombarding the minute world of atoms, Basic Chemistry and Chemistry I and II students performed various lab experiments to determine the composition of compounds and other elements.

Did man evolve from an ape or is he a mutation of a strange looking fish? This was only one of the many topics discussed during the three Zoology classes offered.

sparks spurted from hot panel discussions

Dress Code! Arab Israeli War! Narcotics! Along with these current issues, discussions on abortion, demonstrations and the political circle, ignited heated debates and inspired many students to join the action by taking Contemporary History, Government and Problems of Democracy.

November elections were held in precincts 2A06 and 2A08. Results followed the majority of the voters from the city and from the state, except that more students favored the 18-year-old vote and the state representative Lucky Nunes.

convention students head south in spring

Auf Wiedersehen! Adios! Au revoir! Conventions all over Florida took language students out of classes. Each student said "so long" to studies for a few days and worked diligently on his poem, skit, or speech.

All languages competed in the County Language Festival. German students went to Tallahassee for the Florida Association of Students of German Convention. Twenty Spanish students traveled to St. Petersburg for the state Spanish convention.

Orlando opened new ideas to the teachers. Many traveled to the Florida Foreign Language Convention held in October.

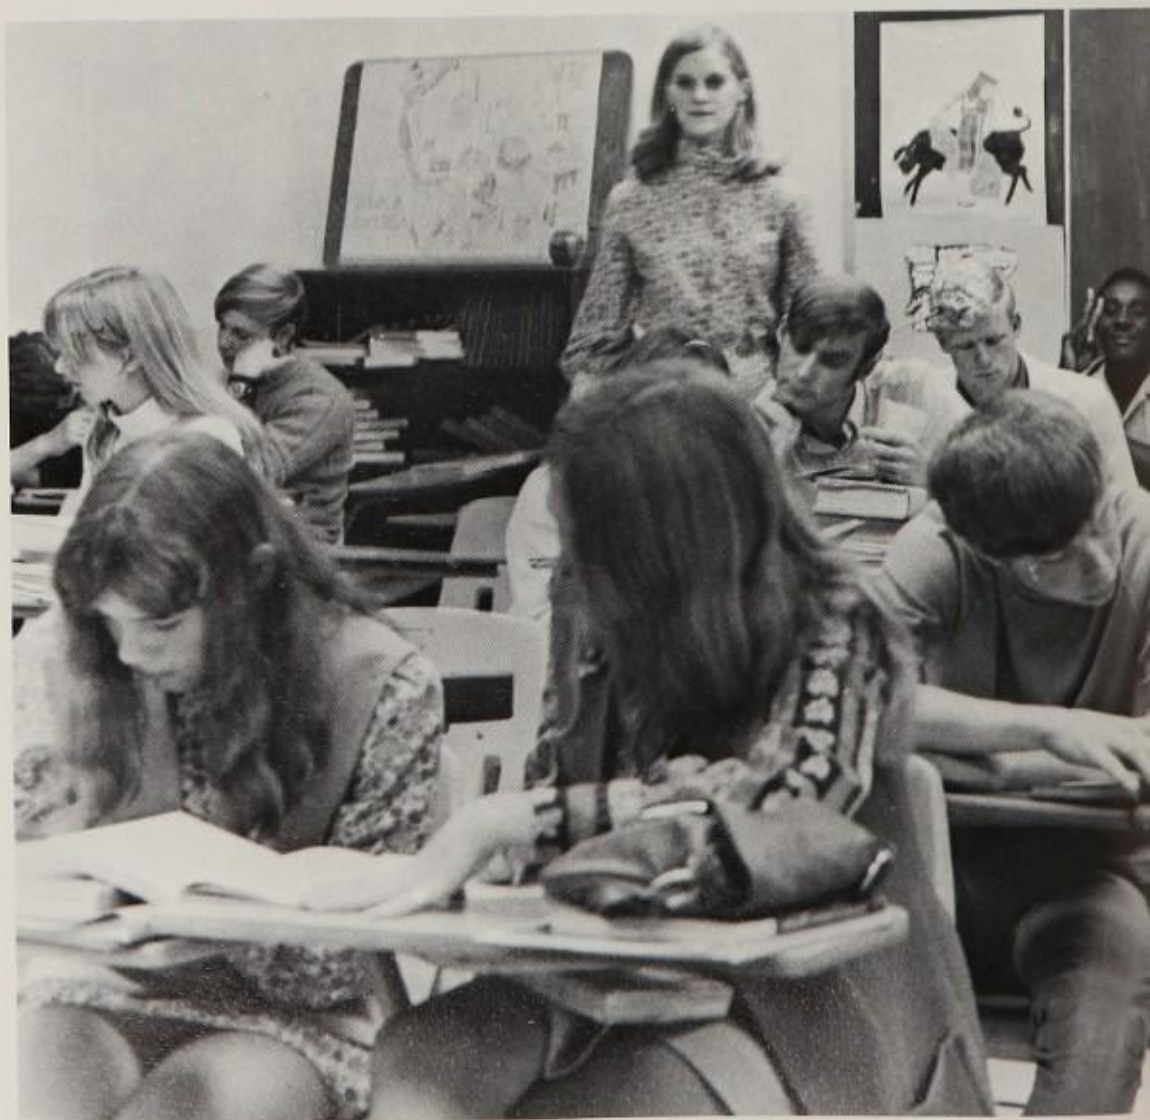

Acoustifones aided classroom activities. Individual sections progressed with their own rate of learning.

Peeking over the Ritz box, Alan Powers glances around to see if anyone is watching as he performs a soliloquy on a cracker.

"to be or not to be," is that the question?

New York? Broadway? These questions haunted young actors in the Speech Department. Mr. Steve Sheetz, the new sponsor, organized two new intriguing speech courses designed just for young actors — acting and directing, and stagecraft.

Imaginations toyed with new, exciting ideas for the theater. The Star Spangled Girl used "suggestion staging." Fewer walls surrounded the stage using this method.

New relationships developed between actors and viewers with the use of "pit staging." By setting a platform in front of the stage, characters seemed nearer to reality.

Choctaw Forensics Association hosted a national debate tournament in the spring. Representatives attended from all over Florida and from other states.

foreign delights fatten future homemakers!

Cooking revolutionized! Radar ranges cut cooking time in half. Micro-wave ovens simplified clean-ups because girls could use paper plates. Metal utensils could not be used. No more scraping dirty pots and pans!

Advanced cooking classes tried foreign foods. Once a week the Foreign Foods Cookery Class prepared dishes from countries such as Hawaii, India, and Thailand. Appropriate table settings enhanced meals for that perfect touch in gourmet eating.

Pant suits, maxis, midis, minis were featured in the Home Ec "Phase of 70 Shop" Fashion Show December 3. Advanced sewing classes prepared the program and designed the stage for the theme "Phase of Fashion."

Tasting foreign foods, Mrs. Coretta Rowley, Julie Hatch, and Connie Hendricks enjoy a Hawaiian meal cooked in class.

John Emerson leans under the hood to get a better look. He is practicing for the Chrysler-Plymouth contest in spring.

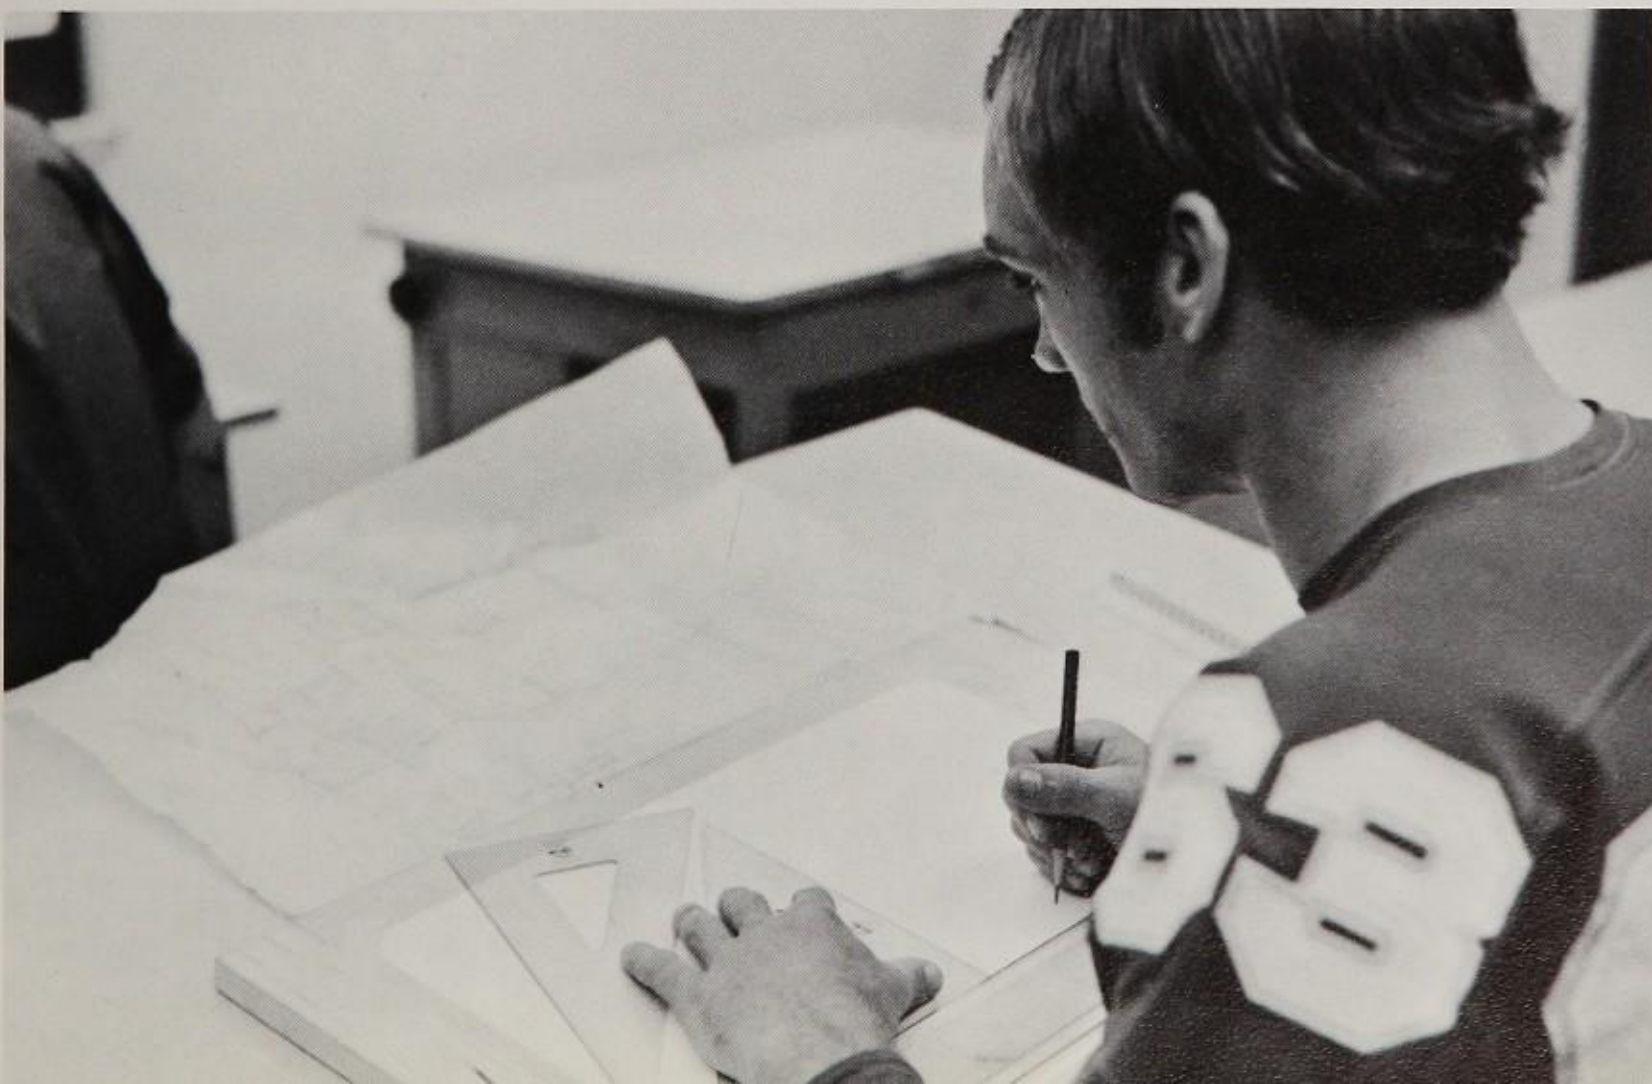

Working carefully, John Simmons applies his triangles and T-square to the draft board to accurately reproduce his plan.

happiness is having "old bessie" repaired

Here ye! Here Ye! All students and faculty can bring their cars that need repair to the automotive building at the side of the school. Students work on the cars for practice hoping to become proficient enough to enter the Chrysler - Plymouth Contest.

Two seniors, who plan on becoming auto-mechanics, were picked in April by a time test. Time tests on car repair and knowledge of automotive theory were the standards that picked the winners from Choctaw, from the state and from Indianapolis.

Cars were repaired faster because of the new lift to jack up cars and the break drum to resurface the breaks.

marchers push spirit, journey to tennessee

With traditional songs and new concepts in music, the Style Marchers and Chorus performed the music that formed such a large part of Choctaw school spirit.

Production of a musical created by Concert Chorus and the Speech Department highlighted the year. All-American and Elizabethan outfits enhanced the attire of the Madrigals. Choruses traveled to Tallahassee and performed for judges at contest.

New drum major, Chuck Kelly, led the band this year as they added songs and soul to pep rallies and football games.

Band members traveled to the Tennessee game to spread the Big Green spirit and enthusiasm. They also visited some of the tourist attractions such as Lookout Mountain, Chattanooga, Tennessee, and Six Flags.

students freak-out on psychedelic painting

Paul Frederick needs a little assistance, and teacher assistant Debbie Katalinich is talented enough to give him help.

Psychedelic! Hardedge and Shaped Painting! Using new techniques in art, students created imaginative paintings. Sculptures emerged from liquid plastics and clay. Artists expressed the creativity of the mind through mobiles and rug hooking.

After many hours of work, the results were displayed in an art show widely acclaimed by all who attended.

Skill and perfection were put to a test as students competed in making Fire Prevention posters. Winners were, first place, Candy Johnson; second place, Missey Cain; third place, John Pranzarone.

Dabbing her brush in the paint, Nancy Showers uses her imagination to finish the last strokes on the abstract painting.

interest, variety add to sports tournaments

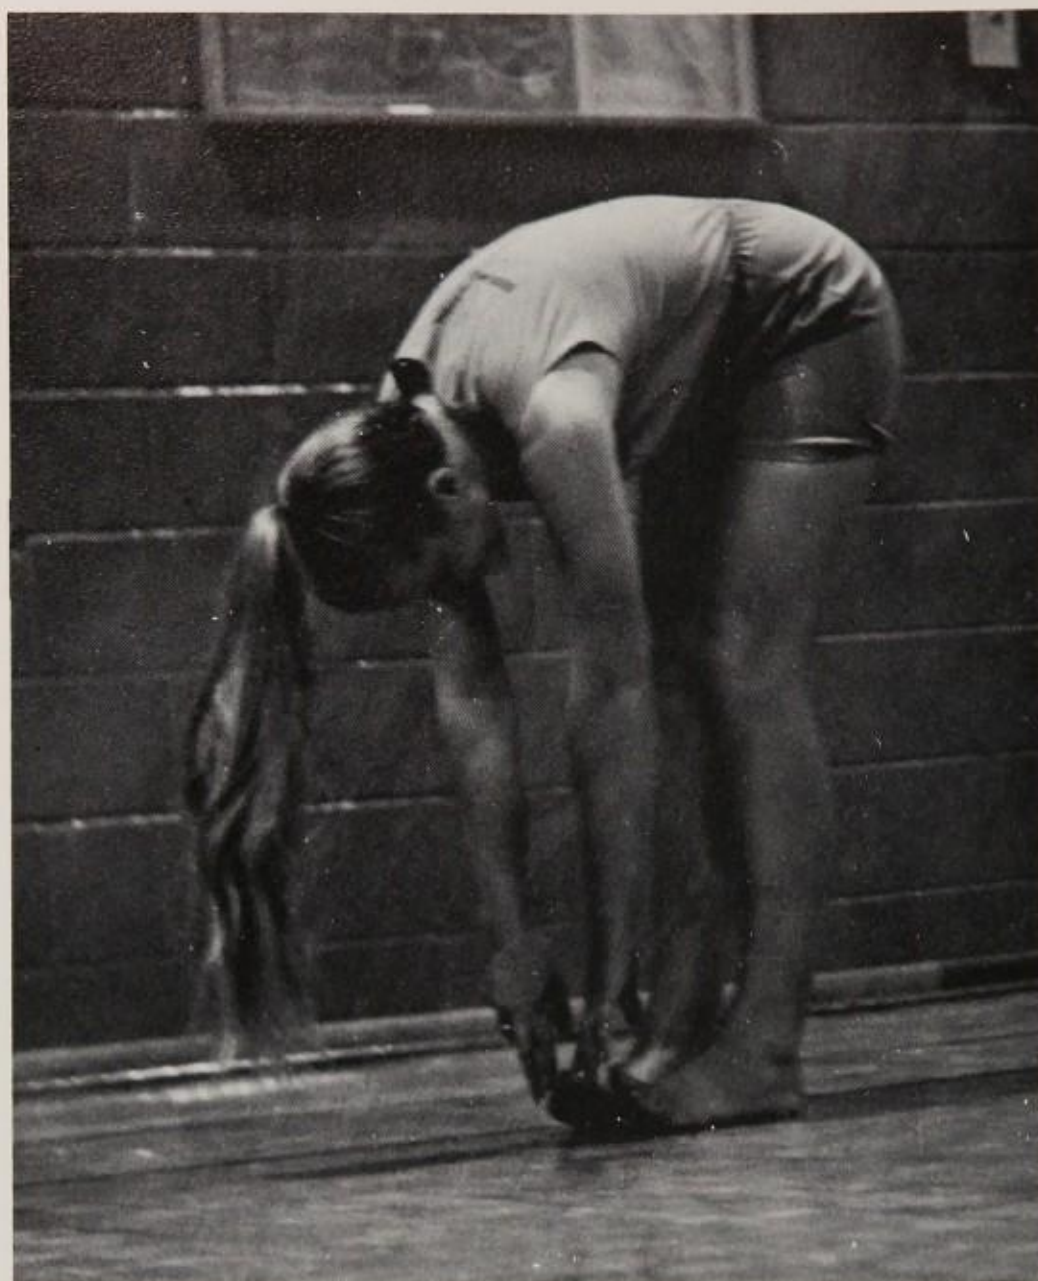

Building a "strong mind in a strong body" is an old Greek philosophy. Through varied activities, the Physical Education Department strived to put this important philosophy into actual practice.

Experiments with modern dance improved girls' poise, grace, and confidence.

Interclass tournament added appeal and excitement to sports. By participating in the many activities including golf, archery, baseball, gymnastics, volleyball, dancing, and many other sports, students learned the basis of good sportsmanship.

The boys' coaches emphasized football, basketball, baseball, and track.

Serving as the new director of the tennis team, Mrs. Honey Huston joined the staff of the girls' physical education department.

New wheels — Dodges, Chevrolets, Fords, and Plymouths added to the variety of the Driver's Education cars. Included in the driving scene was the new big green Sportsvan, fully equipped, including a radio.

Following six weeks in the classroom, students and their coaches proceeded to the driving range. Here students found freedom from their inhibitions in the off-set alley. Parallel parking cones served as excellent targets for the driver's madnnesses.

After increasing their skills on the driving range, students tackled the final stages of learning to drive on the highway.

Finding everything in order on the driving range, Mr. Glenn Powell looks around one last time before leaving for the day.

students learn, earn while stocks mature

Modern office desks, chairs and dictaphones added a new touch to the Business Department's equipment.

Holding mock courts and making investments in the stock market intrigued business law and economics students. These new projects also gave students a better insight into American society and economy.

Record keeping and business mathematics taught students the tricks of handling their personal business affairs.

Accounting, shorthand and typing taught the importance of accurate financial records and attractively typed correspondence.

Taking effective notes became a much easier task when students mastered notehand.

Continually striving for greater speed and accuracy, Jay Pavlas realizes that erasing is part of Personal Typing.

In December, cadets gave their annual Christmas Ball. Four new cars, driven by cadets, transported the queen and her court to and from all activities of the night.

Tours of Cape Kennedy, Pensacola Naval Air Station, Eglin, and Hurlburt gave cadets an opportunity to stay up-to-date on the current developments in aviation.

studious book worms increase check-outs

Students checked out an average of more than 200 books each day. This amounted to a total of almost 40,000 books the entire year. Each day an average of 500 students, or 90,000 over the course of the year, used the library's many up-to-date facilities. Some of the newer aids included collections of recordings, films, and tapes.

One new addition to the library was the professional teaching section which was designed to aid the faculty members in improving their teaching methods.

Mrs. Martha Drane served as a new librarian to help Mrs. Joy Maudlin in keeping the library in working order. Also aiding in library work was the new assistant in the department, Mrs. Carolyn Kirkland.

freaky foods furnish solutions for hunger

Mexican, Chinese and Italian dishes added zest to this year's lunchroom menus. Under the direction of Mrs. Hazel Jones, the staff served the foreign dishes along with the American favorites which included wild beef, funky chicken, freaky fish and others.

accreditation team challenges club members

Each year clubs at Choctaw strive to surpass the previous year's accomplishments. The clubs attempt to do this by trying numerous new projects for improvements.

Choctawhatchee High School went through Accreditation from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. The organizational structure of the clubs was taken into consideration when evaluating the school.

One of the projects taken on by the clubs was a requirement of the officers to attend the Inter-Club meetings to learn proper procedures of Robert's Rules of Order. This endeavor was accomplished with work days led by Mr. Steve Sheetz, speech teacher.

Clubs also had to conform to the standards set up by the School Board. This year they had projects which included improvements of school grounds and giving assistance to people in the community. Some of these projects included raising money for school tennis courts and participating in the walk marathon sponsored by the March of Dimes.

Standard parliamentary procedures are set up for club meetings this year, because of the accreditation requirements.

Sunday afternoon intramural football games are added to the boys' clubs' agenda.

Putting up decorations at Christmas time is only one of the many service projects that the clubs do around school throughout the year.

Dave Hamilton doesn't really mind the humiliation of initiation which almost every club on campus includes in their yearly schedules.

Chris Simpson proved to be the most talented and wittiest of all entries in the Mr. Mock CHS contest.

Duane Anderson is given the office of City Manager to run for one day during Youth Appreciation Week.

To show how much spirit the individual clubs have, signs are made and hung for football and basketball games.

drug problem defined by owjc questionnaires

Helping Okaloosa-Walton Junior College define the drug problem in the area, Student Council along with other school organizations distributed drug surveys to both CHS and Pryor Junior High students.

Because extracurricular activities were posted in the main hall, homeroom announcements were shortened, giving students more free time in homeroom. Interested students checked the calendar at their convenience.

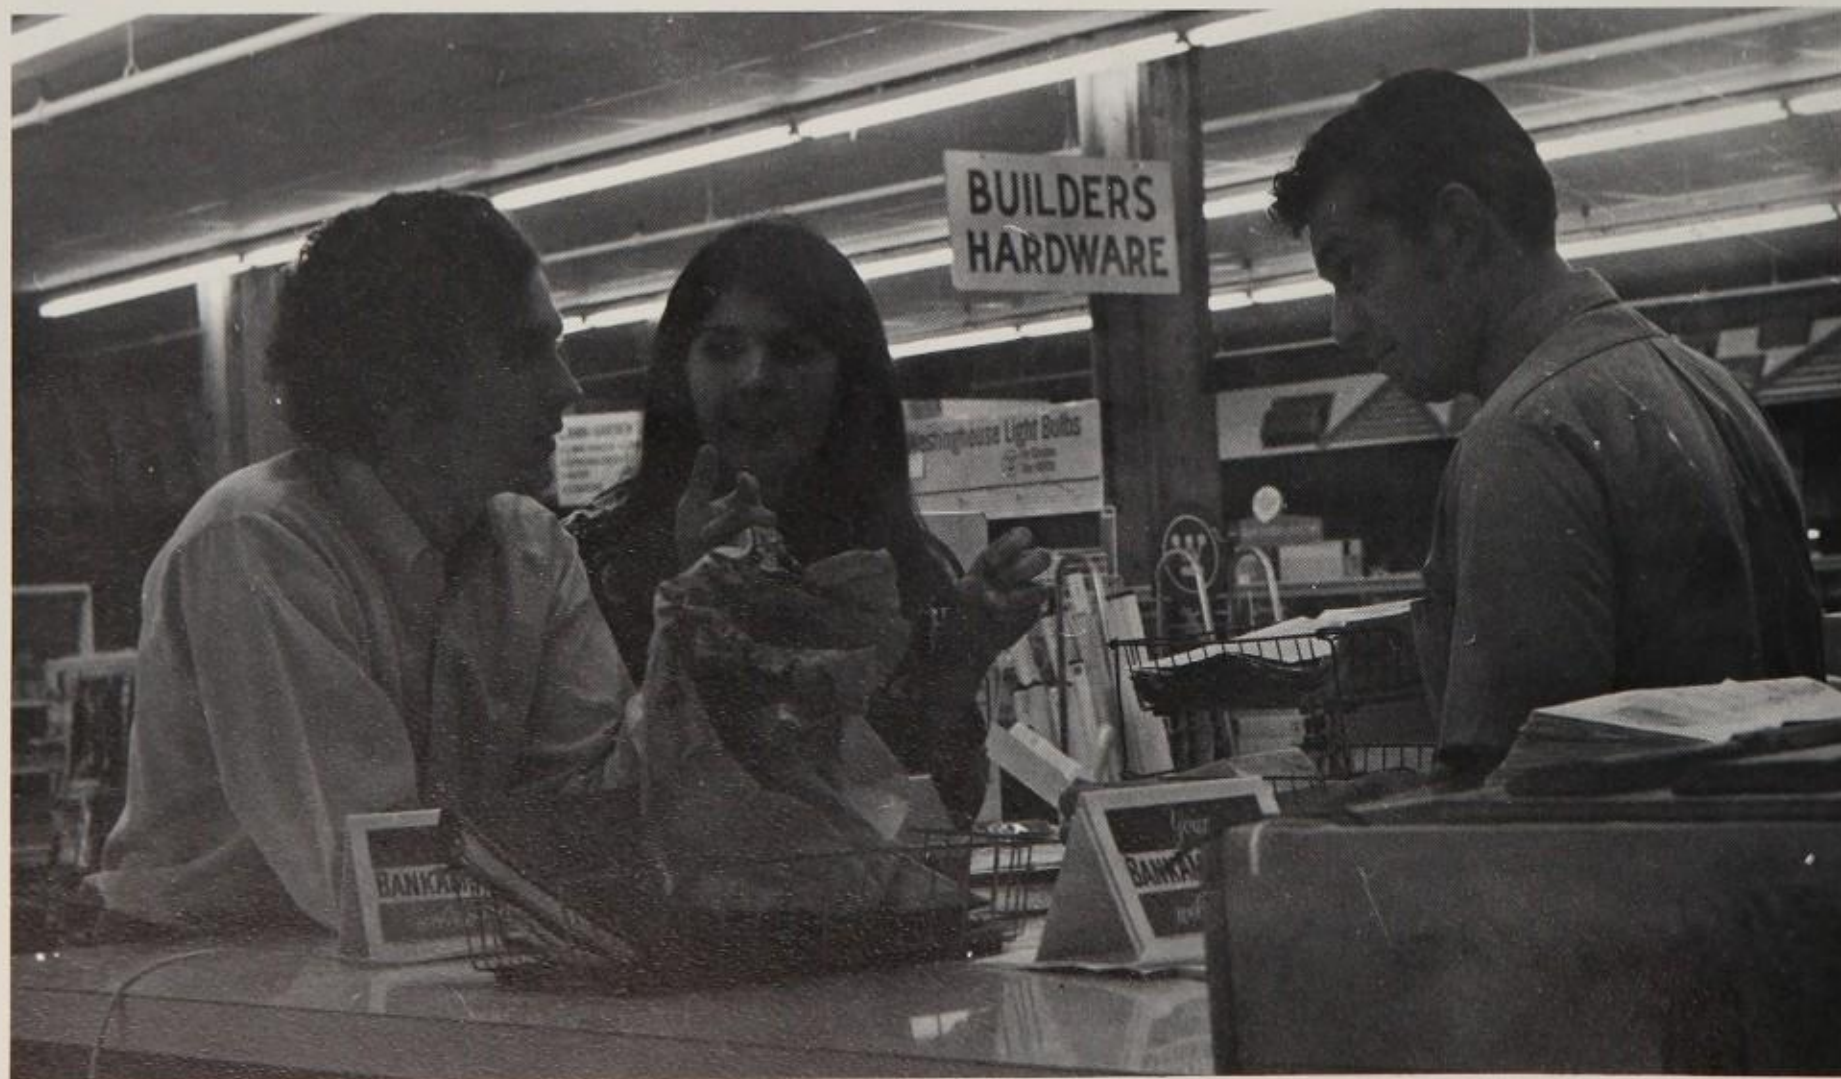

To boost basketball players, a wooden framed mural stand was designed for the team to enter through before each game.

Administration and faculty members became actors and actresses during the presentation of "Hee Haw". Many students viewed their teachers in a new light as they watched hillbilly characters portrayed.

A special assembly was called for the officers to explain their positions on the dress code. Student opinions were obtained for the School Board when the club voted on alternate dress code rules.

Kim McClure, treasurer, undertakes the job of adding new activity cards monthly to the centrally located student calendar.

Duane Anderson explains to the sales clerk that Liz Brazel wants enough two-by-sixes to make a mural stand for the basketball team.

Reading the OWJC sponsored drug questionnaire, Jane Cook, second vice-president, is ready to answer any question the seventh grade class at Pryor might have.

club establishes fund; project: tennis courts

Starting a fund to build much needed tennis courts at school was decided upon as the main project this year by Inter-Club Council. One method used to raise money for the tennis courts was the sale of football handbooks by all member clubs. Another means was donations from various members of ICC.

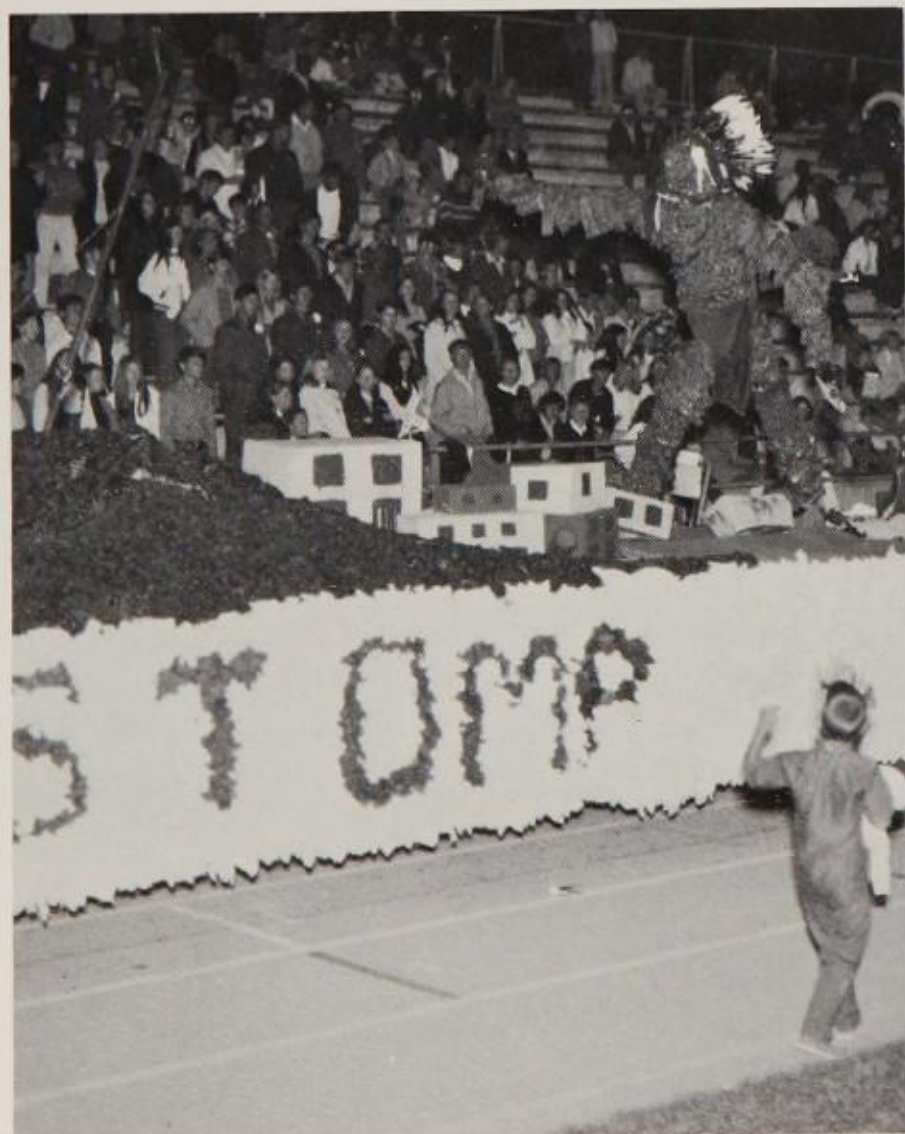

Spectators at Homecoming this year were able to view the culmination of efforts of the many clubs and classes in a pre-game parade. ICC decided to present the parade just prior to the game around the track, instead of the traditional march down Eglin Parkway and Miracle Strip Parkway.

Another first for ICC was the addition of a new club. Choctaw Amateur Radio Club was accepted, bringing the total membership of the council to 39.

Sensing the students' needs for another telephone, Inter-Club Council arranged with the Southeastern Telephone Company to have a telephone placed outside the school building. Because of its convenient location, it could be used at anytime by the students.

Rita Echols dials a number on the conveniently placed telephone installed at the request of Inter-Club Council.

Night time festivities at Homecoming included the presentation by ICC of the traditional parade in a new background, the pre-game activities.

poise, beauty, charm - - miss choctaw reigns

Traditional togas and laurel wreaths worn by new members during initiation marked the beginning of Beta Club activities.

When the annual Spring Spectacular was held, Miss CHS was chosen by area judges for her charm, beauty and talent.

English teachers from various schools within the county met at Choctaw to hear an evaluation of the English Department. Experts in the field of English evaluated the semester system. Beta Club offered their assistance by serving refreshments.

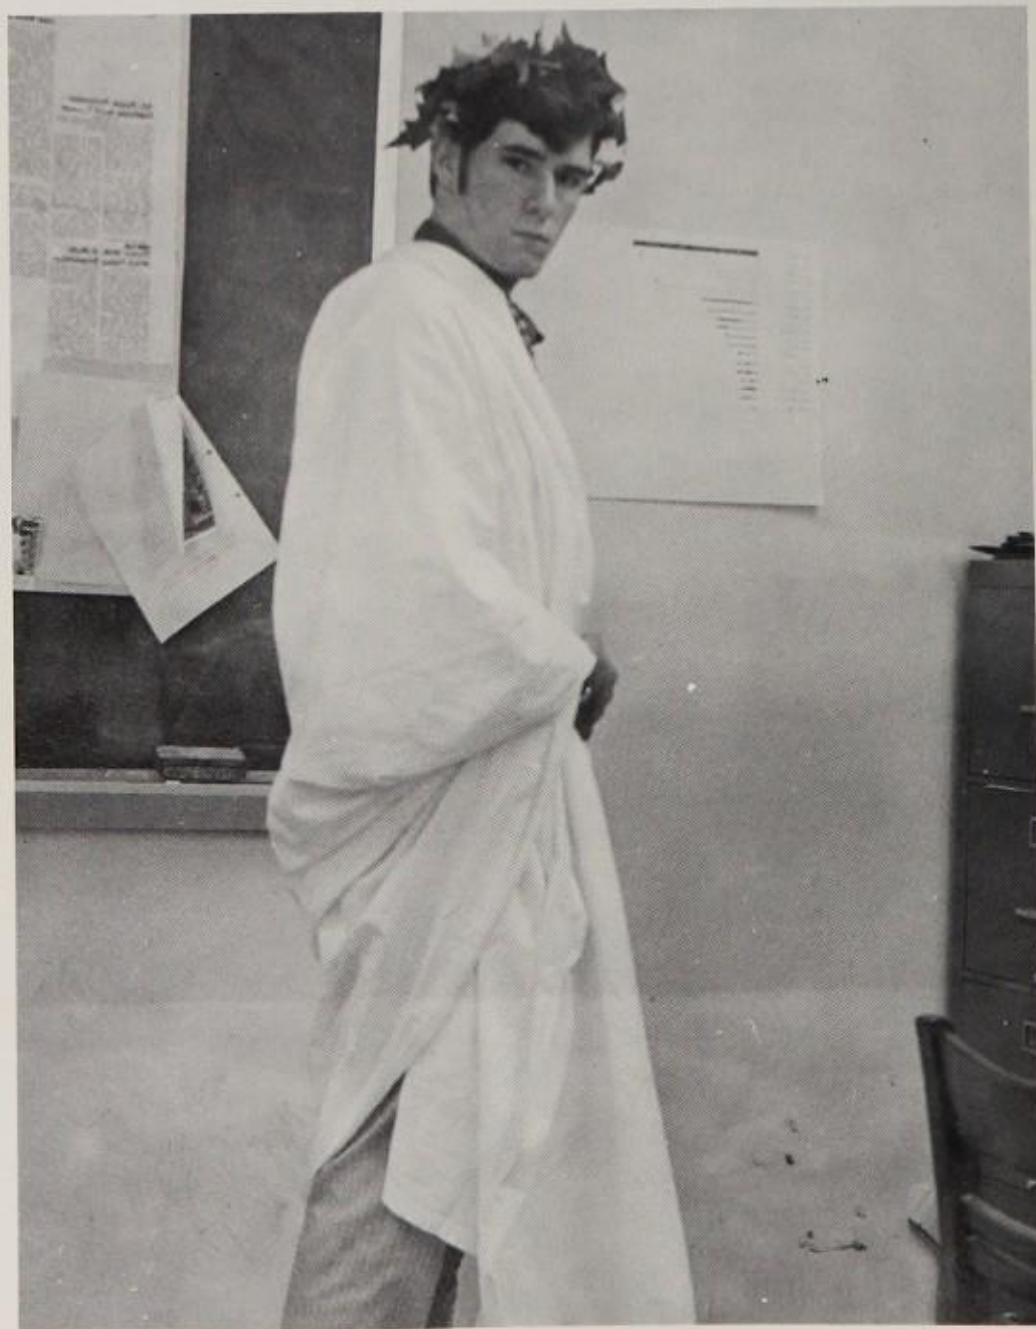

Valentines, made and delivered by Beta members, made a special day for sweethearts.

Getting ready for the Valentine project, members start early by cutting out the Valentines before time.

lab journey inspires mathematical intellect

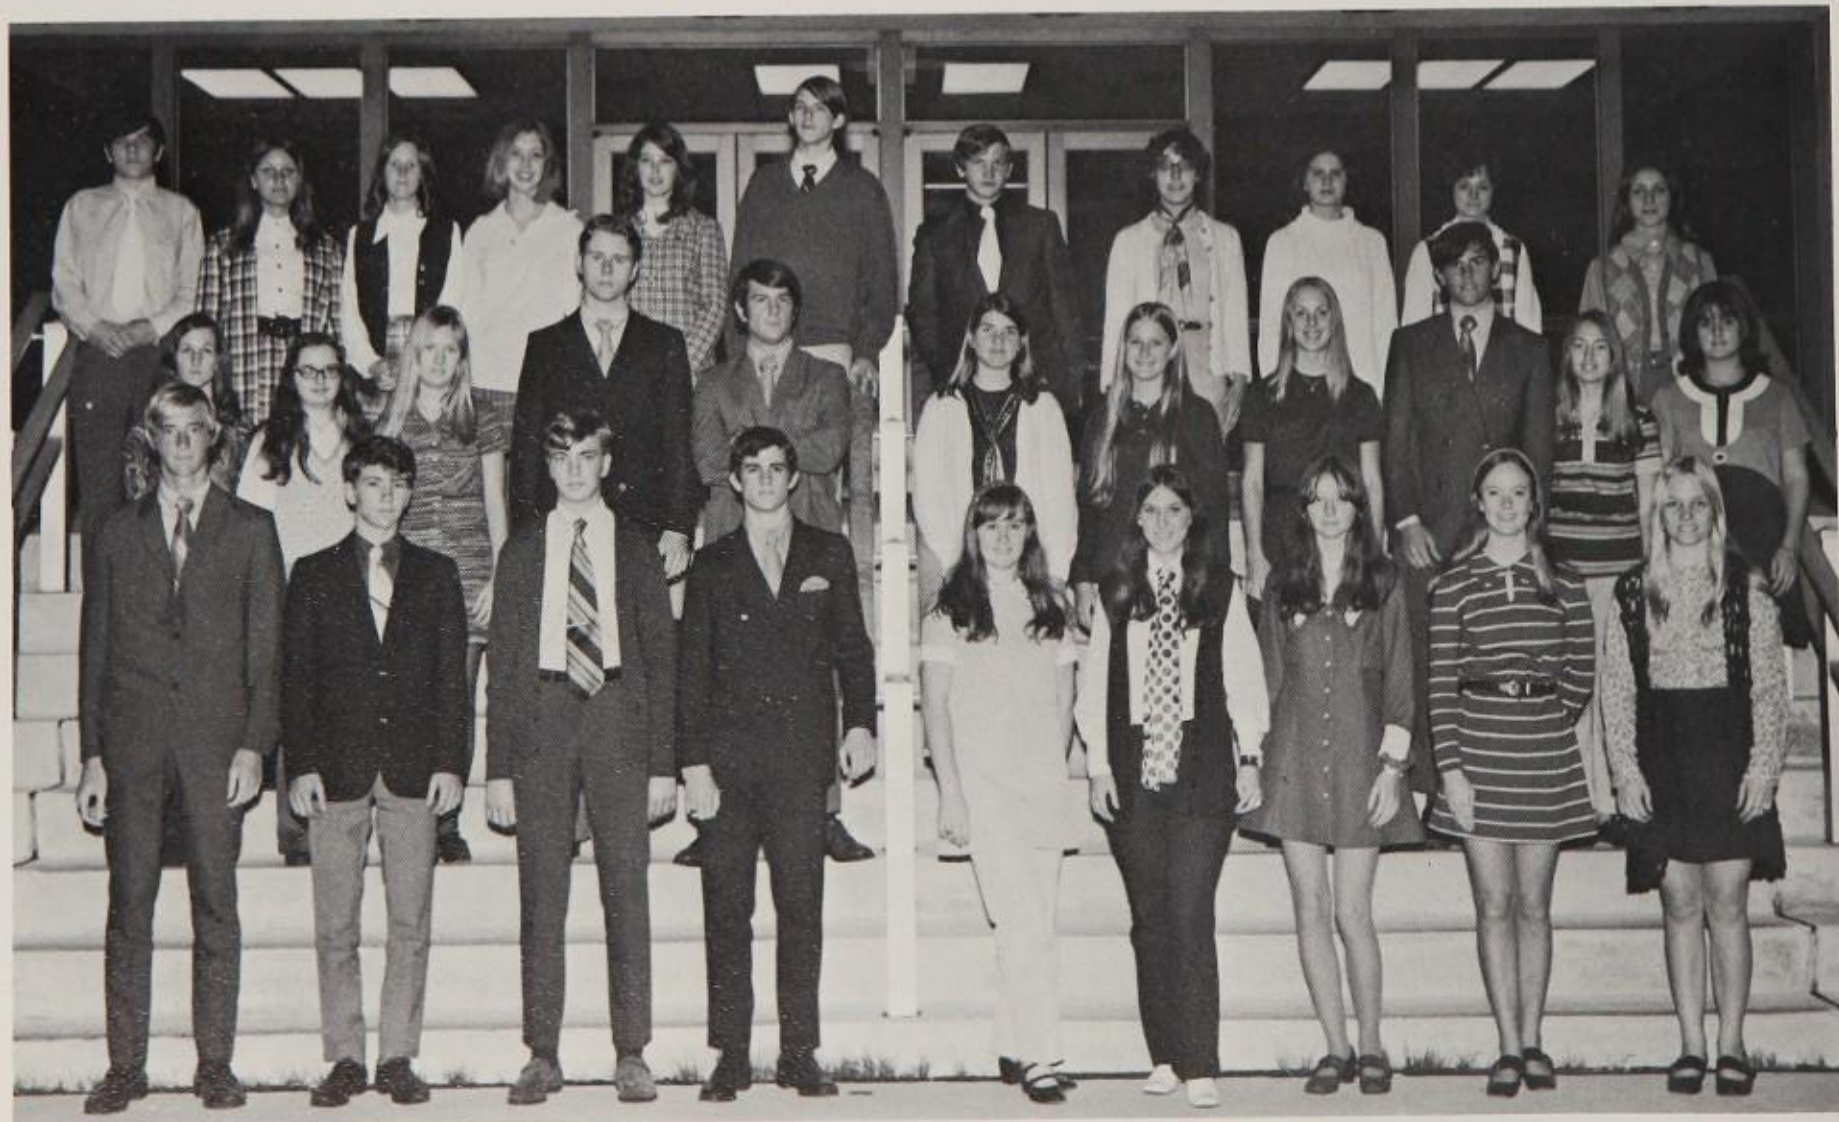

How would you land seven planes on an eight pointed star without having them pass each other? At each meeting members posed baffling problems like this one.

Testing their mathematical skills, students attempted problems on the National Math Test. To their dismay minus points were given for each wrong answer. Many scores ended up in the negative numbers.

Mr. George E. Weekly from the Eglin Mathematical Lab explained the intricacies of computers at one meeting. At the next meeting members visited the lab.

Darla Bakersmith explains how to land seven airplanes on an eight pointed runway without having the planes pass one another.

easter bunny retires; bells receive his job

Gifts and decorations spread a little cheer! At Thanksgiving a basket was given to a needy family. Canned goods and a turkey brightened someone's holiday.

Christmas decorations livened the office tree. Strings of popcorn and colorful paper ornaments added an old-fashioned touch.

Easter bells chimed for children at Silver Sands! In France the Easter bunny does not hide the eggs; instead they fall from Easter bells for little ones to find.

Donations of books and records, all in French, added to the Library's collection of foreign language resources.

French members put on a play in the County Language Festival. Actors spoke only in French, but gestures and scenery made it easy to understand.

rumpelstiltskin sparks childhood memories

Travel to Europe seemed no longer impossible to students! Mr. Charles Connor and Miss Ann Hero came as representatives of the Foreign Study League. On December 8, they showed a film and explained all the aspects of travel to Europe.

Meetings conducted in German helped increase members' proficiency in the language.

German films at the Wednesday meetings gave added insight on German culture. Remembering their childhood days, members viewed the old fairy tale "Rumpelstiltskin."

On April 29 and 30 a busload of members left for the Florida Association of Students of German Convention in Tallahassee. Practice began at the beginning of the second semester. Everyone studied diligently to get the proper pronunciation and gestures perfect in his poem or speech.

Mr. Ewell Clark, German Honorary sponsor, prepares to show the German version of "Rumpelstiltskin" to club members.

Lea Bush, secretary, reads the minutes from the last German meeting and asks if there are any corrections to be made.

taco sales boost trip to spanish convention

Taco sales at home basketball games raised money in order for the Spanish members to attend the state convention in St. Petersburg, Florida on April 23 and 24.

New members were officially accepted into the honorary club during initiation which was held in February.

Big Green himself, Head Coach Wyman Townsel, was again sponsor of this year's "C" Club honorary group.

A welcomed addition to Choctaw's "C" Club was the tennis teams.

Honorary members were required to have a Choctaw letter in at least one varsity sport to be a member of "C" Club. Members were noted for their outstanding sportsmanship and athletic achievements.

locker room privacy aided by club project

Early in September, members of the Girls' Athletic Association replaced torn and missing shower curtains in the girls' dressing room with green and white ones.

Initiation marked embarrassment day for new members as they trudged their way to classes in combat boots, gym suits and excessive makeup. When the day was over, old members held a party to welcome the new and to thank them for being good sports.

Considering the fact that the girls' dressing room has only three small mirrors, GAA chose to correct this problem. Erecting full length mirrors along one wall of the room was not only a solution to their problem but it also improved the dressing room's desolate appearance.

Selling T-shirts, bringing people together by sponsoring intramurals, and organizing the fund-raising GAA-Cheerleader football game were other activities carried out by the club with the help of their sponsors, Miss Alice Gay and Mrs. Billie Salter.

GAA members pile up for a busy afternoon of hanging green and white shower curtains in the girls' dressing room.

poems reveal amateurs' creative abilities

Considering a poem for the poet of the month contest, Judy Bennet and Lorraine Leftwich read aloud each verse several times.

Selecting Tom-Tom poems, Pam Paford, Loretta Gowan, Michele Beatty and Marsha Flippo discuss the categories for each.

Boosting spirit for the Leon football game, Quill and Scroll members sold green arm-bands decorated with beads. Profits from the sales were added to the treasury.

Students developed their writing skills by participating in a poet of the month contest. Anyone was eligible to submit poems that were relative to the theme.

Work began on the Tom-Tom in January. All poems and stories for the magazine were edited and carefully chosen by the members.

Storybook characters was the theme for initiation. Activities lasted all day with a formal initiation later.

Susan Wise displays the theme, a picture of a sailboat at sunset, for the current poet of the month contest.

philosophers ponder contemporary issues

Women's lib, railroad strikes, racial marriages, and birth control were among the many talked about topics of C.P.A. Thought provoking discussions, often times sparked by the visiting speakers encouraged various new ideas and opinions.

Speakers such as Father Williams, who talked on abortion, and Mr. Grover Ayers, county narcotics agent, who spoke on drugs, saw opposite views swing left and right as their topics were discussed.

Members of this discussion club many times set aside their serious discussions. Brains were rested and recreational games such as ping pong, shuffle board, basketball and row boating were enjoyed by all. The club sponsor, Mr. Sam Smith, also held cookouts for the club at his home.

Students from area bands were able to perform at a pre-contest contest sponsored by Tri-M. The contest enabled bandsmen to improve their solos and ensembles before going to District contests in March. Students' performances were evaluated by judges who made helpful comments for future contests.

Tri-M's spring variety program captured the audience's attention as members presented their talents, instrumentals, and songs to the student body. Girls' clubs joined the night performance. Twenty-five dollars went to the club giving the best talent skit.

To become a member, applicants showed their talent by performing before old members. New members dressed as farmers and farmers' wives for initiation.

annual features life in class, beyond it

Maddening midnight rushes, lunches sneaked upstairs, copy written and rewritten again. These and many more joys and heart-aches went into the making of the annual.

Staffers this year were mostly novices, juniors and seniors new to the workings of a yearbook. But with the helping hands of those more experienced, they made it.

1971 Tomahawk featured a new student life section—"Beyond the Classroom."

Sports made a comeback to standard copy style and introduced new scoreboards for several of the sports.

Ads section once again displayed students in the advertisements.

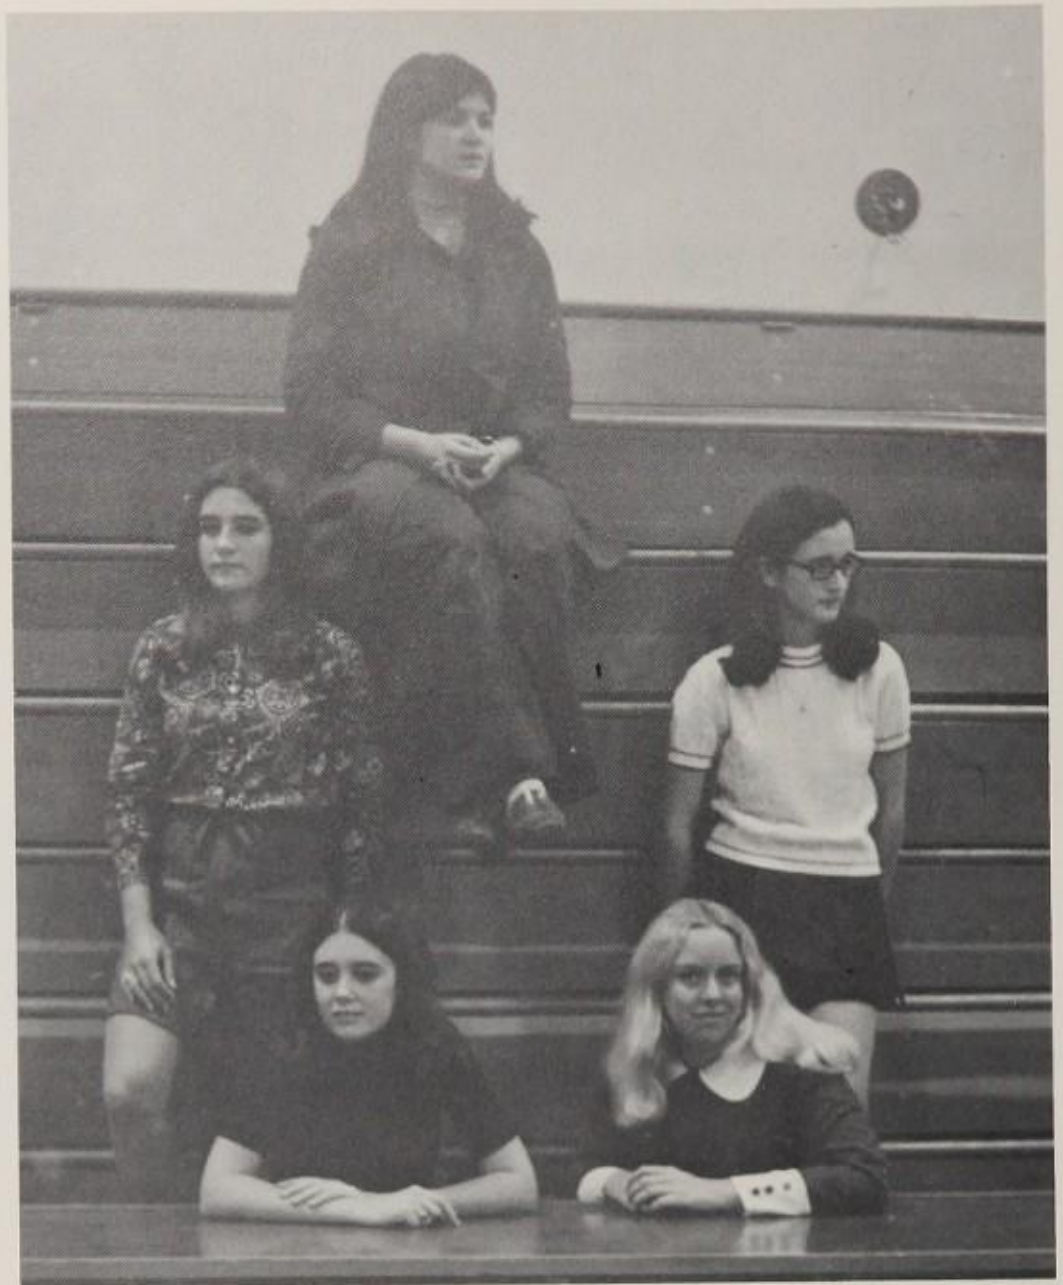

Academics tried for more action shots and fewer classroom scenes.

Classes was busy alphabetizing more student pictures than ever before.

New headlines in the e. e. cummings style with a different print style also, added the finishing touches to the book.

Calling the shots in the darkroom—Sam Lumpkin, Lon Giarth—head photographer, and Peter Bartlett.

Setting up the sports section—Liz Brazel, Van Ingalls, Kathy Hudson, Carol Hagen—editor, and Karen Moore.

Academics—Jan Martin, Tisha Buchanan, Kim McClure, Judy Bosnake, Susan Ferdon—editor, Elaine Dudley, Kathy Fendick.

smoke signals salutes imprisoned, missing

Smoke Signals made a clean sweep of elections at the annual FSPA District meeting held at Choctawhatchee this year. Debby Odom, news editor of the newspaper, represented the school in the district election and won the office of District I student coordinator. Mrs. Florence Graves, newspaper sponsor, was named faculty coordinator. Both made the trip to the State meeting in Miami.

Showing their support for the POW-MIA campaign, the staff published 5,000 copies of a special Christmas issue devoted to the campaign. Money was raised for the issue by ad sales, donations from concerned individuals and clubs, and a bake sale.

Sharp sarcasm and terse opinion characterized John Sakey's column "Quo Vadis" and Stuart Maudlin's "Skewered." On the sports page, an effort was made to have articles which appealed to everyone. "Culture Corner" by Connie Bodily featured original poems.

Columnists Stuart Maudlin and John Sakey relate parts of their up coming exposes to front page editor, Debby Odom.

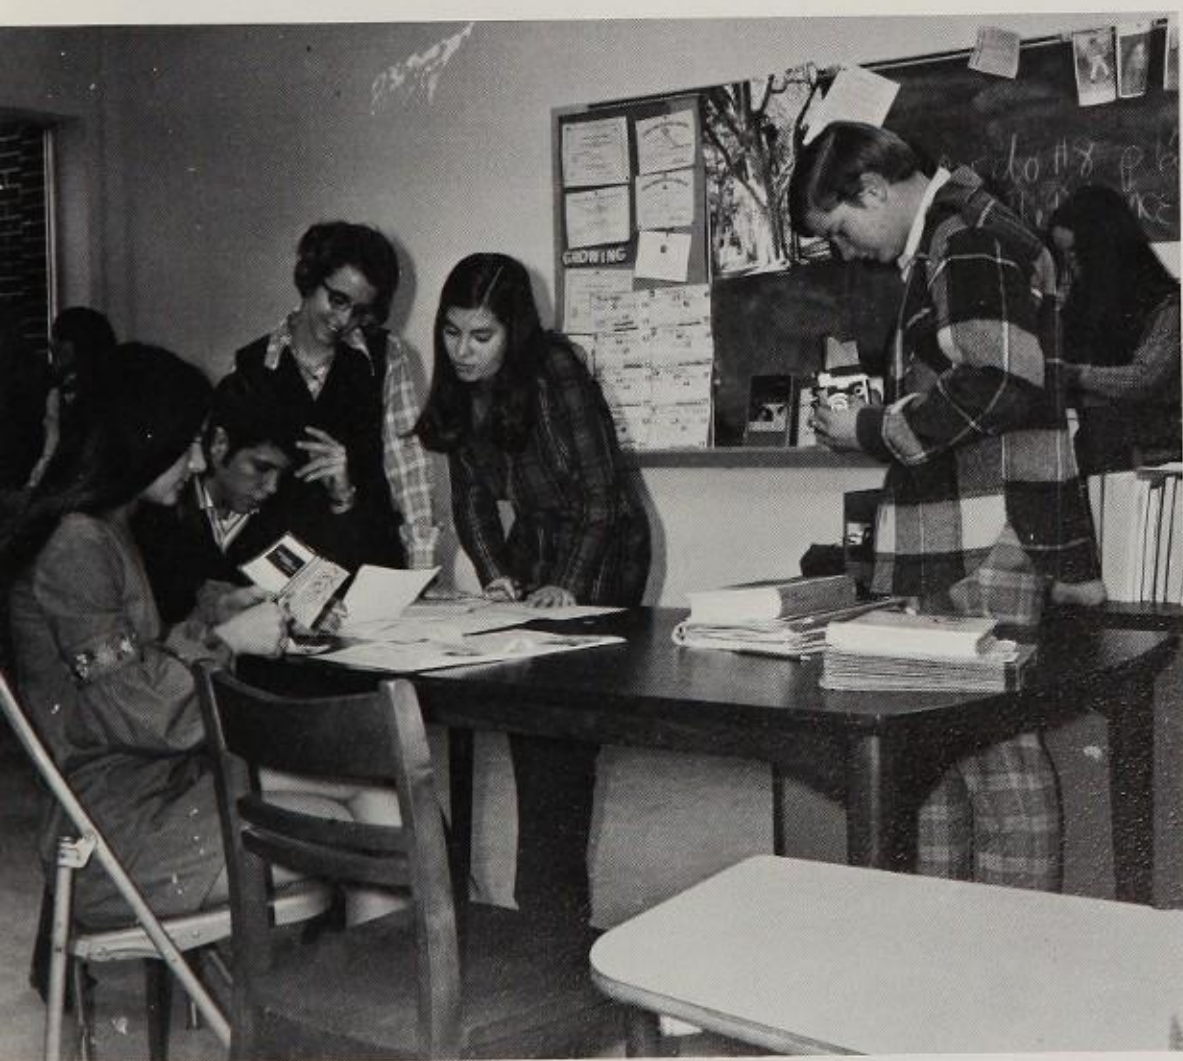

Reporters Ernie Beasley, Ellen McHaney, Nancy Thompson, and Jimmy Rowell, are quick to unpack the newspapers for distribution to homerooms.

summer projects improve school grounds

Al Heckroth adds finishing touches of green paint to trash barrels contributed by Octagon to decrease litter during football games.

Making improvements around the school grounds, Mike Tillman trims shrubbery as Jim Sills rakes the debris for a summer project.

While students enjoyed their first day of vacation, Octagon members began their yearly activities with replacing chairs after graduation ceremonies. Painting trash barrels for the stadium, trimming shrubbery around the school, and cleaning the library added to summer activities of the club.

Traditional stadium clean-up and digging holes for palm trees planted around the school were the main money making projects.

Starting the ball rolling on the tennis funds, the Octagon Club donated the first $200 toward this fund.

Members aided the Optimist Club downtown in their annual Christmas tree sale and Youth Appreciation Week. During this week three seniors were appointed to make over the seats of City Council for one day. Other activities included a banquet and an essay contest.

While many students were basking in the sun last summer, members of Optimiss spent one day of every other week planning their 1970-71 schedule, of upcoming activities.

In August the members set aside one Saturday to have a rummage sale in front of a local grocery store. Members donated the merchandise that was sold. The sale proved to be fun as well as profitable.

Stadium clean-ups were held after every home football game, with an Octagon-Optimiss football game afterwards.

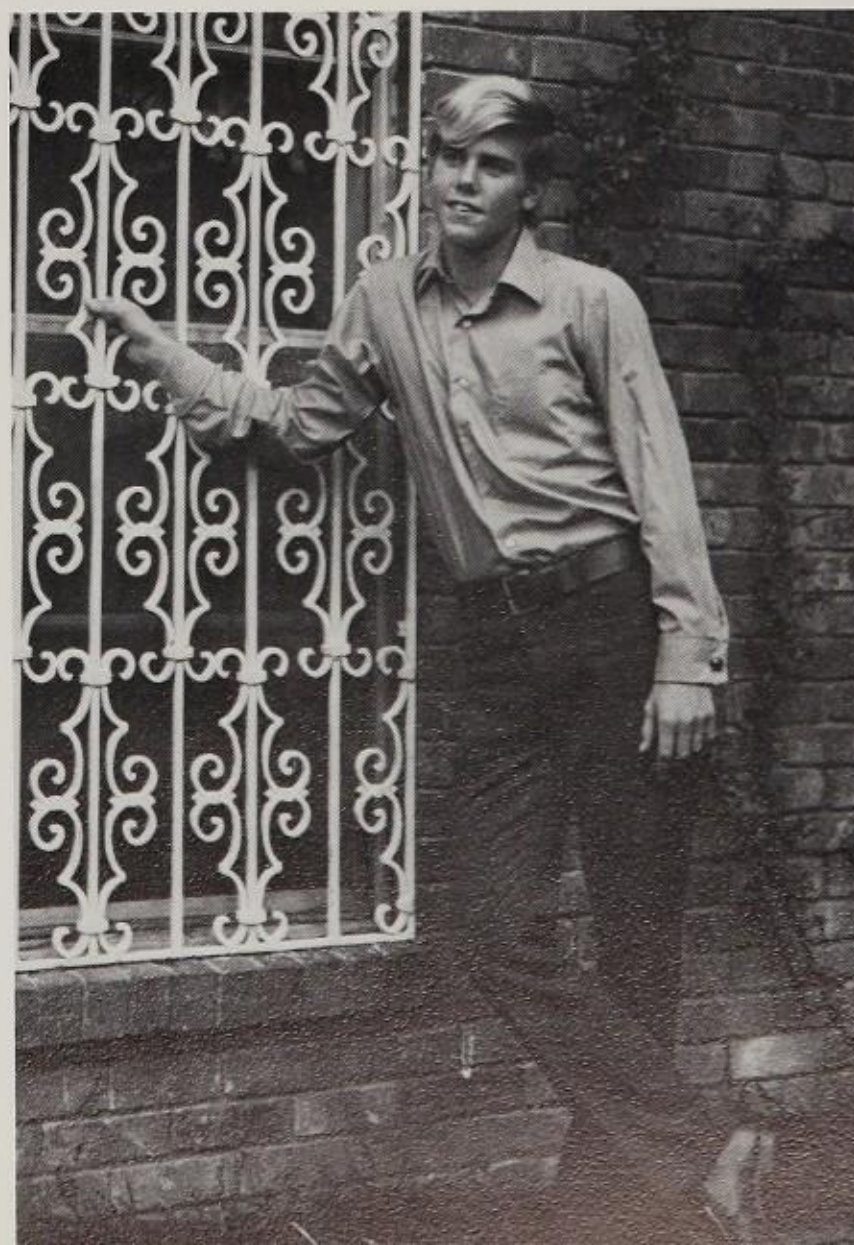

Parallel parking became a reality in the seniors' and teachers' parking lots, as members set aside two Sundays painting lines.

A new "product" was introduced to students by the members a week before Christmas. Stockings filled with cookies and candy canes were purchased for sweethearts, big brothers and little sisters, favorite teachers, friends, and secret admirers.

pancake supper aids college bound senior

Being hip on what's happening today, Key Club adopted the slogan, "Go M O D" for their main objective of the year. A plea for polio victims headed by Steve Sparks, County Chairman for the March of Dimes, proved to be of benefit to those inflicted and a rewarding experience for the boys.

Working with their community club sponsor, Kiwanis International, Key aided in cooking and serving at a pancake supper open to the public. All proceeds went towards a scholarship for some worthy senior attending Choctaw.

Key Club's school service project was setting up a concession stand at all home basketball games. Fans were refreshed and proceeds earned were contributed to the I.C.C. Tennis Court Fund.

A teacher car wash took place in late January. Key charged a dollar fee and split the profits with their little sister club Keyettes. They placed their share of earnings in safe keeping for purchasing prom pins.

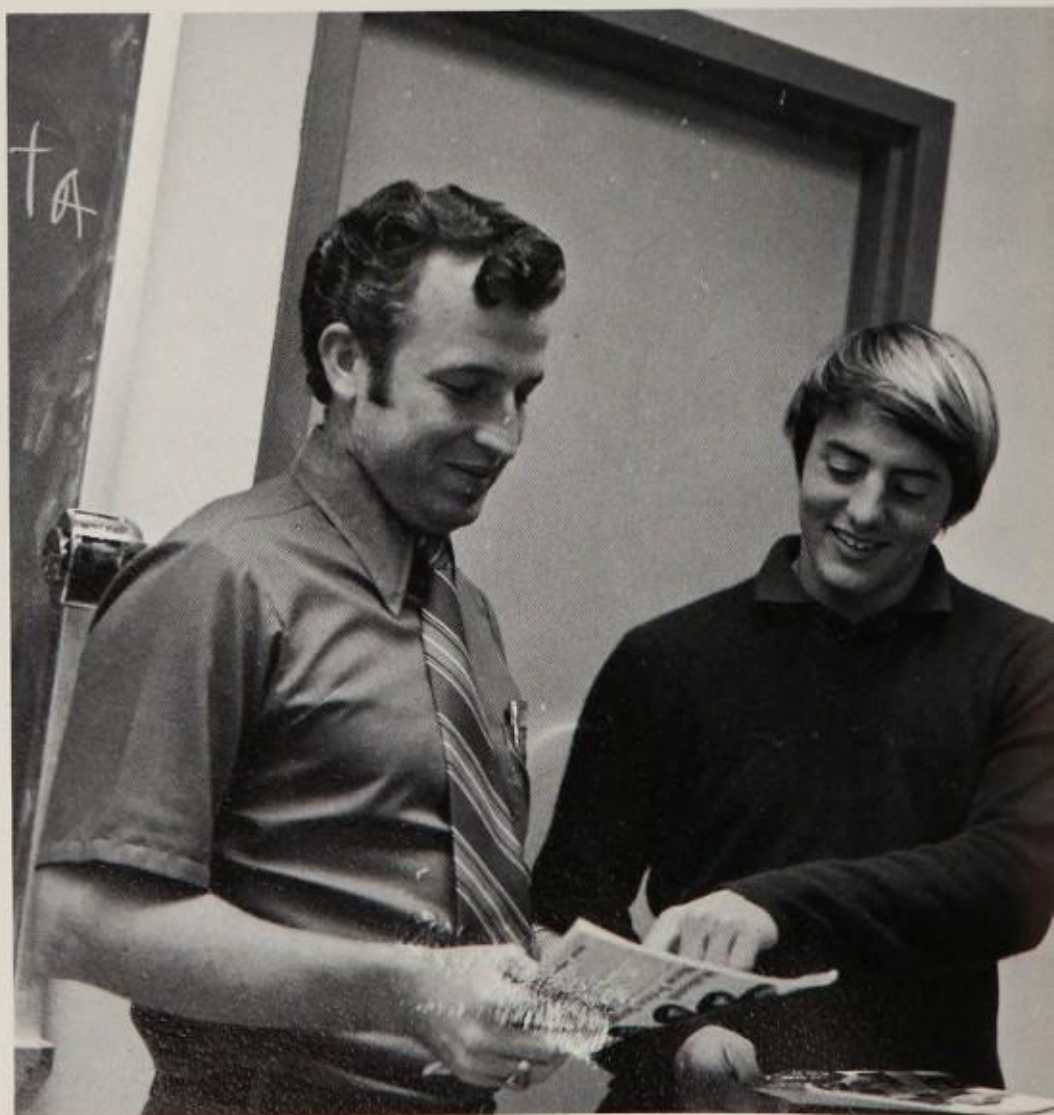

Breaking tradition, Key Club chose two sweethearts for 1970-71. Tisha Buchanan and Liz Brazel were their favorite girls.

"School days, school days, good ole golden rule days." This familiar expression headed the notes welcoming new teachers and returning staff back to school.

Colorful green and white lace garters, handmade by the girls, added to the many Homecoming activities.

"Keyettes are living dolls" was the theme for this year's new style of initiation. New members dressed like living dolls to carry out the idea.

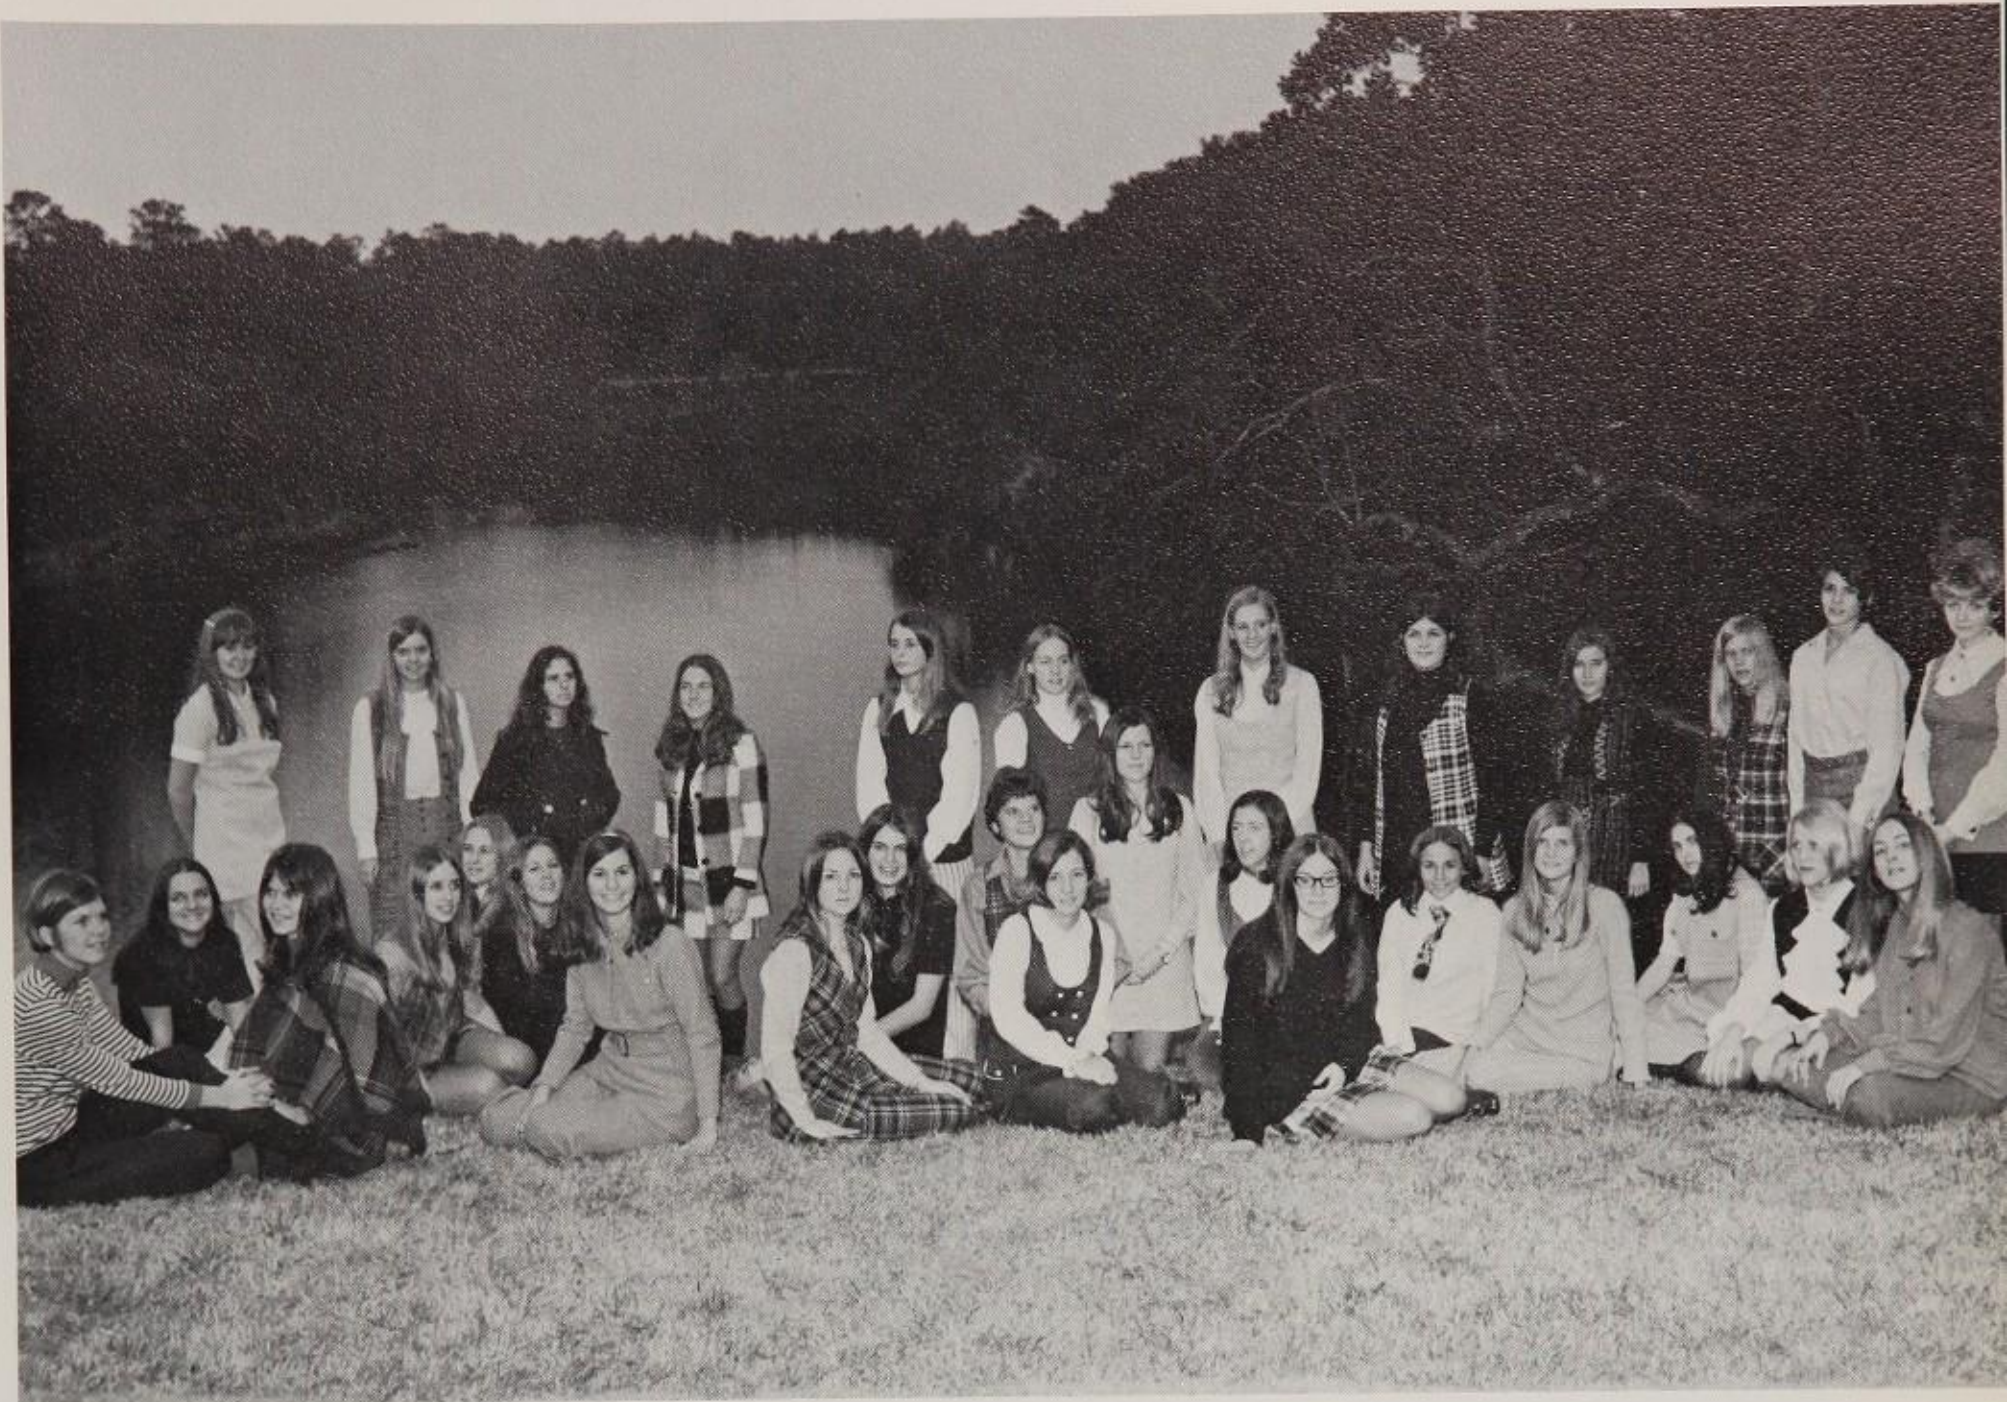

Plentiful food baskets were given to needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Members assisted the Salvation Army during Christmas holidays by helping with the kettle and booth.

Walt Disney's characters were imitated in the skits performed by the members to children attending Silver Sands School. Cookies and cokes were served to the students after the performance.

$100 boosts juniors' low morale for prom

Attractive and delightful Marilyn Ayers plays the role of sweetheart as she helps to promote enthusiasm among the boys during their activities.

With the cash received from sponsoring buses to away games, the nurse's bill was paid and a Christmas tree was donated to the Library. Disappointment was erased from Junior's faces when they also received money to use for prom.

Three water-filled barrels were distributed by the members for each class. Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors competed by seeing which class could throw the most coins in the barrels. The winning class could donate the money to the support of any school function they desired.

Excitement was added to Sunday afternoons when they sponsored Rag-Tag Football games; and with their quick maneuvers, they became the undefeated champs. To raise money for the Tennis Court building fund, they started intramural basketball games, and sold Tomahawk plastic covers.

Meeting in the new Rotary Youth building, they and their sister club Wheelettes, created the winning club float featuring the Big Green Indian spreading seeds of terror through the land.

soaring balloons give lift to school spirit

Displaying the new flag presented to the school, members Georgia McClure, Roxie Martin and Dorothy Covey show their approval of the design.

It was a year of firsts. Presentation of a spirit flag to the school and sale of spirit balloons boosted Big Green spirit. New blue and gold T-shirts were ordered with each member's name and the club on them.

Joint meetings with their brother club, Interact, were held in the new Rotary building. Wheelettes provided curtains and furniture to liven the decor.

Donations were made for the POW-MIA issue of Smoke Signals. Sale of POW bumper stickers also contributed to the funds.

On February 10, the Mr. Mock CHS contest was held. "Tip toe through the tulips" was the theme. This challenged clubs to enter their most talented and witty boy to compete.

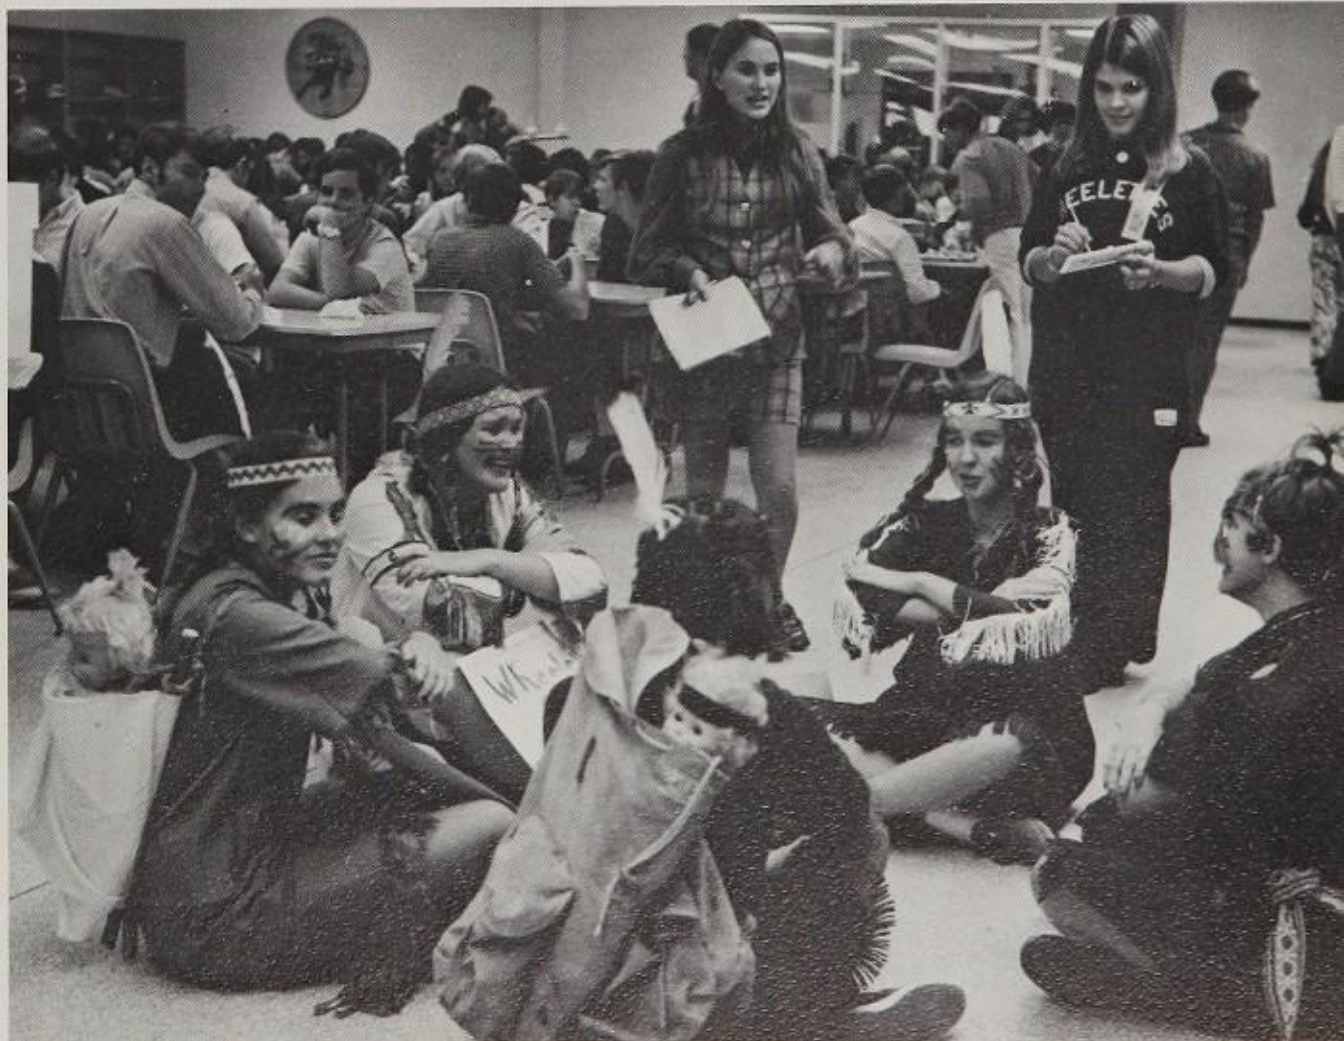

Children participating in the tutoring program at New Heights Elementary were entertained at a Christmas party.

Wheelette alumni were united with their fellow sisters at a tea given in their honor. Teas given for Keyettes and Optimiss enabled girls to become better friends with members of the other service clubs.

Other school projects included donating money for the tennis courts and decorating a Christmas tree for the library.

New squaws Jill Work, Rita Langston, Cindy McLaughlin, Joan Culwell and Helen D'Amore take orders from old squaws Jane Cook and Earl Ann Lenert.

rival clubs contend in dueling football match

Entering into the "wide world of sports," Leo Club challenged the Octagon Club in a football intramural match.

Cars were a business feature for the club as they parked them during Homecoming and washed them one Saturday as a money-making project.

Service clubs sponsored a Christmas Dance, and the Leo Club combined efforts with the Octagon Club for cafeteria decorations.

Leo Club sponsored the student-faculty basketball game in March. Proceeds went towards the Tennis Court Fund.

Members participated in the March of Dimes—twenty-five miles worth.

President Tim Morgan represented the Leo Club in the Mr. Mock CHS Contest.

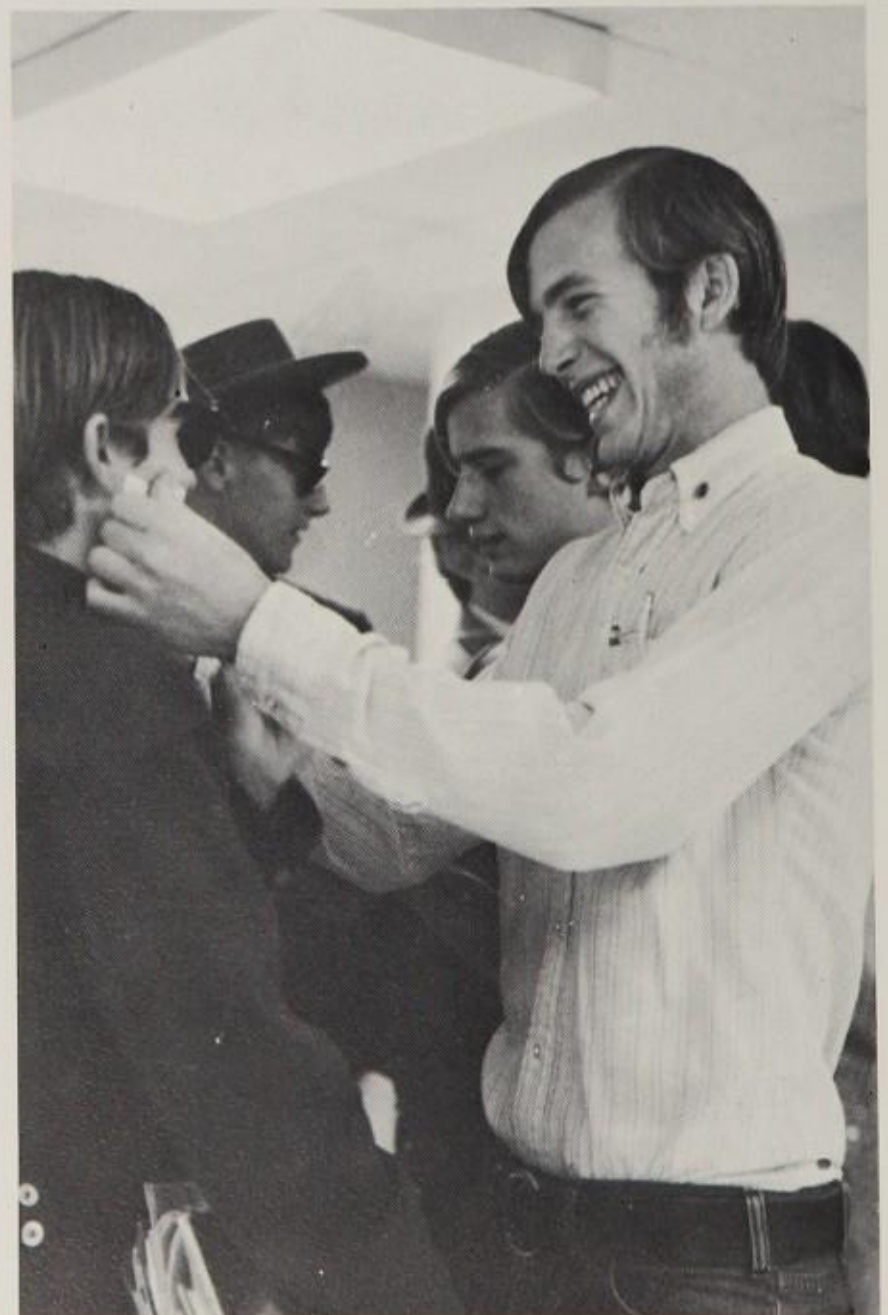

Initiation proved quite dandy as initiates rushed around locating "odds and ends."

Leo Club chose Carol Hagen as their 1970-1971 sweetheart.

Both teams anxiously await the signal for the next play during an intramural football match between the Leo and Octagon clubs.

Shooting herself into the hearts of the Leo Club members, Carol Hagen is chosen as their 1970-71 sweetheart.

Sticking to "Concentration Day" rules, initiates taped mouths hinder dodging members, Wayne Alexander and Henry Schramm.

Representing Leo Club in the Mr. Mock CHS Contest, president Tim Morgan tightly clutches his duck and recites an original poem.

Steve Bench, 1971 gentleman, celebrates his eighteenth birthday at a party given in his honor by club members in early January.

care packages forwarded to lonely spirit

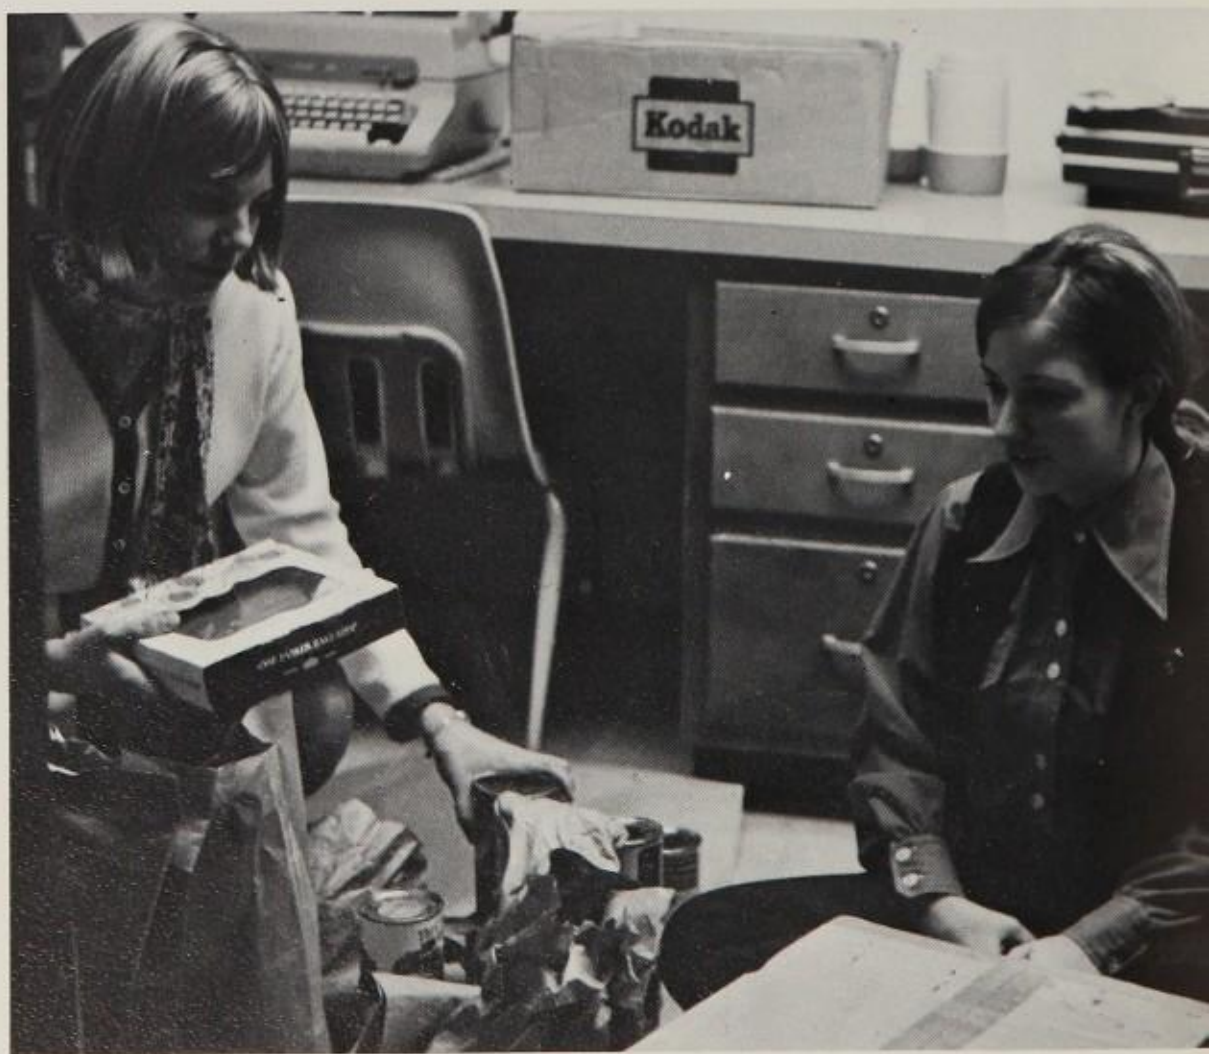

Money making projects included the selling of mums and bootneers in front of the lunchroom for Homecoming festivities. Money made from these activities went to the new type of Sadie Hawkins, an old-fashioned square dance.

During Thanksgiving, members visited homes to sing and bring cheer to individuals. They made colorful posters for the hallways of Fort Walton Beach Hospital to brighten the holidays of the patients.

For their Christmas project, the girls prepared food care packages for Vietnam soldiers. They contained fruits and various other types of foods.

Members showed their gratitude to the English Department by cleaning blackboards, desks and floors in the rooms.

Steve Bench was chosen gentleman and was presented with a huge box filled with food and surprises at a pep rally.

spirits lifted with spooky halloween treats

Children in the Ft. Walton Beach Hospital received a treat instead of a trick on Halloween night. Members of Junior Tri-Hi-Y gave each child a spooky bag of candy.

Money making projects for the year included a car wash and a bake sale.

Learning more about state government, Cindy McLaughlin, Earl Ann Lenert, and Libby Hambilton attended Youth Legislature in Tallahassee. Holding the office of page, Dee Dee Gordon represented Choctaw at the state meeting. Linda Womble was elected to serve as reporter during the session.

To become more acquainted with Sophomore Tri-Hi-Y, a party was given in honor of the sister club.

thanksgiving basket brings joy to family

Members of Sophomore Tri-Hi-Y exhibited their generosity and thoughtfulness by collecting a basket of food for an underprivileged family at Thanksgiving.

Terri Creel and Rita Langston represented this year's club at the Y.M.C.A. session of Youth Legislature. During the state meeting they proposed a bill for passage into law which concerned rules and regulations for slow moving vehicles. Vehicles going less than 40 miles per hour were to have protective shields.

Gaily decorated goods were sold during the clubs bake sale and a car wash helped the club make a large profit.

Keeping with the spirit, Patty Roberson and Rita Langston prepared a Thanksgiving basket for a local needy family.

delegates gain practical political practice

Earl Ann Lenert, chosen sweetheart, displays her charming and versatile personality that captured the hearts of Hi-Y boys.

Reorganization was the key word for Hi-Y this year as its members strove for "Hi-Heights." George Klienpeter was elected the District One nominee for President of the Senate in the 1972 Youth legislature.

Accounting the news from the Capital, Richard Roberts and Russel Roberts represented Choctaw as delegates to the House of Representatives and Senate at the Youth session.

buy student directory; call a friend today!

Hurrying from homeroom to homeroom, collecting names, telephone numbers and addresses, Cooperative Business Education members compiled and sold the Student Directory.

Two hundred students attended district meeting in Panama City to elect district officers and compete in contests. Choctawhatchee placed first in typewriting, second in shorthand and poster, and third in spelling. Later in the year a State Contest was held in Jacksonville, Florida.

Girls made and sold caramel apples, popcorn balls and peanut brittle to finance their trips. Members also sold polly-wog candy and candy-cane Christmas messages.

To show appreciation for their bosses' cooperation, C.B.E. members held a formal Employer-Employee Banquet.

C.B.E. students typed thousands of contribution cards for the United Fund.

Christie Finklea operates the bank's proof machine to verify and endorse checks. She also files checks and pulls statements.

Taking time out from his lunch, Tim Morgan buys a candy-cane Christmas message from Lynn Brady. C.B.E. members made and delivered messages.

best in district I; win three first places

Winning three first places made the District I meeting in Panama City a complete success for DCT. Students received the prizes for a poster, job interview, and extemporaneous speaking.

They also attended the state leadership conference in Jacksonville in May.

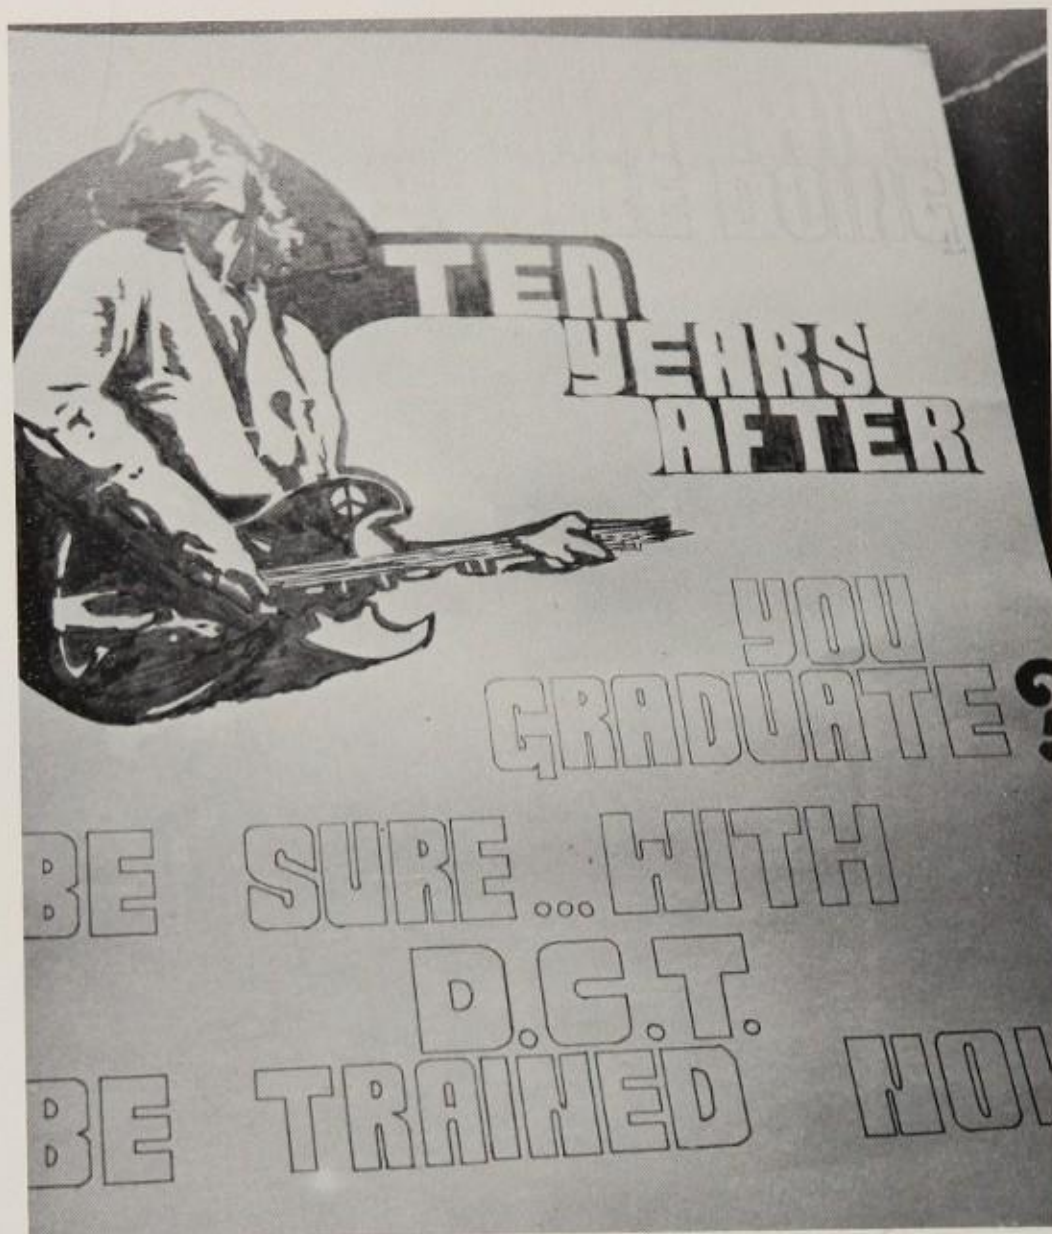

Members took field trips to Silver Sands, Keltec, the Playground Daily News office, and Southeastern Telephone Company.

Among their projects and activities were installations of officers at the Sheraton-Miramar to start the year, two Thanksgiving baskets, a ceramics sale for Silver Sands, and a Christmas luncheon.

Annual employer-employee banquet highlighted DCT's activities for the year. Working students presented certificates of appreciation to their employers.

Checking in and marking prices on newly received merchandise are two of Mike Poteete's tasks.

Shown for a while in one of the display cases, this poster was made by Mark Rush and took first place at the District I meeting.

choctawhatchee hosts district I conference

Starting the year off with the spirit of giving, C.D.E. students donated proceeds from a rummage sale to the Tennis Court Fund and to POW-MIA issue of Smoke Signals.

On October 15 an installation of officers banquet was held at Black Angus.

First annual Distributive Education Clubs of America District I conference was hosted by Choctawhatchee, January 29. Delegates also attended State conference.

Annual employer-employee banquet was held for employees to recognize and thank their bosses for their cooperation.

Merchandise from training agencies was displayed in school's showcases.

Cooperative Distributive Education members elected Jerome Kelly gentleman and Debbie Bricker sweetheart.

selling senior pins major money maker

Traditional Senior pins sold by Future Teachers was a major fund raising project. Funds were used so members could travel to Pensacola Junior College January 29 to observe teaching methods and techniques.

The Niceville—Choctaw game spurred students to buy feathers and participate in a spirit contest sponsored by the club. White feathers for sophomores, yellow feathers for juniors, green feathers for seniors were pinned on a mock eagle to show which class had the most spirit.

Tutoring students at Fort Walton Elementary, the members participated in Project Assist, which is sponsored by the city.

The club collected a basket of food for a needy family at Christmastime, and donated the take up reel for the library.

winning float predicts destruction of rebels

"Cram the Rebels" was the theme of Library Club's float during Homecoming. Members utilized their skills of extra hard work and imagination, making it a second place winning entry.

Choctaw students' various talents were displayed when the club held a talent show on the night of February 18. Singing, dancing and acrobatics were only some of the skills included in the production.

Highlighting this year's activities, the members held a flea market on the football field. Many kinds of odds and ends were donated, displayed and swapped.

Members also put a book drop in front of the library. This was built so students returning books to the library could just put them in the book drop and not have to go inside.

The club's Christmas project was donating magazines and fruits in a basket to the Crestview Nursing Home.

Mrs. Joy Mauldin, Mrs. Carolyn Kirkland, Mrs. Martha Drane, Hal Arnold, Larry Bailey, Jack Douglas accept awards for float.

musicians' own thing creates unique show

Members with outstanding talent performed in a talent show sponsored by the Folk and Library Clubs. Other members made up a hilarious "Jug Band" playing instruments such as jugs and washboards. "Make Your Own Kind of Music", the title, spurred many talented students of Choctaw to try out for the unusual show.

Hardee's, Fort Walton Mall, and members' houses added variety to club meeting places. Folk and soul music filled the Fort Walton Mall and attracted an audience from window shoppers. Each meeting ended with a version of graduate member Robert Lobato's "There's Fire Down Below."

Share Norville thinks practice makes perfect as she strums her guitar practicing for the Folk—Library talent show.

candy canes boost spirit of sick children

Sherri Mitchel carefully cuts red felt to make candy cane covers for small children hospitalized during Christmas.

Hospitalized children's faces brightened at Christmas when FHA members gave them candy cane horses. Another Christmas project was decorating the tree in the lunchroom.

Special gifts showed teachers they were thought about on Teacher Appreciation Day. Community Day, Church Day, and Family Day were some projects during FHA Week.

"Lick the Lions" and other anti-lion phrases decorated classroom doors during the week of the Leon game. Each member was responsible for decorating a door.

Traditional pom-pom and Senior button sales were major money making projects.

Duane Anderson, FHA gentleman, attended meetings and helped with projects.

highest bidder wins doll from showcase

Doll auctions, held in the school library, highlighted CIA fund raising projects. Dolls and their handmade clothes were donated to the club by Mrs. Frances Hinshelwood, sponsor. Other money making plans were bake sales and a Valentine Banquet.

Christmas baskets given to needy families was one of their service projects.

Bible drills, devotions, missionary guest speakers and refreshments enhanced their meetings on Tuesdays.

As a Christian service to fellow students, members gave morning devotions at school.

Jane Cook receives her doll from Jeannie Whittaker after she placed the highest bid during their auction in December.

Marchers must be ready to go in, out, clockwise and counter clockwise at the precise time when performing the difficult circle drill.

band's exhibitions captivate choctaw spirit

Football games, pep rallies, concerts, and contests require band students to put in many hours of long and hard practice.

"Beautiful contrasts, dynamics and style!"

"A spectacular show."

As these judges' comments reflect, the Style Marchers began a superb year by receiving a superior rating at the District One Marching Contest. This contest was held in Niceville.

Concerts received renewed emphasis this season as the band presented versatile Christmas, Pop, and Spring programs. Such featured guests as Santa and his elves added notes of comical as well as musical entertainment.

Bandsmen enlivened Christmas spirit by selling bags of mistletoe as their major fund raising project. Money earned was used to pay for their new uniforms.

This year's band trips included a visit to Six Flags Over Georgia and Lookout Mountain. Rock City Gardens and a Civil War Battle Field were also toured in Tennessee.

Style Marchers turned in another yearly performance of concerts, football and pep rally appearances, and superior ratings, making them not only a top ranking band but also the pride of Choctaw spirit.

patriotic routine salutes pow-mia wives!

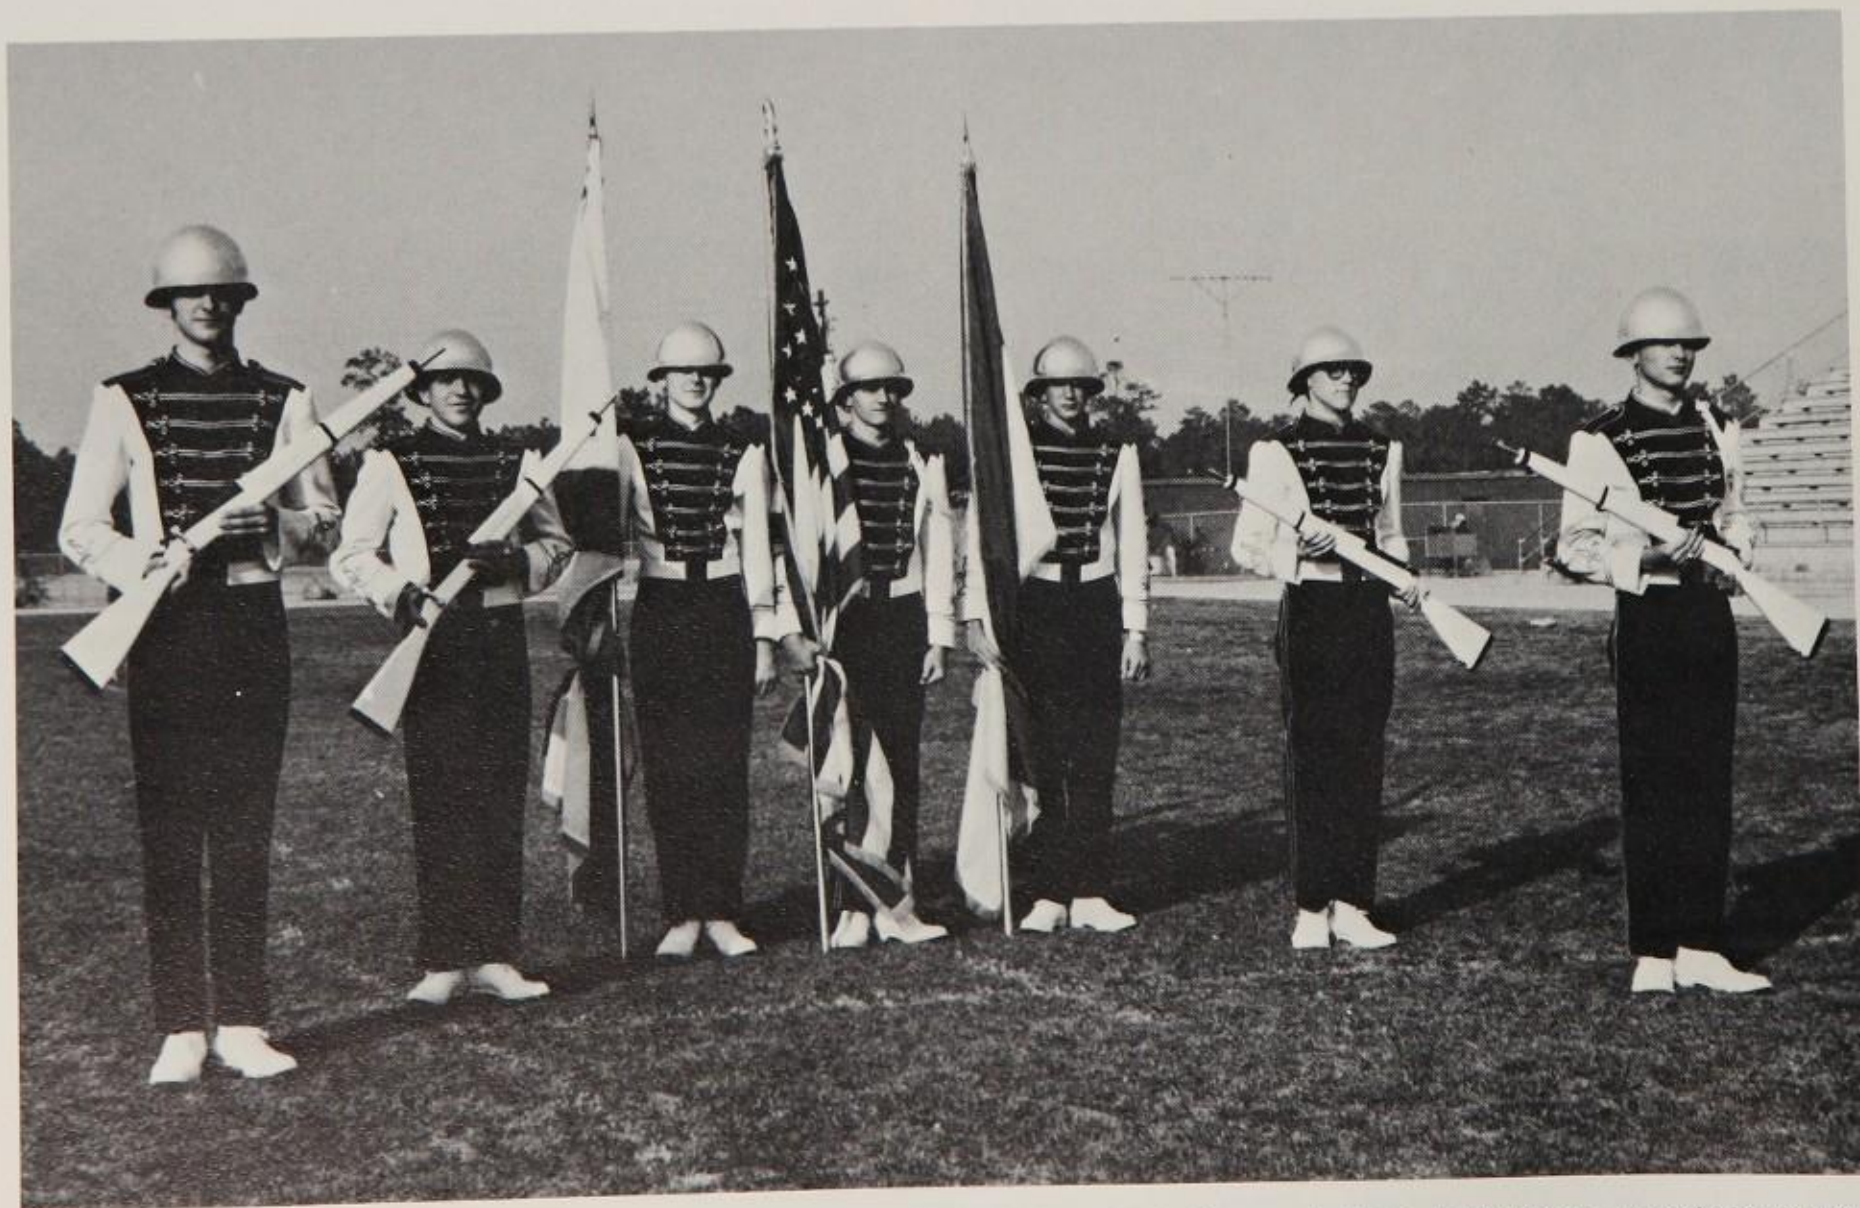

Betsy Ross beaten at her own game? Yah, by Flag Corp. Flag Corp and the band paid a salute to the Prisoners of War-Missing in Action wives by creating a giant flag during some of the season's football halftime shows.

Other routines were performed to soft-rock music such as "Green-Eyed Lady" and Chicago's "Make Me Smile." Flag Corp and Color Guard also presented at a pep rally an out-of-this-world performance of "2001; A Space Odyssey."

Seven members of Color Guard received new white and black braided uniforms this year. Their drills combined skills in tossing and manipulating guns, and teamwork and coordination for working with flags. All-in-all they made quite a stunning display on the field and in parades.

ten little injun maids capture highest honor

Picture ten majorettes twisting and gracefully twirling to loud, forceful melodies on a green field. Quite a picture, huh? Enough to win the girls a First Place Trophy at the Niceville Band Contest.

Newly attired in green jumpsuits with full Indian headresses, the girls started off the year with an enthusiastic sale of Indian Dolls. Wampum from this sale went into the new treasury which was guarded by the Captain, Kay Krekle.

With a left and a right, and a blow of a whistle, majorettes lead the Style Marchers into a animated display of showmanship.

trumpeteers, trombonists travel to tampa

Drumming their way into a third year with songs such as "California Dreamer" and "Colored Lights," the Choctawhatchee Stage Band played at the R.O.T.C. Military Ball, Miramar East New Year's party and the Hurlbert Officers Club Christmas party.

Under the direction of Mr. Jimmy Ray Jones, they have been awarded two distinctions. The band was chosen by the State Music Department of Florida to play at the Florida State Fair in Tampa, with all expenses paid. They performed three numbers which helped them to win—"Filet of Soul", "Young Man With the Blues" featuring Robert Addison on trombone, and "This is the One" featuring Glen Neese on trumpet.

They were also chosen by three judges from Music Education National Convention to play at the Southern Division of Music Educators National Convention in May.

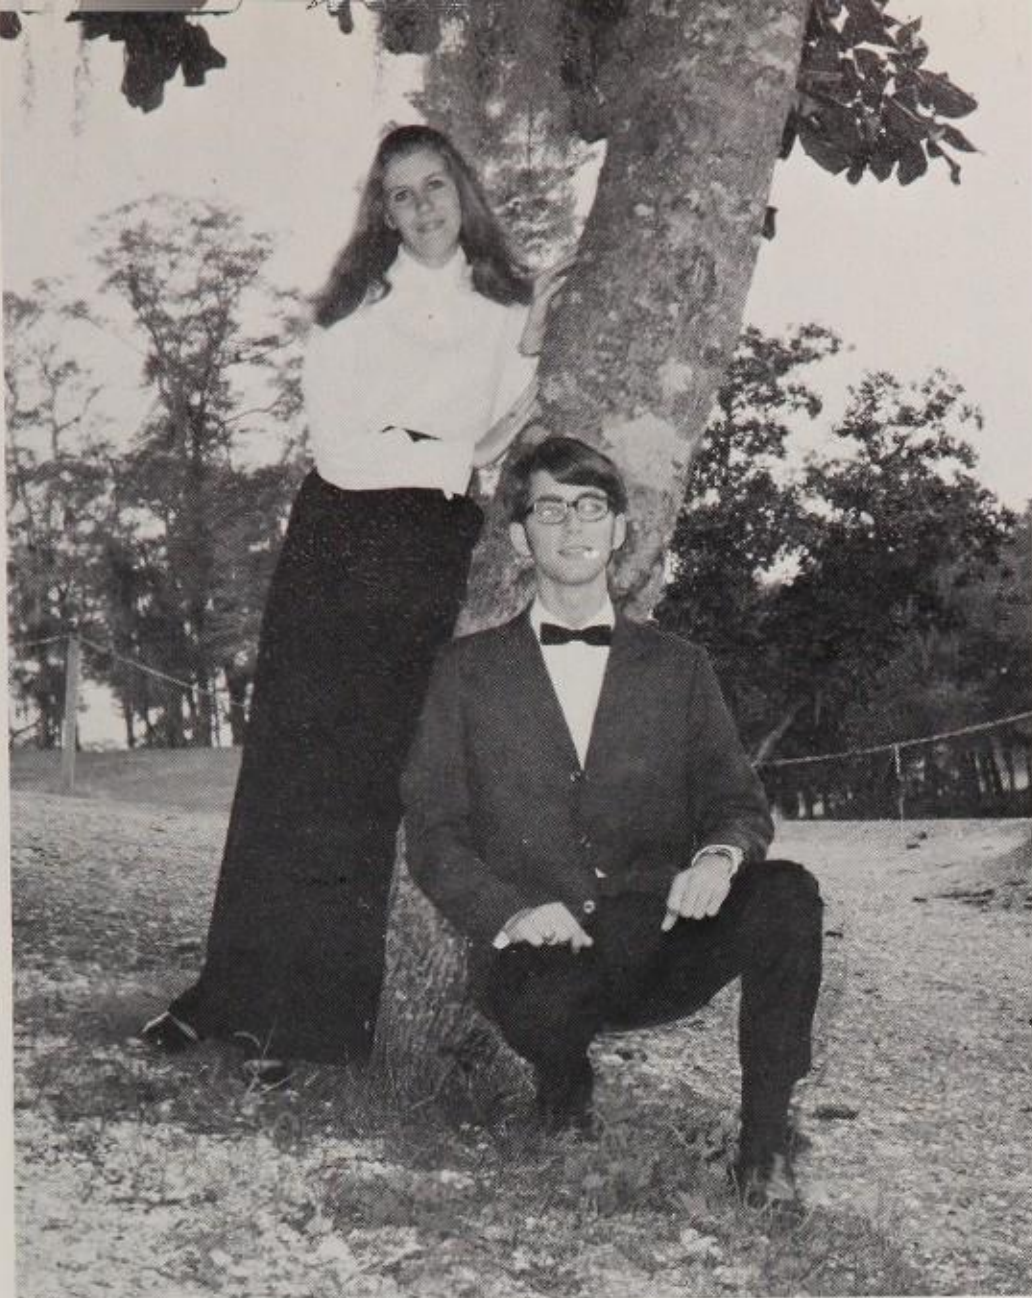

Filling the air with excitement, Stage Band proudly beats out the powerful rhythm of "Soul Finger" at a pep rally.

merry minstrels sing of sugarplum visions

Madrigals for 1970-71 were presented to the public at the annual Christmas concert, whose theme was "Visions of Sugarplums." Madrigals girls wore their new formal outfits for the year, black maxi-length velvet skirts, and white blouses. Boys wore black slacks and green jackets.

"Young America" outfits for the girls included white shirts and navy blue jumpers while the boys wore white slacks and shirts with a red sweater vest.

In February, Madrigals traveled to the district meeting where they performed in competition. They also entered a tape in the pop music contest in Tampa, Florida.

Choristers of the year, Susan Wise and Nick Bilby, pause to reminisce about their experiences in the Choctaw musical department.

tribe's choruses take steps to state contest

In February, Choctawhatchee's choruses traveled to Pensacola High School for their first stop on the way to state. From these district contests the qualifying schools went on to the state contests later in May at Tallahassee. Between these two contests, in April, four representatives were sent to the All-State Chorus in Daytona.

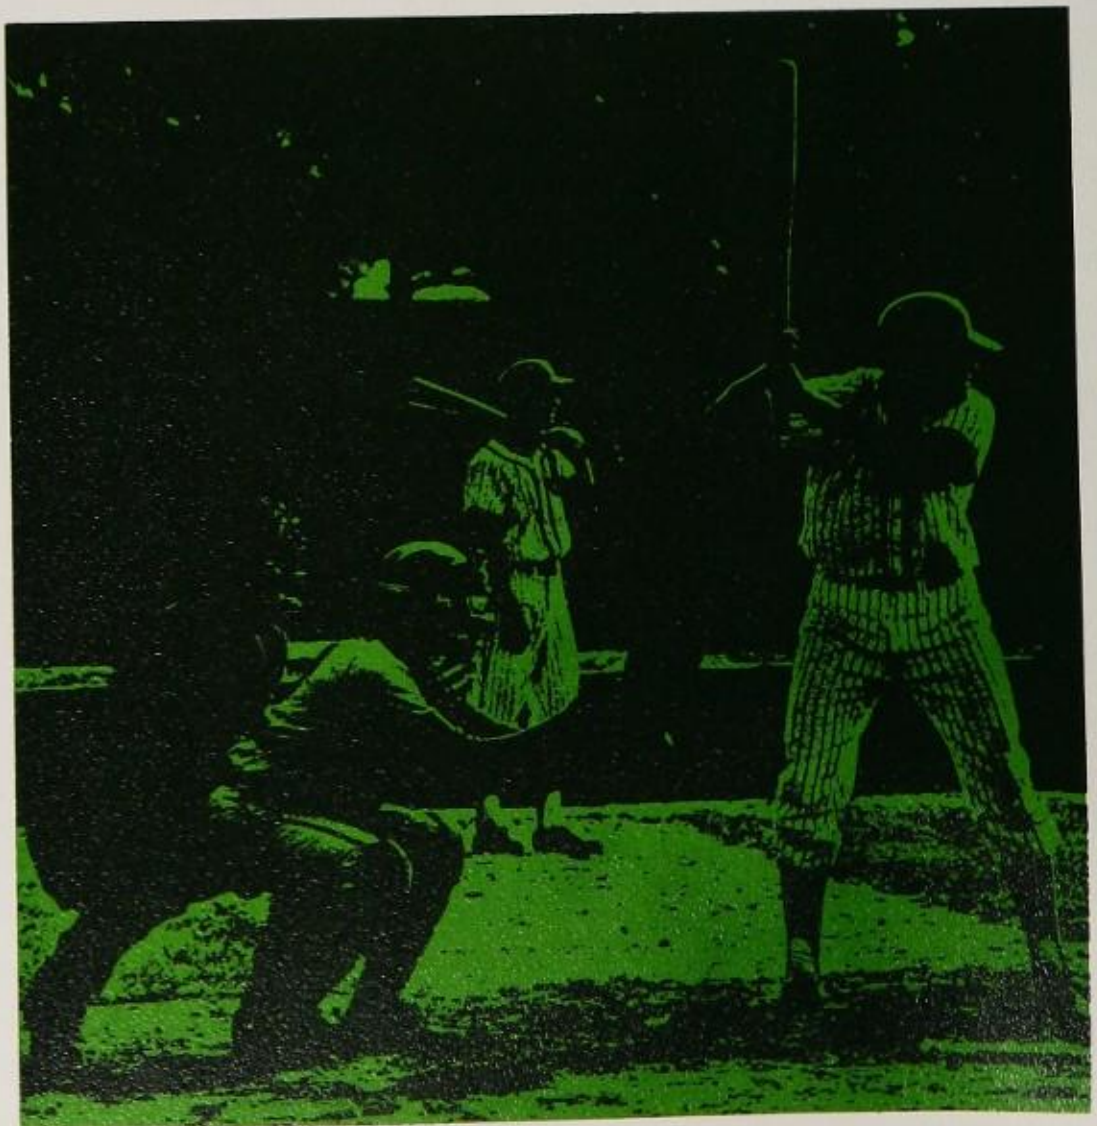

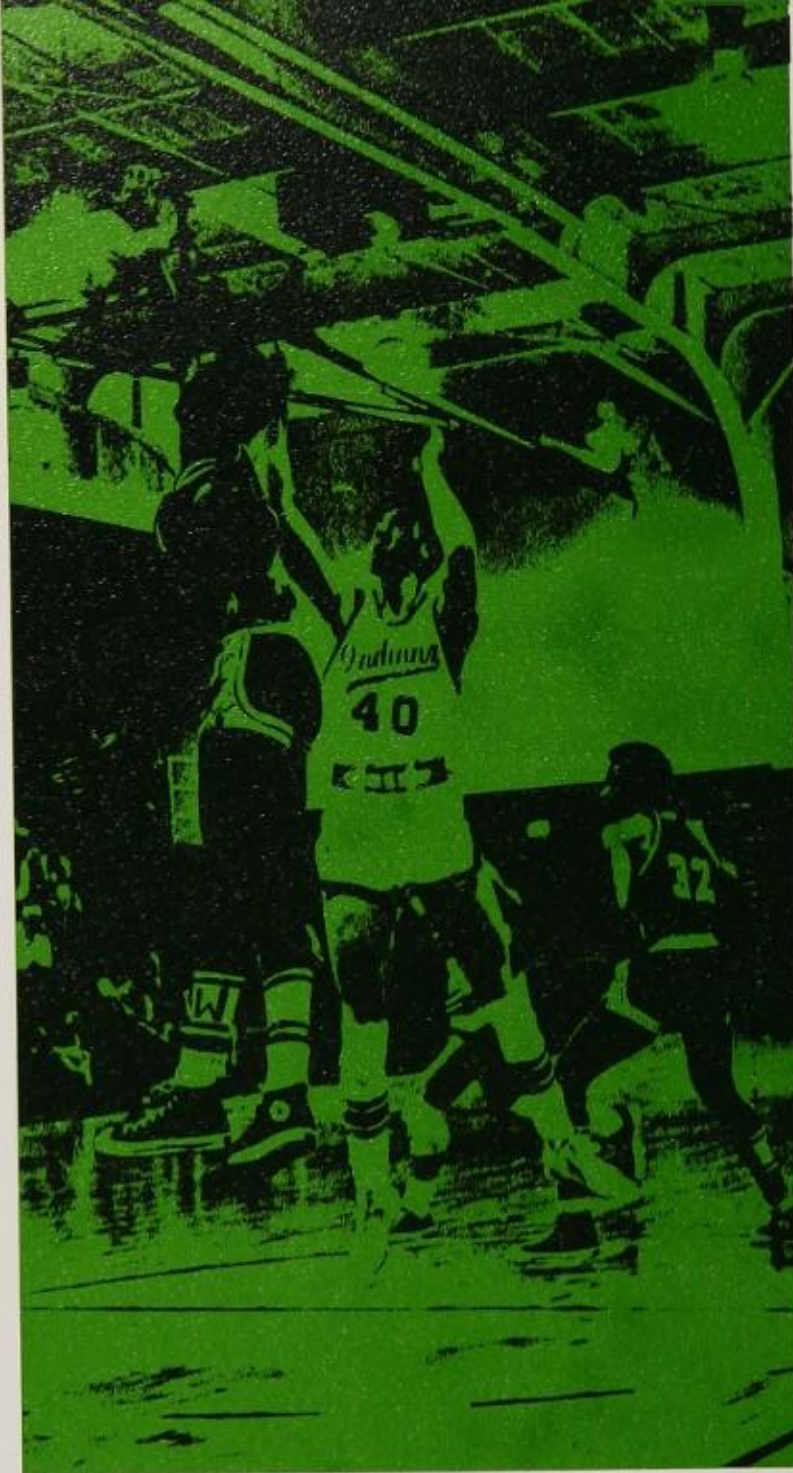

Choristers started the year with the Christmas concert. In the last part of the year, they held the annual Spring Concert and a patriotic concert featuring the combined choruses, Madrigals, and the band.

ATHLETICS

Captains for Escambia's game, John Simmons and Wewa Batson wish the Rebels a good game.

Inside the fieldhouse away from the hustle and bustle of Homecoming activities, the Indians rest for the last half of the game.

loyal fans follow indians to foreign lands

Fans, the loyal fans, following the team wherever they may go, begin to fill the bleachers, ready to witness the clash between athletes. Yet they do not even understand the fullest extent of the clash because it is mental, as well as physical. For inside, the athlete awaits the evidence of his skills and wits.

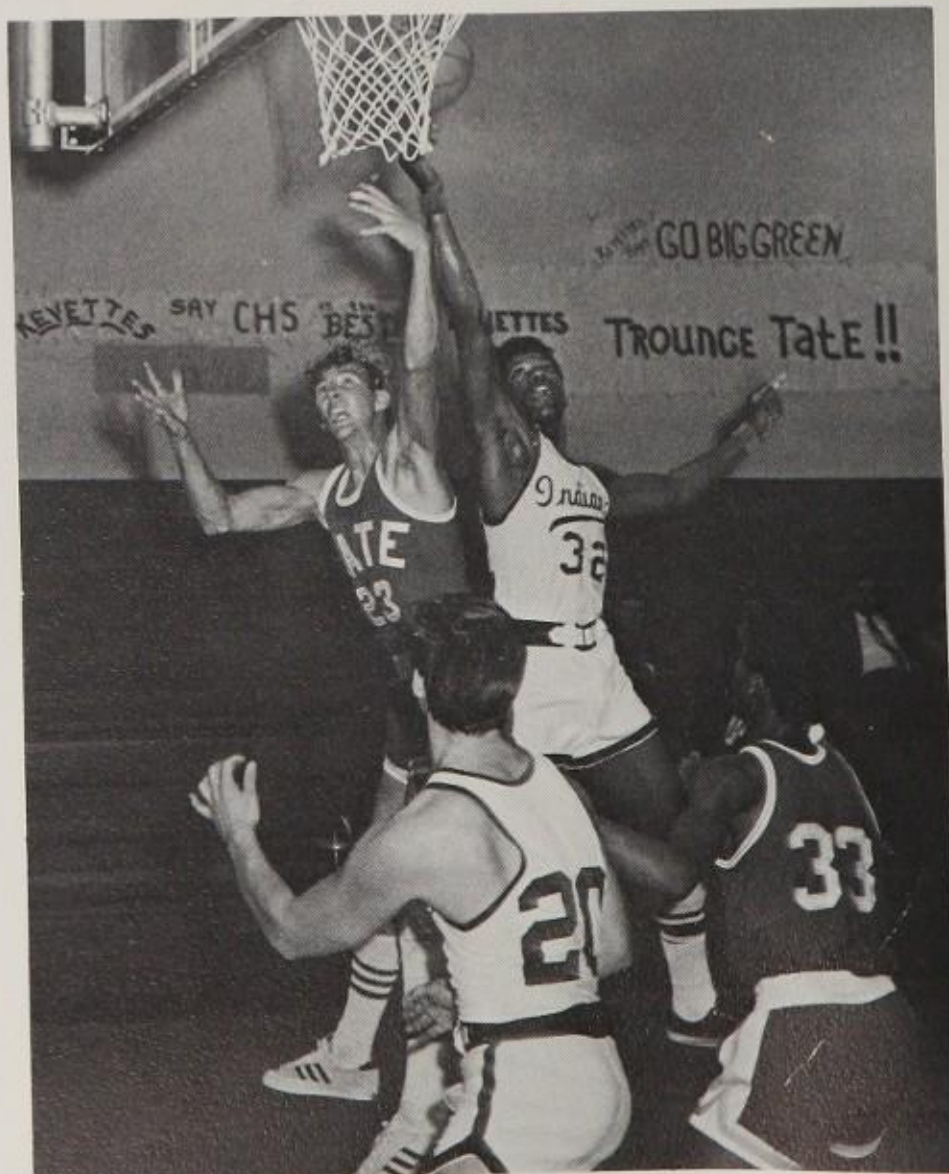

Game captains shake hands, meaning "We'll all still be friends no matter what the outcome is." For the outcome not only depends upon skill, but also upon the breaks and mistakes of the game.

Sidelines provide a place for a player to help himself rise again to the opposition. He must gather his wits so that he may overcome the opposing force.

That extra inch of stretch upward, a slight touch of the ball, may prevent the opposition from scoring. The defense must be ready to outwit his opponents' every action against his team.

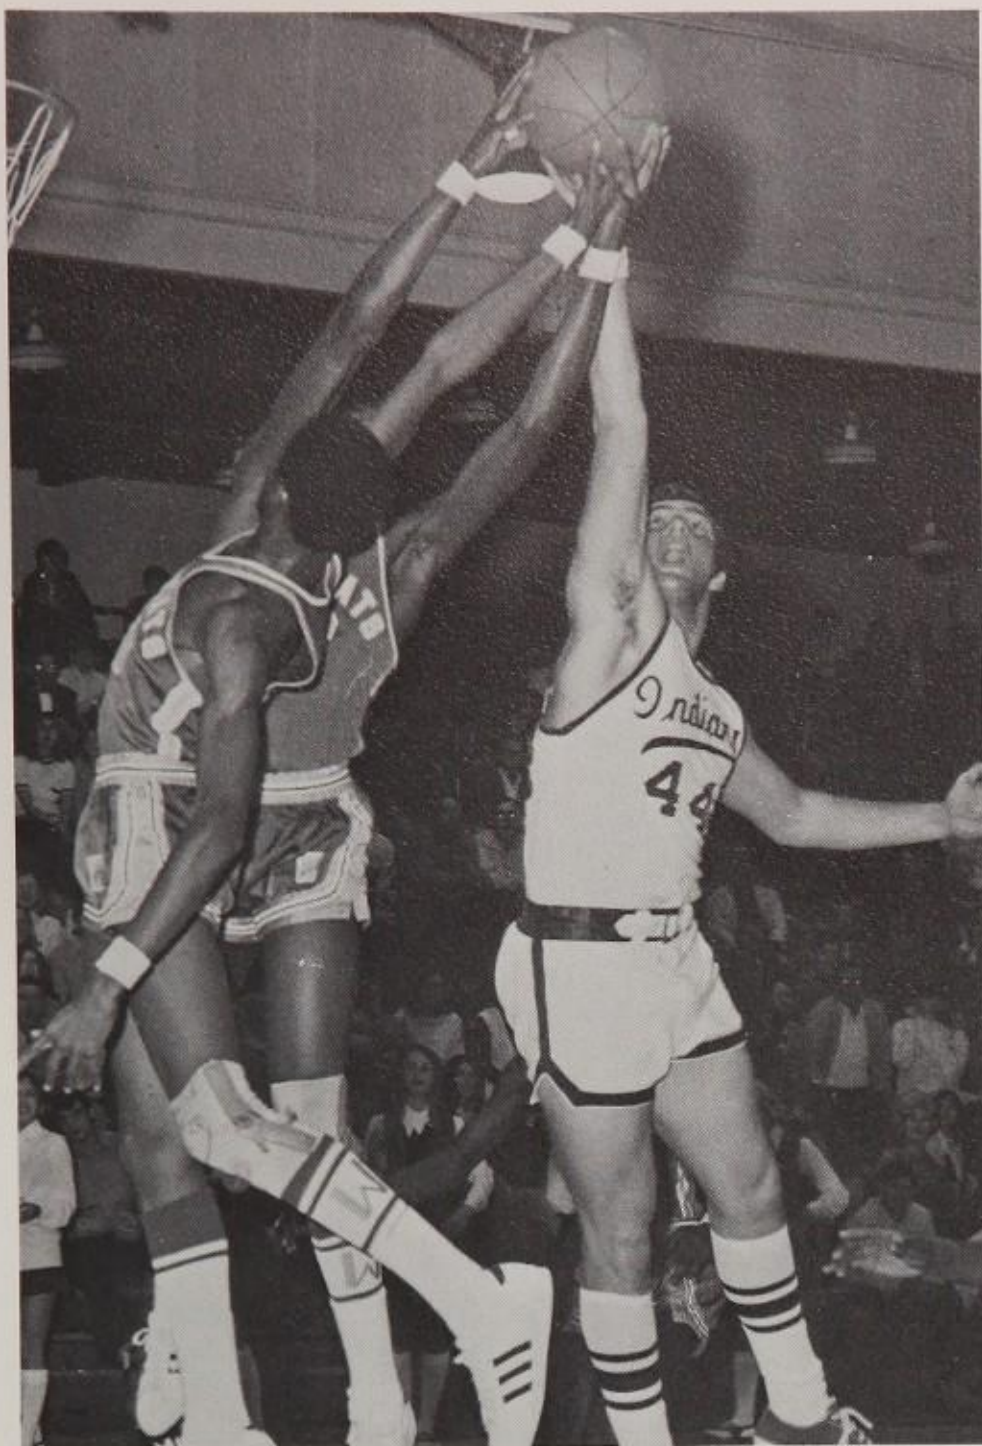

Halftime, a chance to collect one's wits and return to the challenge. The second half may win the game or lose it. Those are the odds against athletes.

A glance at the scoreboard pushes everything out of the athlete's mind except that he must give all he has now for himself, the team, and the fans. They are expecting even the impossible, and the athlete must give the impossible to them.

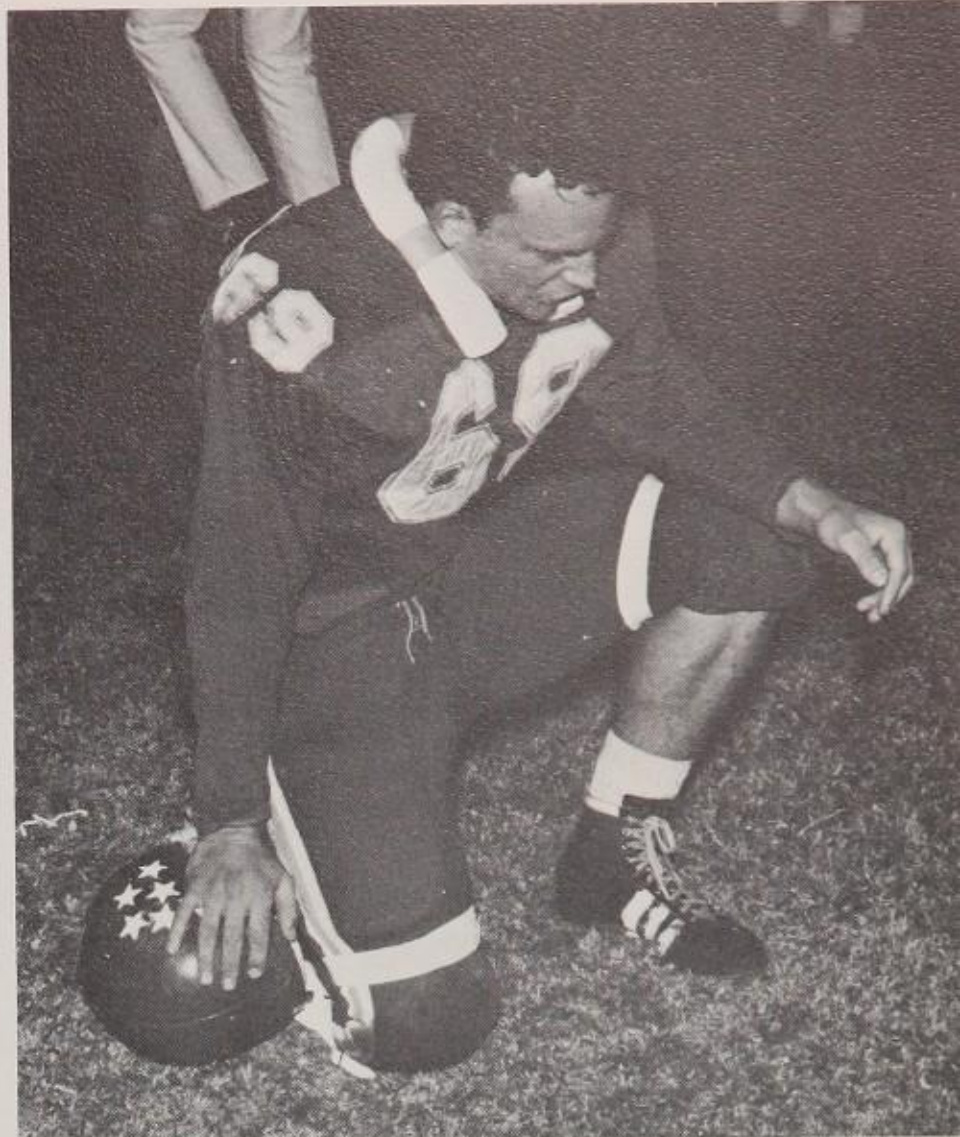

Choctaw's leading scorer and rebounder, sophomore Elbert Madison lightly tips the ball away from a Tate jumper.

Senior veteran Wade Winslette stretches upward and lots of hands shoot out for the loose basketball.

Defensive element Steve Mills reflects Indian emotions during his last Choctaw homecoming.

Showing his Indian determination, Wade Winslette jumps above everyone to avoid blocks and to score two points.

Fans of Big Green, Pop Marler, the Reverend Talmadge Smith, Dutch Van, and Jerry Ryan follow them to Crossville, Tennessee.

papoose roster bruised despite topnotch potential

Drilling practices molded a potential junior varsity squad, although the seasonal record of 4-4 didn't meet their expectations.

Junior varsity faced a new challenge when they met in a clash with the Gulfbreeze varsity squad. Together the junior varsity and the varsity sophomores combined efforts and defeated the Dolphins.

Future Big Green Indians got their material together and walloped Crestview 51-14. They showed determination which brought them the winning score.

Junior varsity's offense proved inconsistent, the defense aggressive, and the combined potential fell short of their goals.

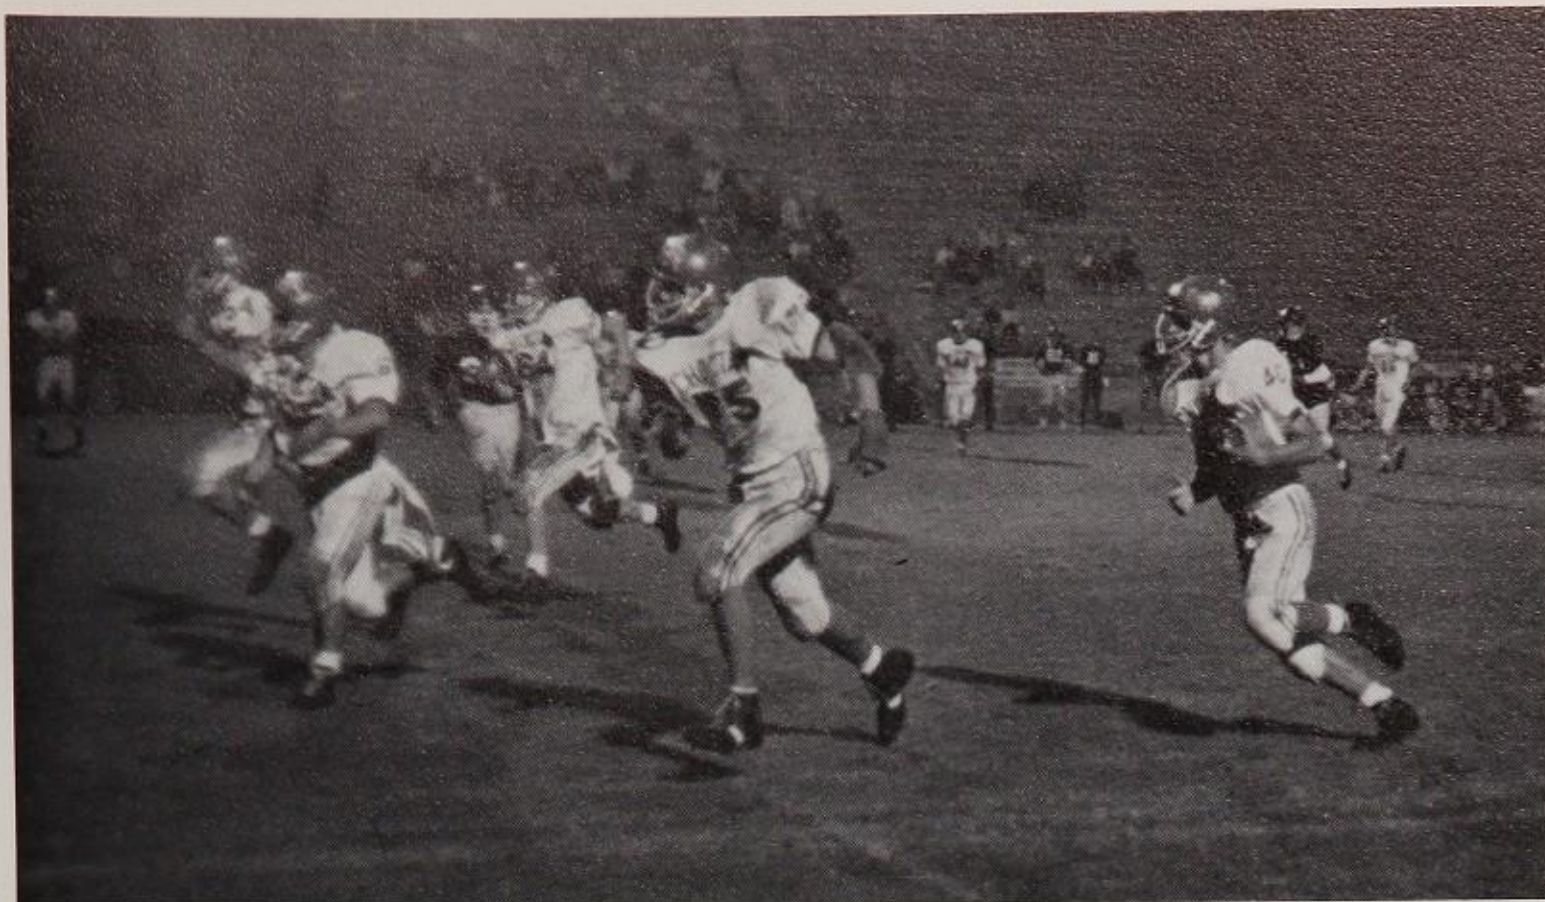

Taking advantage of his teammates' blocking, this tribal back makes a racing attempt to reach the goal line.

Uniting to protect Donnie Crosson from battered Eagletles during the Choctaw-Niceville game, are Mike Bennett, James Kulp, Joe Dildine, and Terry Henris.

Varsity sophomore Ken Helmer rapps with Tony Garner about his part in holding down Gulfbreeze.

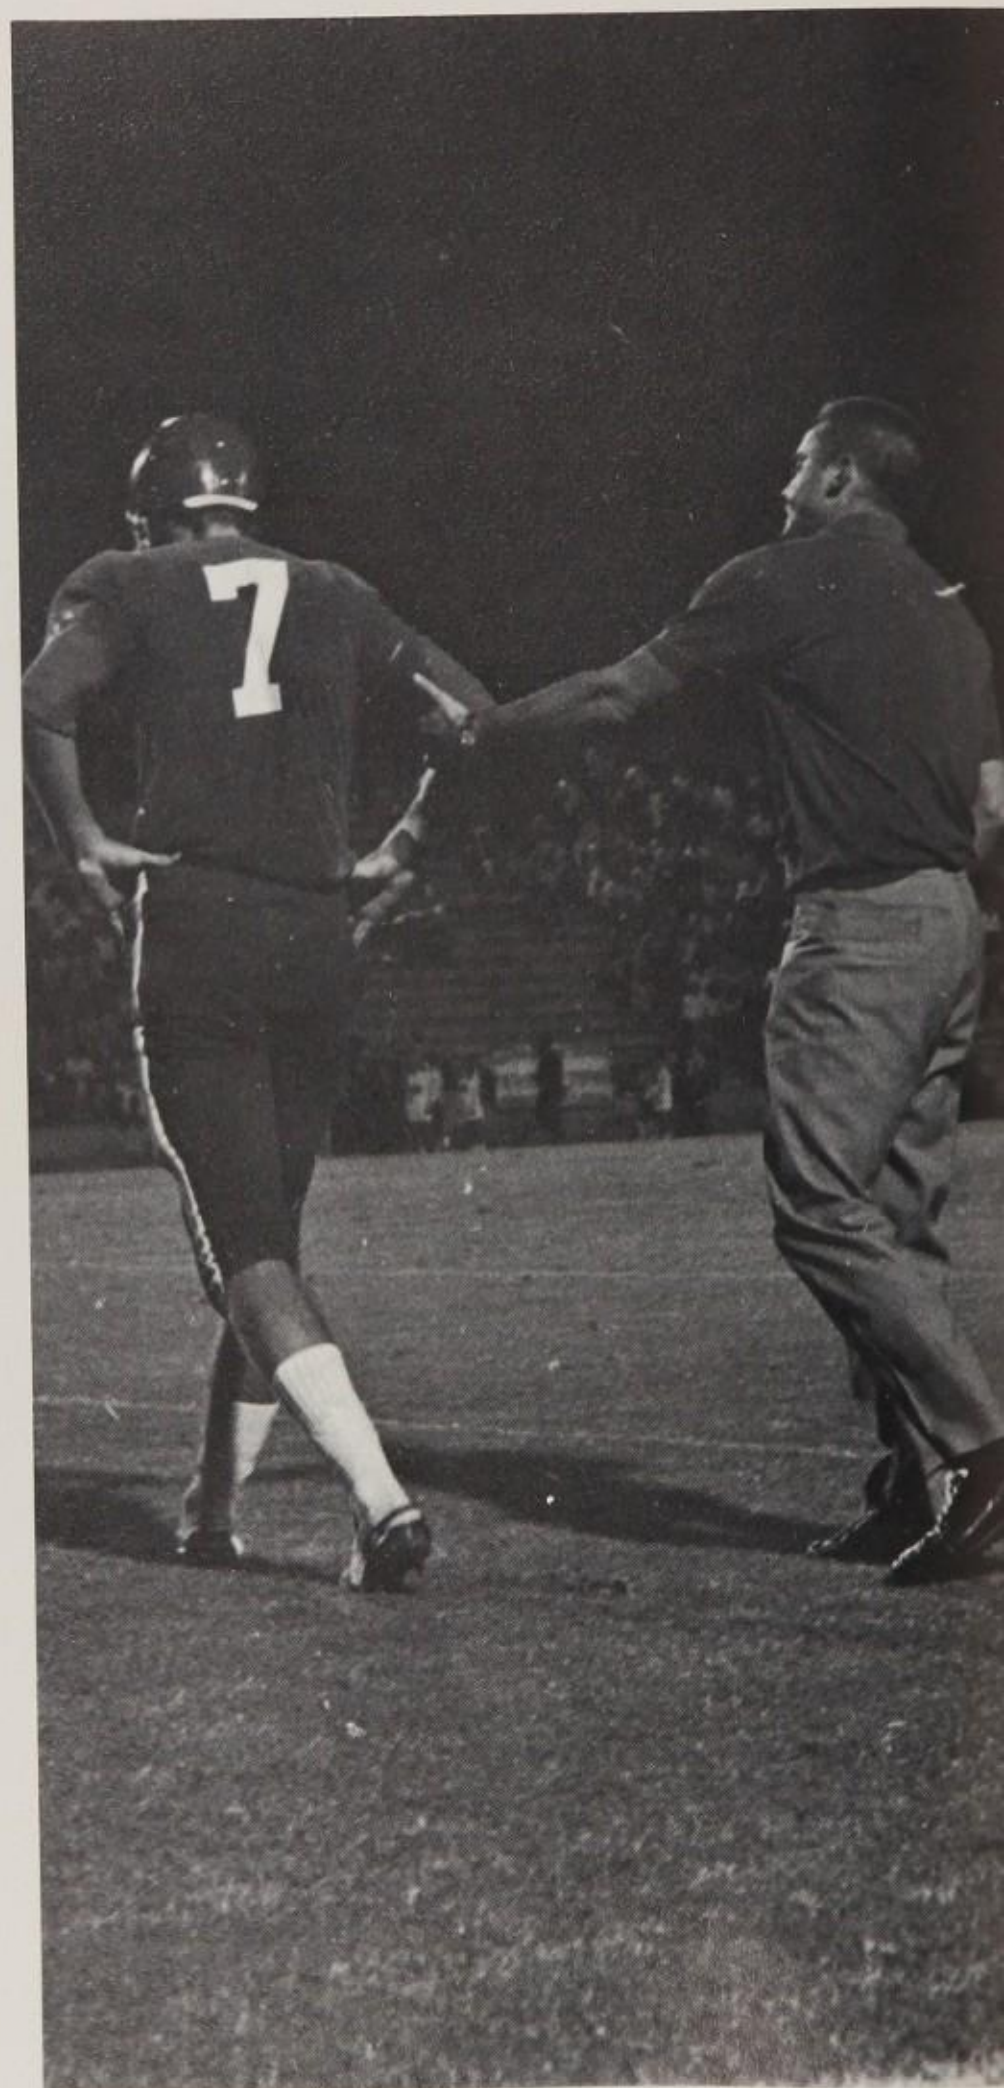

Keeping a hold on a slippery Gulfbreeze player presents quite a problem for this Choctaw defender.

Morry Burgess unfurls Choctaw's superiority and stuns Bay Tornadoes with his aerial reception.

tribe tampers trying tornado-titan tempers

A spirited Choctaw crowd overflowed Tommy Oliver stadium to meet a stout challenge. Bay was out to avenge past defeats. The Big Green stove for team unity and ailing Indians played in spite of illnesses.

Indian action started as expected. They drove the ball 80 yards. Jim Abbott plunged forward. An easy victory? Bay rebounded, Tornadoes led 8-6.

A thwarting defense smothered Bay for yard losses. Joe Bruner fired a touchdown pass to Rob Spivey. Wewa Batson chalked up the conversion points. The Indians weren't finished yet as Abbott scored six and Sherman Moon converted. Bay recovered a Choctaw fumble and narrowed the gap 22-16. Is an upset such a vast impossibility for the Indians?

Tension mounted but the defense turned away Bay drives. "We must preserve our victory." Relief and pride swelled as the whistle blew. The season opener was a victory. Spirit pervaded and Choctaw fans once again looked ahead to a winning season.

A head-on collision featured the aerial artistry of quarterbacks Joe Bruner and David Lee. Indians united, they played against the opposition.

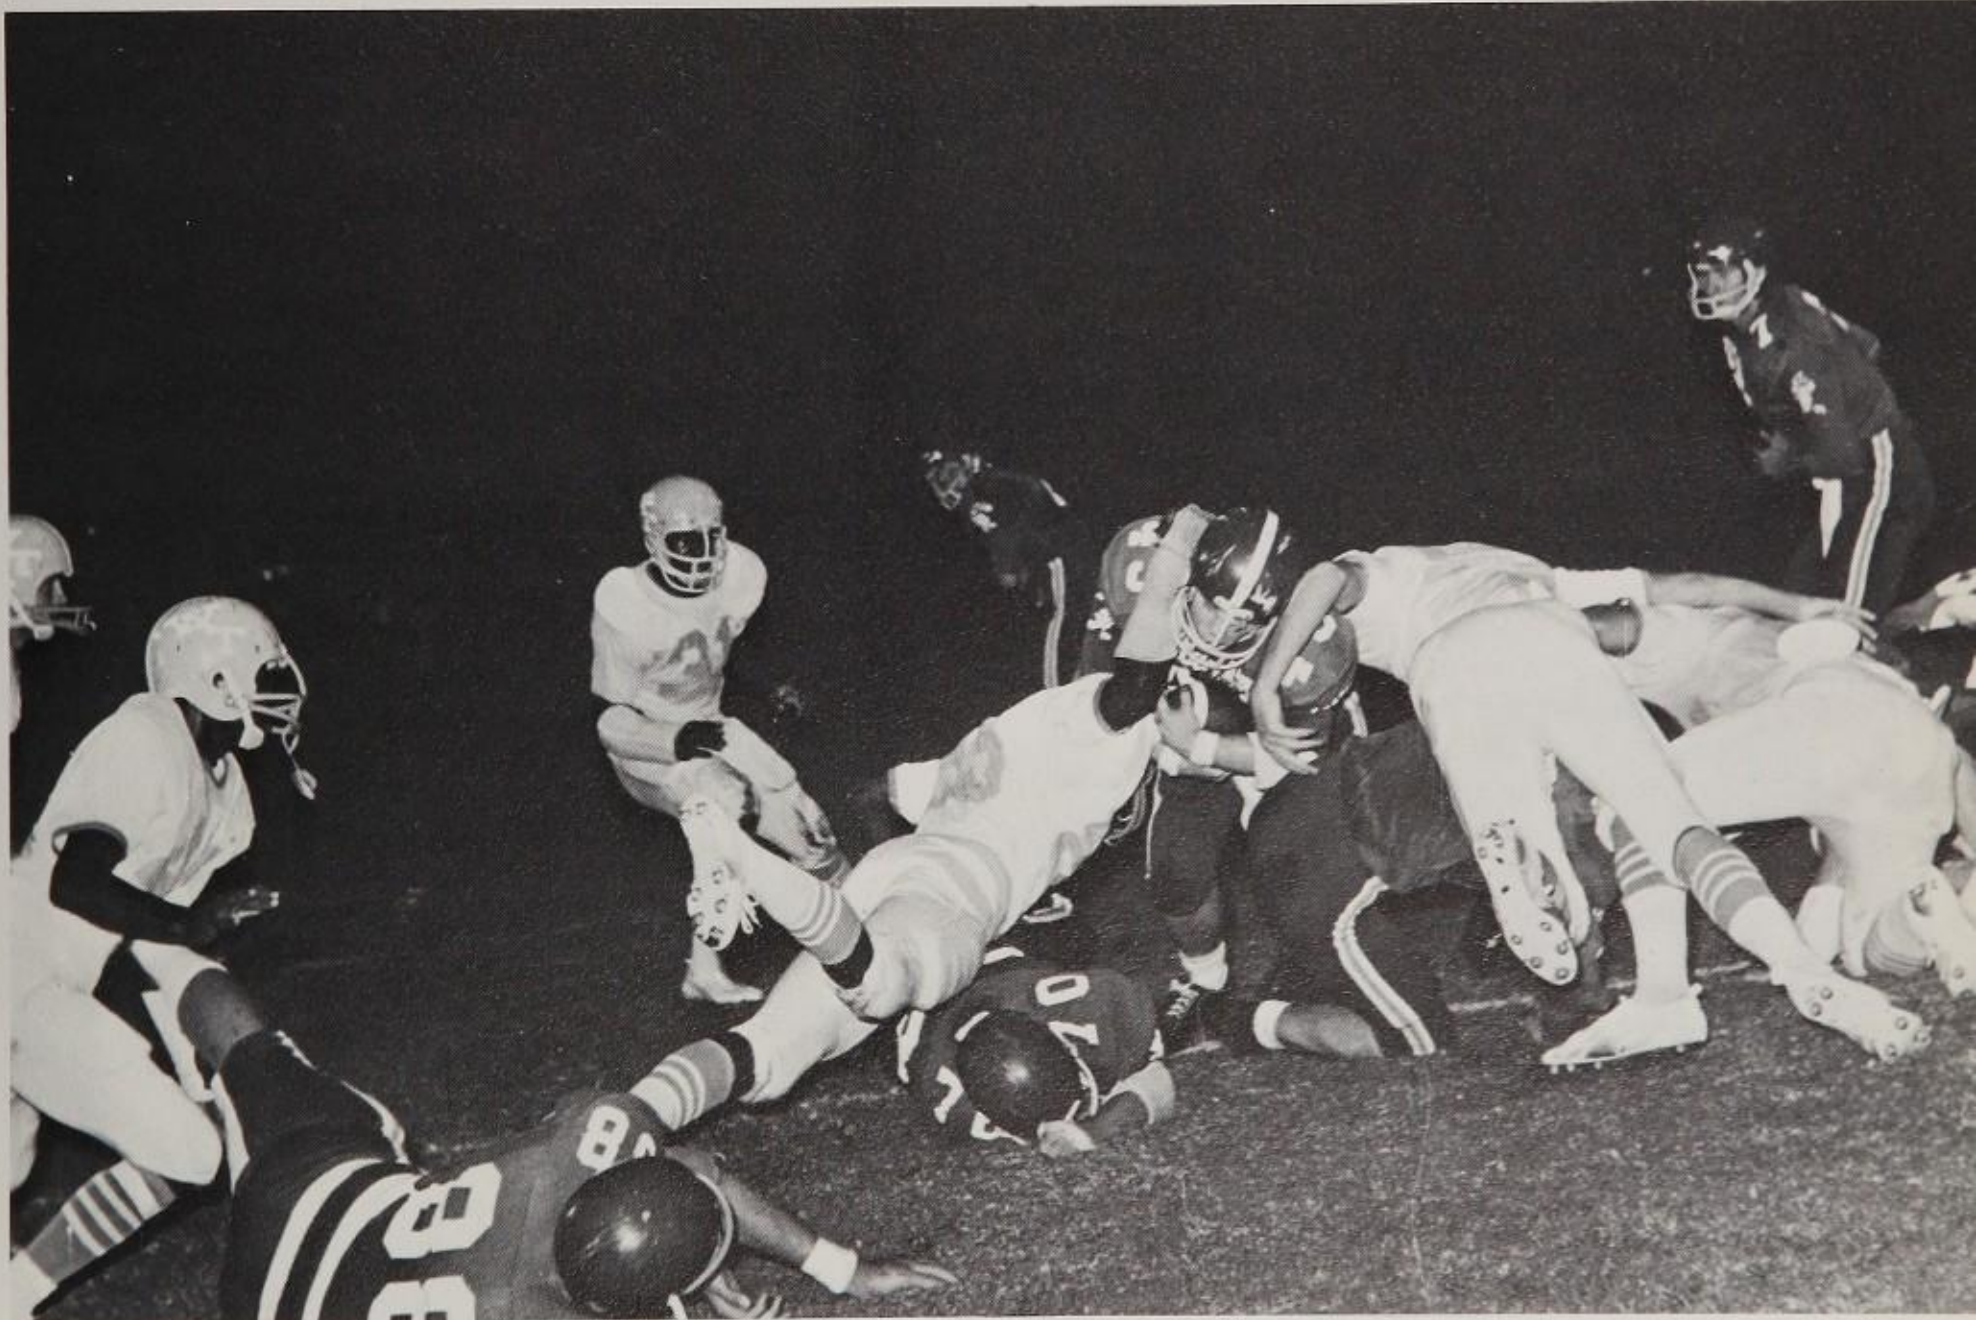

Praises were sung to the linemen who opened holes and enabled scoring. Jim Abbott pounded through the one yard line, and David Jones converted for two points.

Abbott capped a 55-yard drive with a touchdown behind blocking of Pete Kulp, Wewa Batson, and Rob Spivey. Bruner connected with Spivey who twisted and turned over the one and Batson converted.

An intermission score of 32-0 allowed the second string to join forces against the Titans as they staged an attempt of catch-up ball.

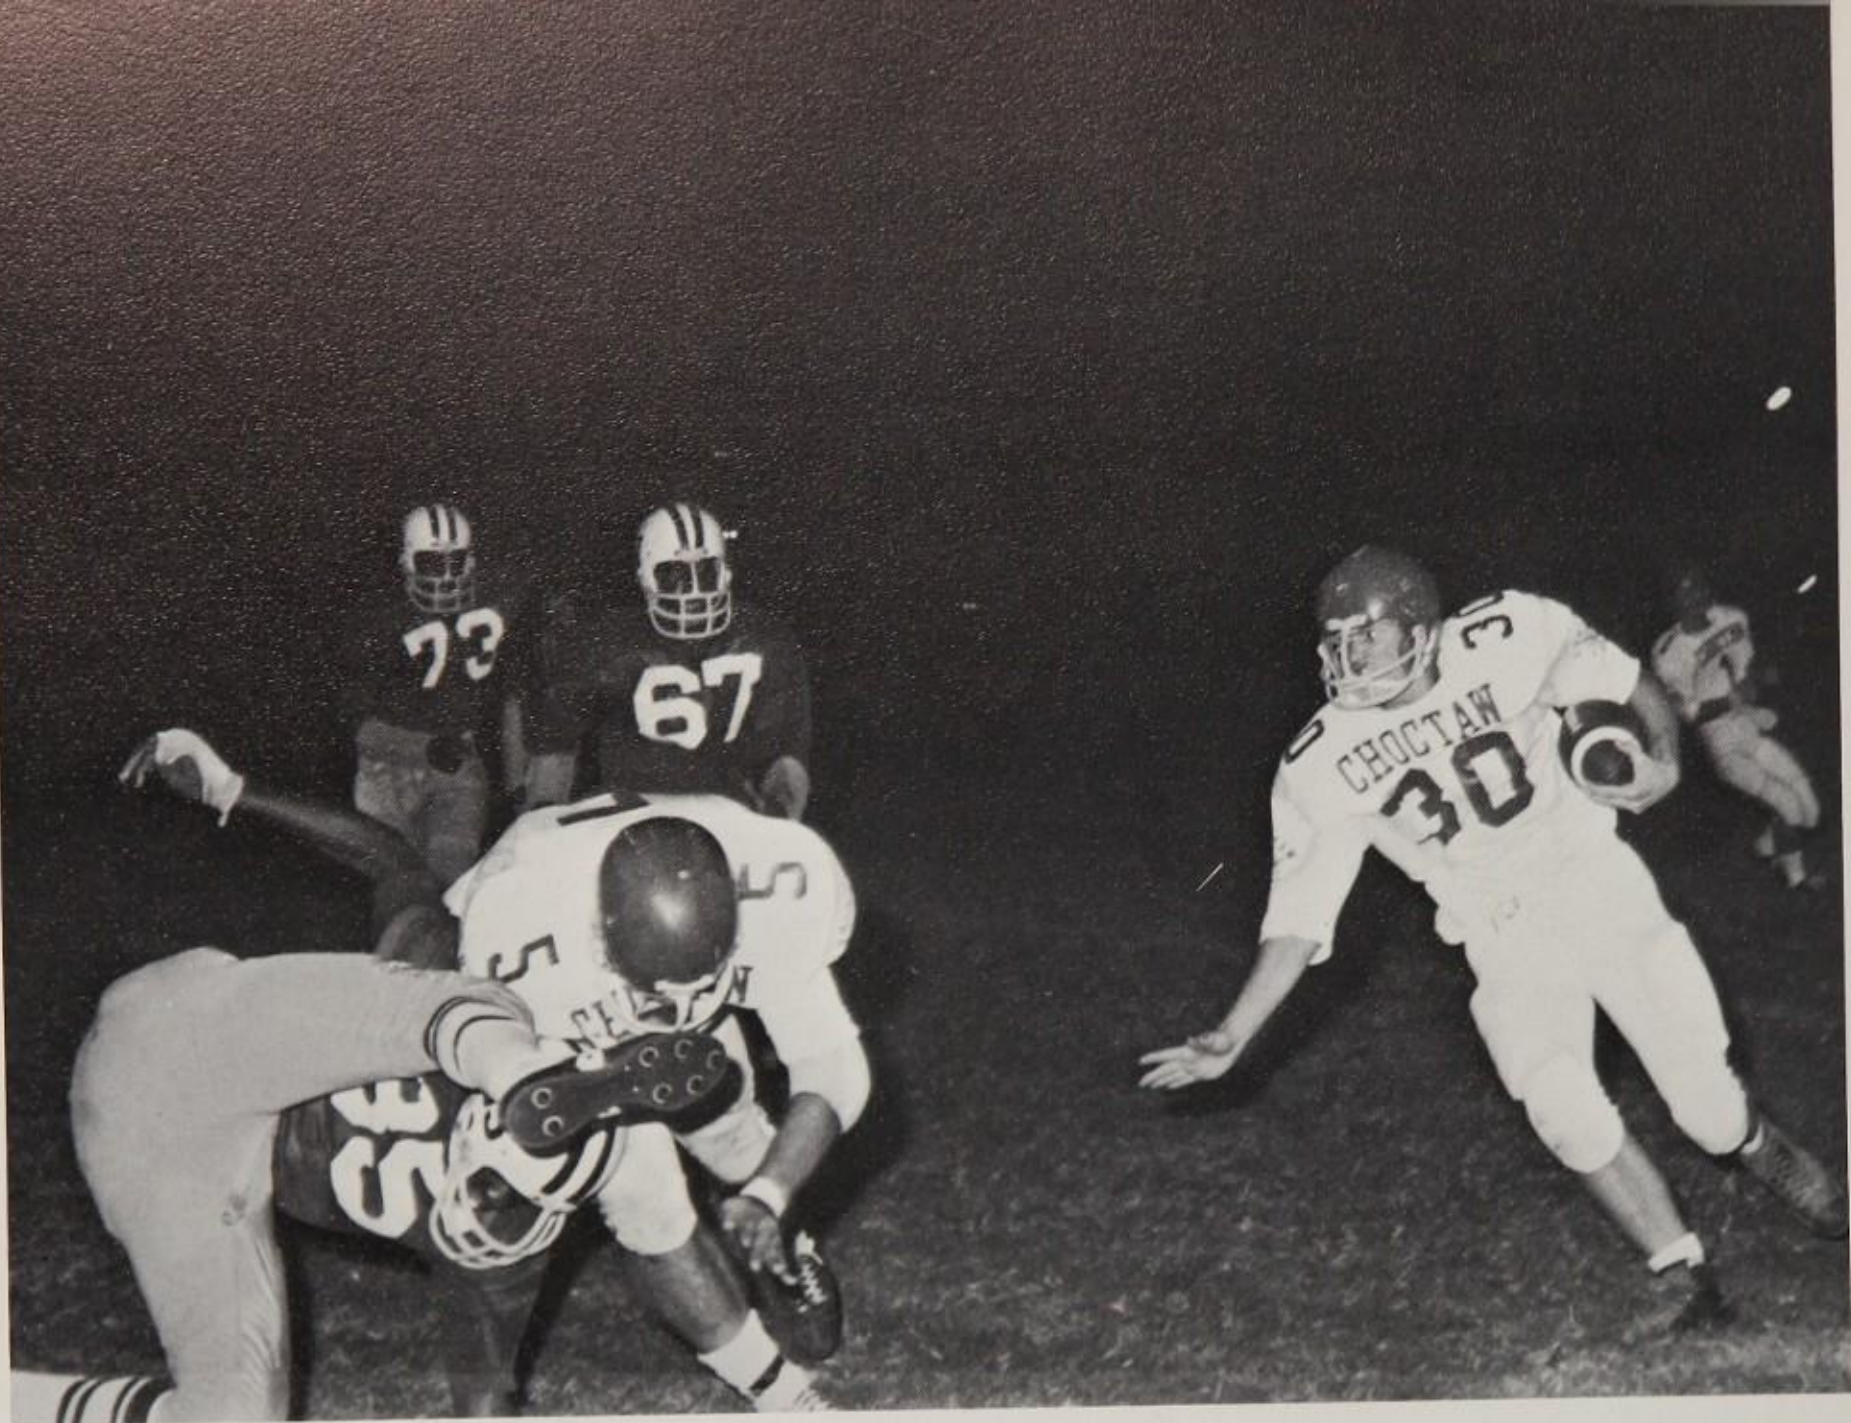

Intercepting, the Titans began an offensive war. Lee clicked and completed his passes. Choctaw's defense reckoned with Lee in the sea of green.

Indians showed marked improvement with a final score of 32-15. A victory leads to another.

"tiger den" jinx a joke; rams rebut indians

Pensacola defended the Tiger den as the Indians met to unlock the jinx of not being able to beat the Tigers in their stadium.

Randy Tribble started as quarterback but was unable to get the score rolling. Joe Bruner, suffering from mono, was sent in to activate the Tribe. He moved the team 97 yards in ten plays.

The defense rose to the occasion as Steve Mills recovered a fumble on the kick off return.

A strong defensive pass rush threw the Tiger quarterback off track. Marvin Chapman intercepted and raced 20 yards for six points. Bruner hit Morry Burgess for the extra point.

A consistent Tiger offense staged a touchdown drive, but Moon took a screen pass on the CHS 45; and with blocks by Pete Kulp, and Chris Simpson, he tallied six points.

The win meant a little extra as the jinx was broken. Complete team effort showed that the Indians had what it takes to win.

The Indians tumbled to a powerful Rutherford edition awakened after five years of hibernation.

Punishing runs of Marvin West invaded Choctaw's defense and allowed the Rams to score first.

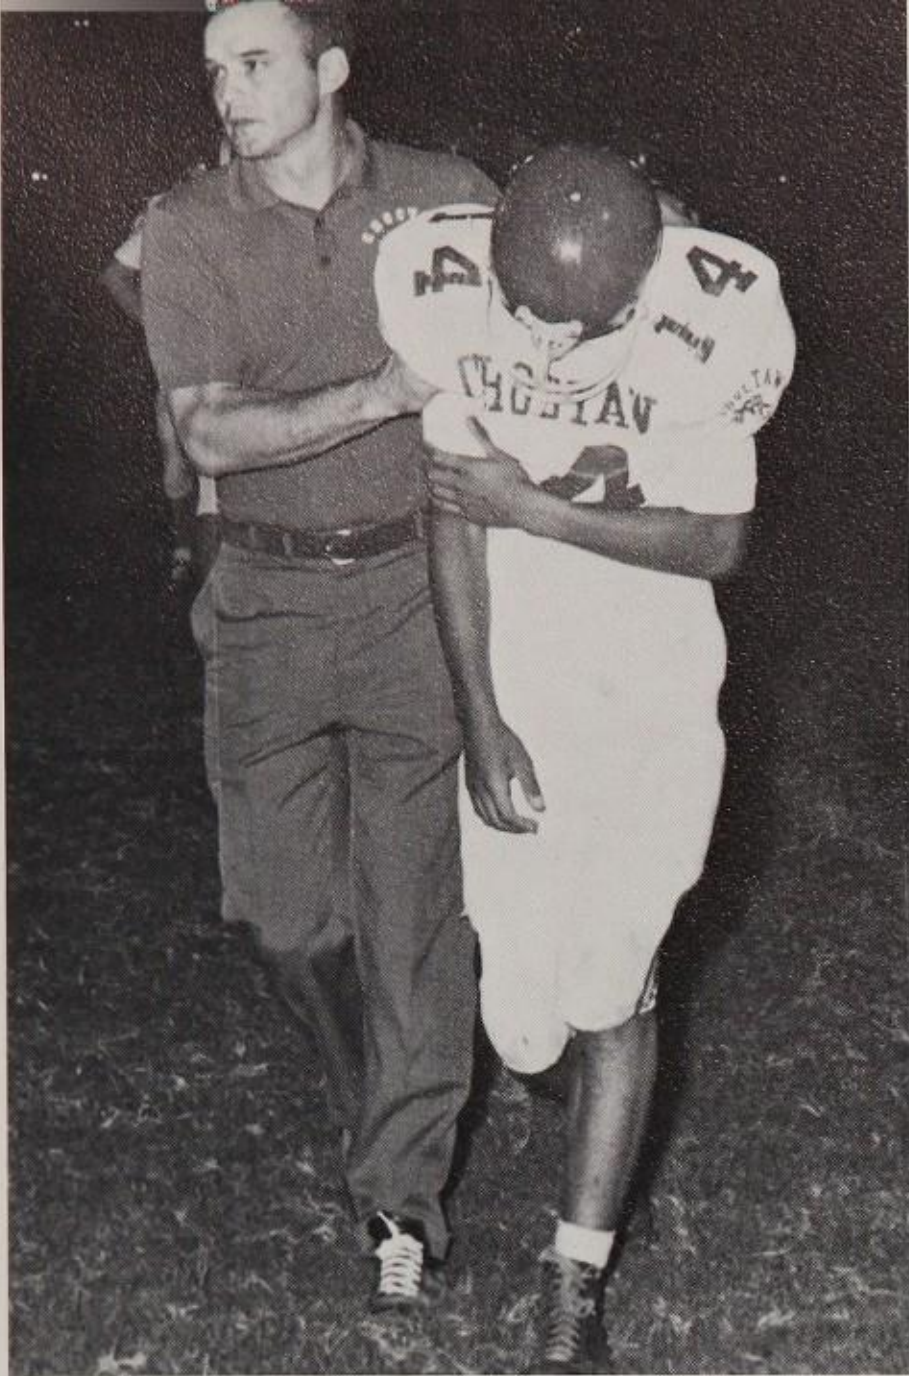

Bruner whisked a touchdown pass to Morry Burgess. The halftime score was 20-7.

A second-half Rutherford team rebounded. The Rams narrowed the gap when they took the kickoff and the score. An interception closed the gap. The final touchdown put them in the lead for good and the Indians on the end for the second time in 15 games.

Middle guard Steve Mills picked off a Rutherford fumble and raced 56 yards for a touchdown. The critical moment—a pall fell over the crowd as Moon was stopped cold in efforts to tie the game.

The scoreboard faced the Indians as the Big Green futilely attempted to gain control in the torturous last seconds while the Rams ran out the clock. Fans and team, "Let's hang tough together."

Indians took to the air on a Southern Airways flight to Crossville, Tennessee. A Choctaw first brought sheer delight as the hospitable Jets rolled out the red carpet treatment for the Tribe and took them under their wings.

Being a no-contest game, the first string offense saw 11 plays. Joe Bruner fired a pass to Rob Spivey and then hit Sherman Moon in the end zone. Wewa Batson ran in for the two point conversion.

Moon then took the ball from the 40 and with full speed ahead, he scored untouched! Batson ran in for the conversion points. Coach Wyman Townsel cleared the bench and the first team unit had seen its final action for the night.

Randy Tribble and Ronnie Kuykendall added touchdowns. Third stanza, Ripp Miller tallied 3 six-pointers. Tennessee fans yelled "Beat Florida."

Indian action rallied on as John Neill blasted over the one. The Jets were unable to muster any comeback efforts to a score of 56-0.

"Indian Pride" remains at home next week at the crossroads of the Choctaw season—Gulfport.

Gulfport was a tough test of Indian power as Choctaw faced the number one team in Mississippi.

During the first half, the fevered Indians matched Gulfport blow for blow. Halftime tallied a zero-zip score.

Indians were on the Gulfport 39 yard line when they picked off an interception and shut the door on the threatening Indians. A costly Tribe fumble set up the Commodore's final and winning score.

The Tribe played to win. Marvin Chapman recovered a fumble, but Gulfport intercepted.

Greg Tarbuck recovered for the Tribe. This time the home team was not to be denied. Sherman Moon went in for six points and the conversion.

rebs massacre at sunset; ritual burial in memorial

Spreading terror through the land, the Choctaw Indians loomed over Escambia Rebels 42-12 during the Tribe's Homecoming.

Sherman Moon, Jim Abbott, and Joe Bruner all hit paydirt in the first half to give the Tribe a commanding 22-0 lead.

Following an Escambia punt into the end zone, the Indians marched 80 yards for the first touchdown.

Brad Bynum recovered an Escambia fumble on the first play and Abbott did the touchdown honors.

Bud Sharon intercepted for Choctaw and brought the ball to the 16. Bruner scored five plays later.

Rebels marched against Chocataw's defense and put six points on the scoreboard.

Choctaw fell on the ensuing kick-off on the Rebel's 48 yard line. Bruner ran the ball 38 yards and Wewa Batson scooted over for a score. Bruner passed to Rob Spivey for the conversion.

Escambia's fourth down yardage failed and Bruner took to the air and completed passes to Moon, Batson, Morry Burgess, and David Jones. Then Jones ended the drive as he snared a touchdown pass.

John Stahr scored in the fourth quarter to wrap up Choctaw's total score. Winning by four touchdowns did spread some terror among the Rebels.

green machine digs tate; aggies yield losing crops

Choctaw waltzed past Tate 47-0 with three touchdowns in the first 5 minutes and 54 seconds. Indians dominated the game offensively and the defense held back any Tate penetration.

Four plays after the kickoff, Jim Abbott burst over the one yard line to cap a 78-yard drive.

Tate took possession of the ball but Marvin Chapman belted the quarterback, forcing a fumble. Steve Mills scooped up the ball on the 15 yard line and dashed in for a touchdown.

Touchdowns of Sherman Moon and Jim Abbott hiked the count 26-0. Second string came into the act as John Stahr scored on a seven yard run.

Quarterback Morry Burgess faded to pass on a fourth down situation, but saw a hole, zigzagged, and hit paydirt. Johnny Simmons kicked the extra point.

With 43 seconds left, Burgess found David Jones wide open in the end zone and fired a touchdown pass.

Going into the Leon game with a 6-2 record, the Indians were out to avenge the Lions at Memorial Stadium.

chs flocks feathered foes for holiday "eagle shoot"

In a dazzling offensive show, the Indians won 40-18 over county-rival, Eagles. Niceville's determined effort was not enough to defeat the Tribe.

Niceville racked up 233 yards in the air and 131 yards on the ground for a total of 364 yards. Choctaw cashed in on a total of 601 yards, 319 on the ground and 282 yards in the air.

Linebacker Sean McCowen set up the first touchdown when he recovered a Niceville fumble. Joe Bruner ran a quarterback sneak for a score.

Midway in the second quarter, Rob Spivey dove for Bruner's pass in the endzone for a touchdown. The same combination clicked for the conversion points.

Niceville broke its three-year scoreless streak against Choctaw with three touchdowns. The Indians forced open a scoring gap with runs of Sherman Moon, Jim Abbott, and David Jones to end Niceville's hopes of defeating the Choctawhatchee Indians.

"lion fever" plagues tribe; wounds of defeat prevail

Before an overflow crowd of 12,000, the Choctawhatchee Indians lost to the state's top-ranked powerhouse, Leon. The Indians had a chance to win, but Mike Norman, Richard Sykes, and a strong defense stifled Choctaw's fired-up spirits.

Following two straight Leon punts, Choctaw moved 48 yards in 13 plays, and Jim Abbott climaxed the drive with a touchdown to take a 6-0 lead.

The ensuing kickoff went into the end zone. The Lion's drove 80 yards for a score. The Lion's driving fever to win prevailed as they scored four more.

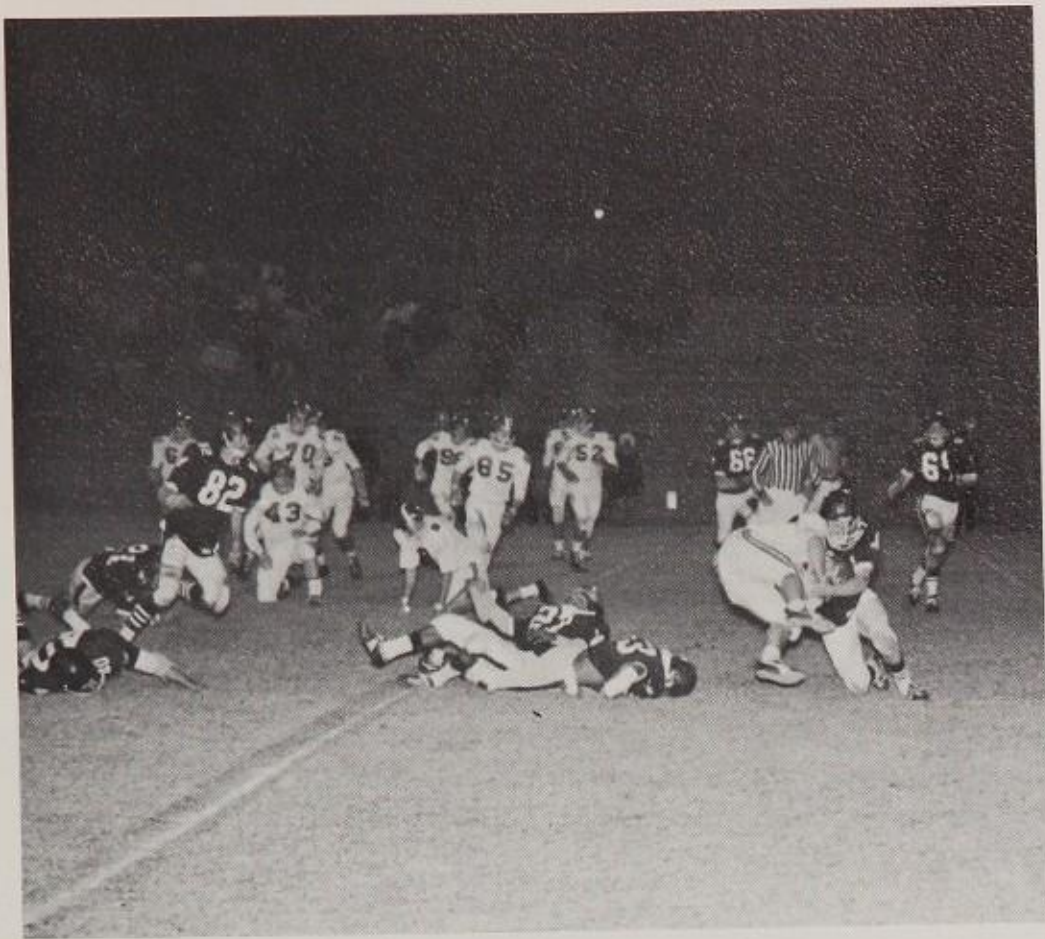

Choctaw scored the first and last touchdowns. Gary Bazzell recovered a Norman fumble on the Choctaw 36. The Indians hopes were almost dashed, but this time the mighty Indians were not to be denied. Joe Bruner fired a 60-yard touchdown to junior David Jones who ran in from the 30 yard line for a touchdown.

With 58 seconds left in the game, Fred Mobley tackled a Leon end to prevent another Lion score and to end the game, a 32-14 heartbreak.

tribe crowns crusaders' conquest in defeat

Choctaw rolled to a 20-0 victory in the first Miracle Strip Charity Bowl game. Quickness spelled out the difference between a physically strong Crusader squad and the Big Green Indians.

Joe Bruner ended an 80-yard drive with a quarterback sneak and passed to Moon for extra points.

On the second-half kickoff, Crusader's Chris Ezzell took the kick but fumbled. Scooping up the ball, Steve Mills dashed in for another score, his third defensive touchdown for the year.

Scoring Choctaw's last touchdown of the game and season, Morry Burgess took a 54-yard pitch from Bruner and ran for 20 yards and 6 points.

Neither the Crusaders' ground nor their aerial attack worked in successfully warding off the Tribe's powerful defensive forces.

Senior running back Wewa Batson earned the game title of "most valuable player" with his offensive plays and more important, his defensive work where he prevented two second half scores.

Sherman Moon was named the "most outstanding back" as he carried 9 times for 18 yards and grabbed 3 passes for 39 yards during the game.

Indians show their pride as two of Choctaw's athletes, Wewa Batson and Sherman Moon, are recognized for their skills.

baby cagers weather all disappointments

Playing the game wild and free, the junior varsity boasted of victories over Crestview and Woodham. A fantastic unity, a will to learn, and the power to hang on overcame their major difficulties. Despite the loss of two starters, Scott Sells and Sammy Robinson, to the varsity squad, and the effects of illness, the cagers did not give up.

In his second year on junior varsity, Danny Andre led the team in scoring. Leading rebounders were Joe Dildine, Mike Bennett and Bennie McMillan. Other teammates Rick Crane, David Short, Tommy Gooch, Rusty Scalberg and Tim Norris all contributed their time and energy towards the improvement of the junior varsity basketball team.

turnabout wins mark hopes for recovery

With the loss of six seniors, Choctaw's basketball cagers never quite reached their team potential. The team unity from the spirited summer practices was lost and never quite regained.

David Jones returned from last year's court to intimidate opponents along with Wade Winslette, Mike Halloran, Gary Atchey, Elbert Madison, Sammy Robinson, David Jenkins, and Scott Sells.

Choctaw's season didn't start off very well with the first games against Leon and Catholic losses. A win against Tate boosted the Indians' hopes for the oncoming season.

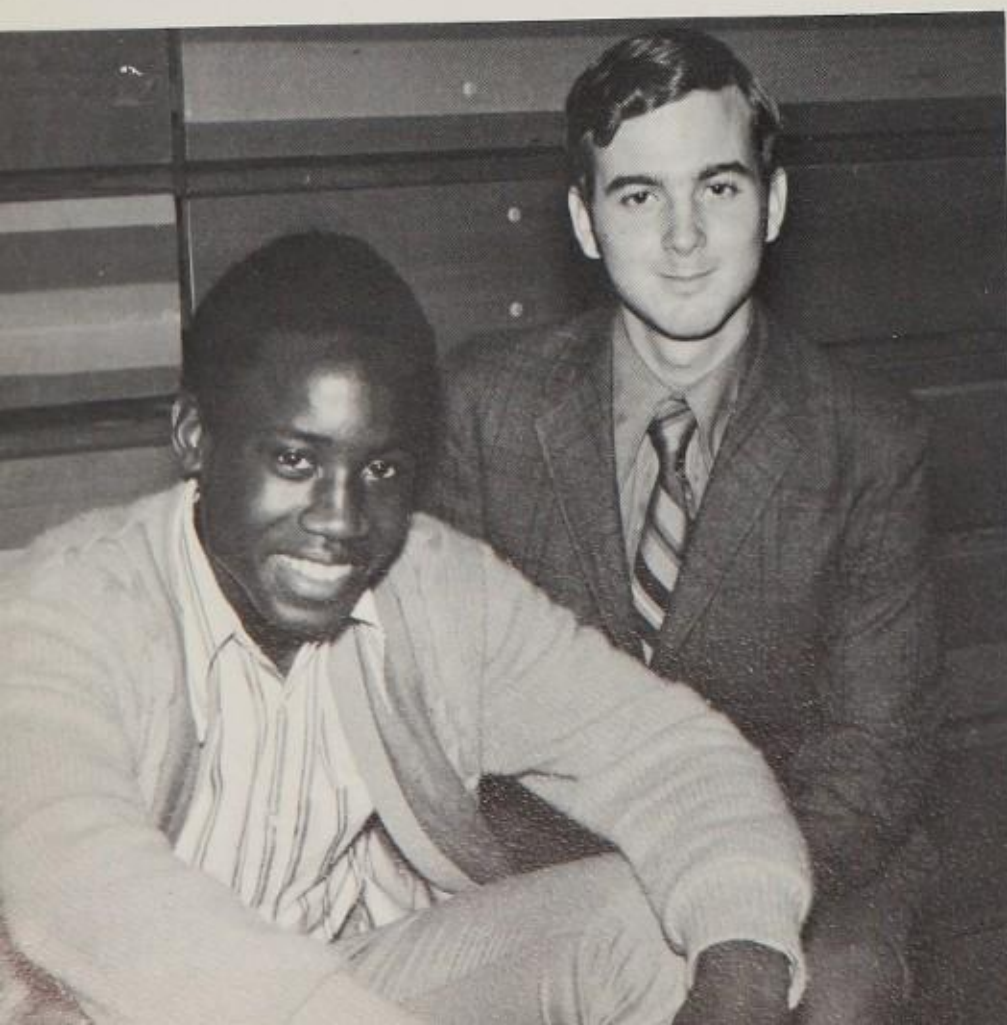

Two wins over Tallahassee Godby and Panama City Bay marked a turnabout from a dismal early season showing to a hopefully better season.

Indians slowly watched a 10 point lead against Godby disappear, as it dropped four points behind. The buzzer sounded with a tied score, 62-62. A climactic overtime suspended even with the 66-66 tie until just seven seconds were left. A foul against Choctaw gave hope to the Tribe's cagers.

Mike Halloran calmly sank two free throws. The Cougars were coming down court until Halloran intercepted and drove in for a layup. Time ran out and Choctaw won 70-66. Top scorers for the night were Madison with 32 and Halloran with 23.

Indians played careful ball control against the fast break offense of Bay for the close win, 59-58. With seven seconds left, Gary Atchey sank the ball for the win. Madison paced Choctaw's scoring with 27 points, Sammy Robinson, 12, and David Jones, 10.

Top scorers in Okaloosa County basketball were Elbert Madison, fifth place, Sammy Robinson, sixth place, Mike Halloran, fourteenth place, and Wade Winslette, twenty-first place.

big green spirit boosters make 'em heap big noise

Using spirit as a theme for this year, the cheerleaders asked each of the service clubs to paint an Indian for the football games. Another project was the painting of an Indian in the gym to boost spirit at basketball games and pep rallies.

A swinging summer slipped in between 6 a.m. practices three days a week for the ten spirit boosters. Each girl took charge of a practice for one week, enabling the squad to pick a captain.

This year brought new cheers, uniforms, and a new sponsor—Mrs. Jennie Hamilton.

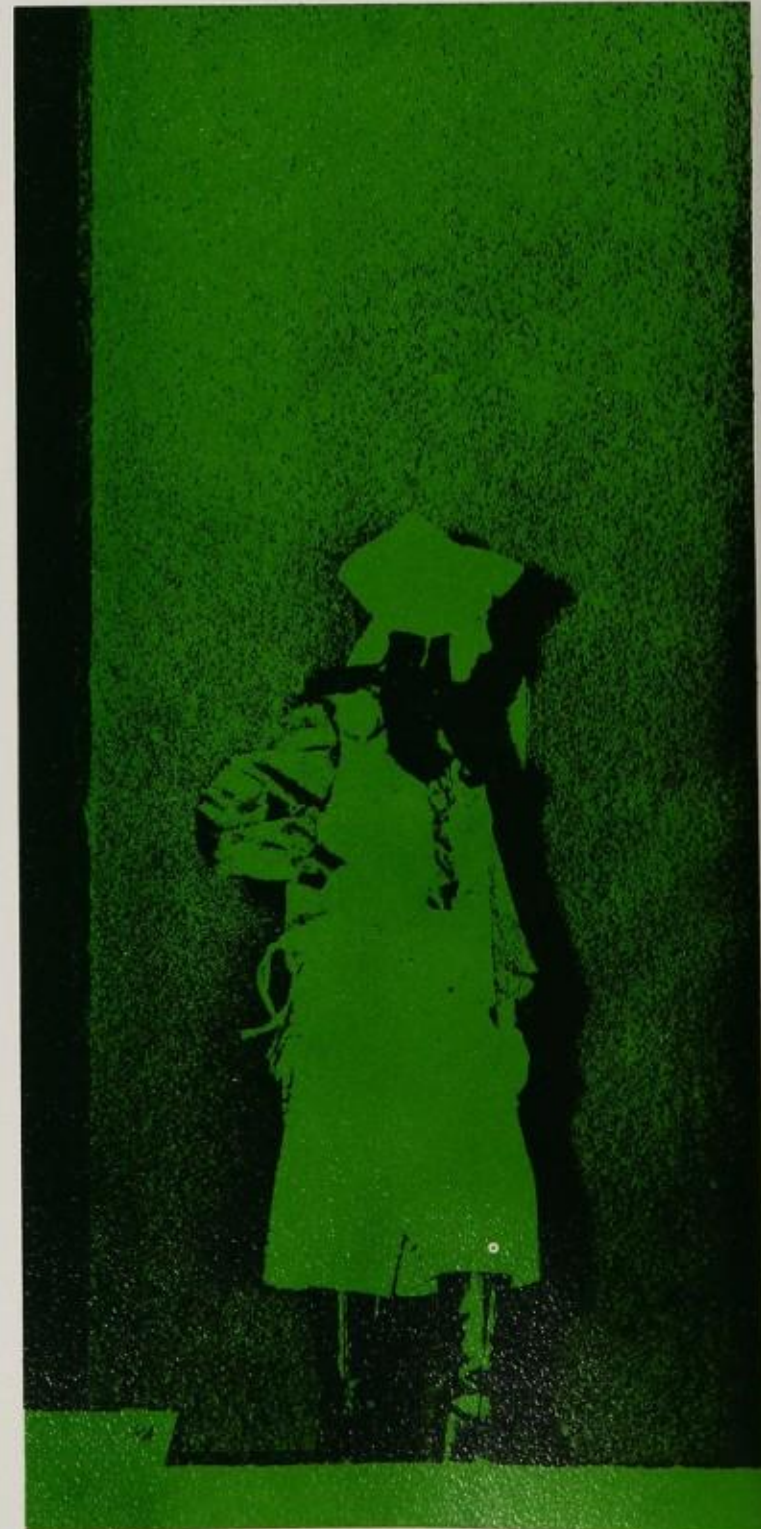

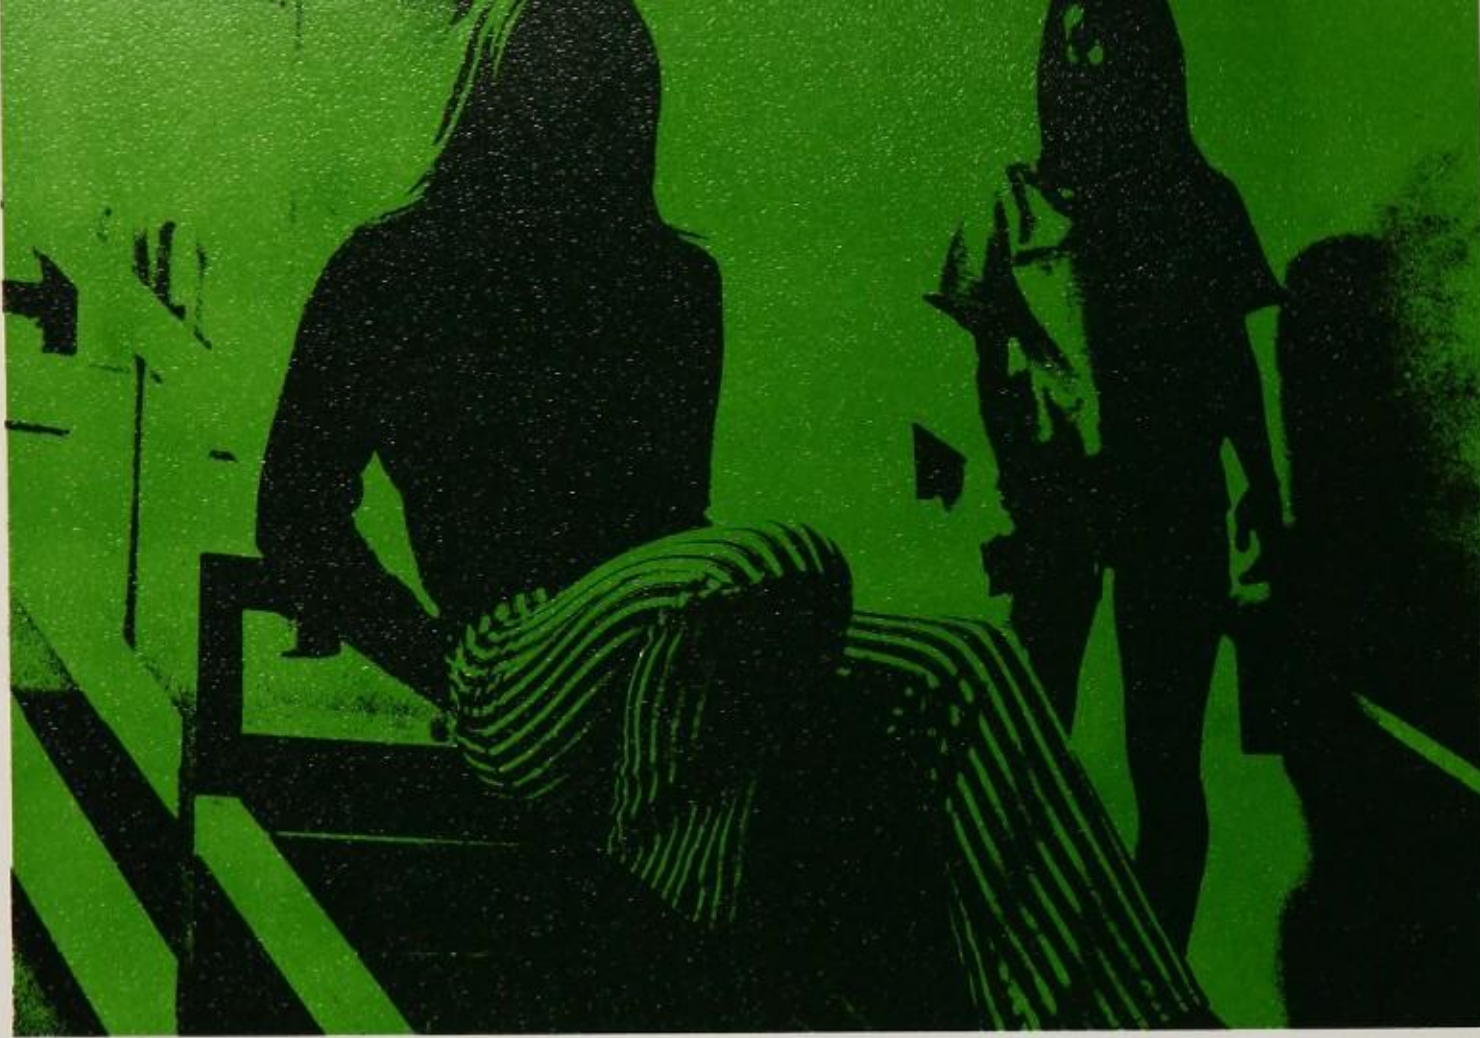

The last day of the school week, Friday, called for carefully planned pep rallies, decorated tables, and special spirit tags for deserving men.

students enjoy life beyond classrooms, too

From September to June, school is the center of student life. But a mild winter of sunny days gave extracurricular activities an attraction with which homework could not compete.

School sponsored events, such as Homecoming in November and the rock concert by the Universal Power and Light in December, were enthusiastically supported. Away from school, students enjoyed Saturday night dates and the fun of swimming and surfing at the beaches.

Recognition was given to those who wholeheartedly gave themselves in the Derserving Dozen. Each class elected their Mr. and Miss while the Seniors chose ten Senior Beauties.

indians spread terror through the land

Festivities of the 1970 Homecoming officially began with a spirited pep rally on Friday morning, October 30. Chief Indian, Pop Marler and Coach Wyman Townsel announced the senior football players as captains for the game that night.

In turn the football team presented the 1970 Homecoming Queen, Debbie White. She was chosen by the team. Attendants elected from each class were also announced by Stuart Maudlin, Student Council president.

Traditionally the parade was held in the afternoon downtown. So that a crowd of 8000 instead of a crowd of 100 could see the parade, it was held around the track before the game. Various clubs and classes submitted floats and cars. Senior Class float and Interact-Wheelette float received highest awards.

Style Marchers provided halftime ceremonies. Debbie White was crowned by last year's Queen, Cheryl Murphy. Class attendants, Debbie Duckette-senior, Faye Dickey-junior, and Chris Raitt-sophomore were presented to the crowds.

Activities came to a close at midnight when the dance in the cafeteria sponsored by the Sophomore Class ended.

Debbie Pond, Janine Gould and Anne Pusch are only a few alumni that could be seen returning for Homecoming events.

classroom boredom ends; weekend begins

Graduation reminds senior Randy Race that a high grade is needed to pass his Contemporary Literature course.

After students spent seven hours in school taking tests, doing homework, and listening to lectures, they began their extracurricular activities which included clubs, jobs, sports, and other amusements.

After school and weekends, the favorite teen gathering place was either Hardees, for fries and a coke, or the beach, for anything from sand skiing to surfing.

Fun was wherever a group of students are gathered. Windy days provided time for kite flying. Warm, winter days were best for a bike ride to the beach or a quick picnic lunch at a public park.

Fun and games were an entertaining part of a student's lives. But fun turned to learning; and learning, in one way or another, is a necessary part of student life.

Enthusiastic sophomores cheer to the popular Green and White chant as they attempt to win recognition over the mighty juniors and seniors during a pep rally.

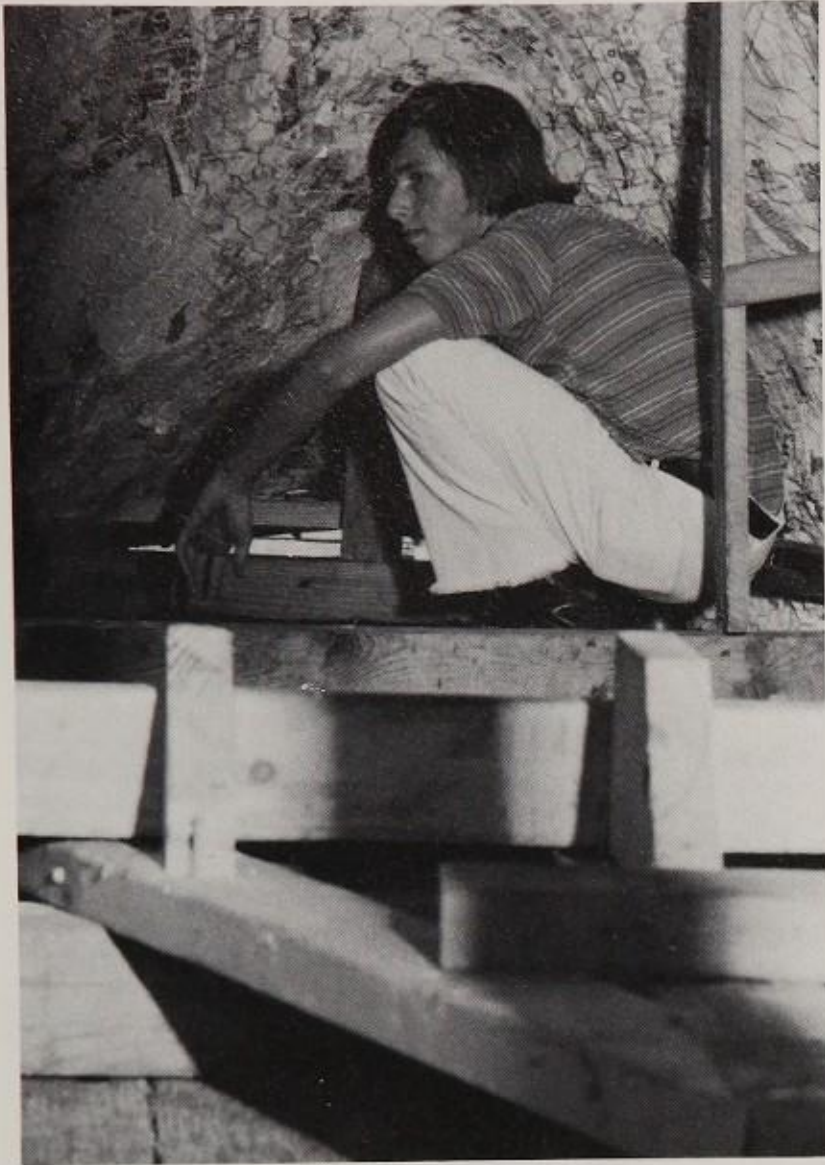

Juniors wear Choctaw's traditional class ring and display the Indian proudly on their hands.

Patti Montgomery rewards Mr. Ed Ward for selling Mr. Jo Bob Stuckey and Mrs. Sara Davis to senior float.

new school causes decreased enrollment

Tommy Gill looks puzzled as he checks the support of the mountain for the senior class float.

Earnest Harper enjoys revealing Penny Haas's measurements for her graduation cap.

Enrollment dropped from 2,100 to 1,750 with the opening of new Fort Walton Beach High School last year.

Seniors started the year off by electing Steve Sparks, president. He led them through many activities including Homecoming, Class Play and Graduation ceremonies.

Juniors took a giant step forward this year with their president George Kleinpeter. Magazine Sales and Concert with the Universal, Power and Light were the main projects to raise money for the Junior and Senior Prom sponsored by the Juniors.

Sophomores followed Donnie Murray, President, as he led them through Homecoming and the Green and White dance, the main projects of the Sophomore Class.

To completely satisfy the juniors and seniors after-game appetites is a trying job for sophomores on the refreshment committee for the dance.

Leading the Seniors through their last year at Choctawhatchee are Alice Smith, secretary; Bob Wright, vice-president; Linda Blachly, treasurer; Steve Sparks, president; and Dorothy Covey, historian.

COMMUNITY LIFE

Local surfers, including many Choctawhatchee students, spend afternoons at Howie's Surf Shop rapping about boards and waves.

Find peace and tranquility through Mother Nature — sunset at Choctawhatchee Bay.

What have they done to my pier? The wheels of progress tear down a pier and with it, memories of long summer days spent there.

Recreation spots provide an ideal atmosphere for intriguing a child's curiosity.

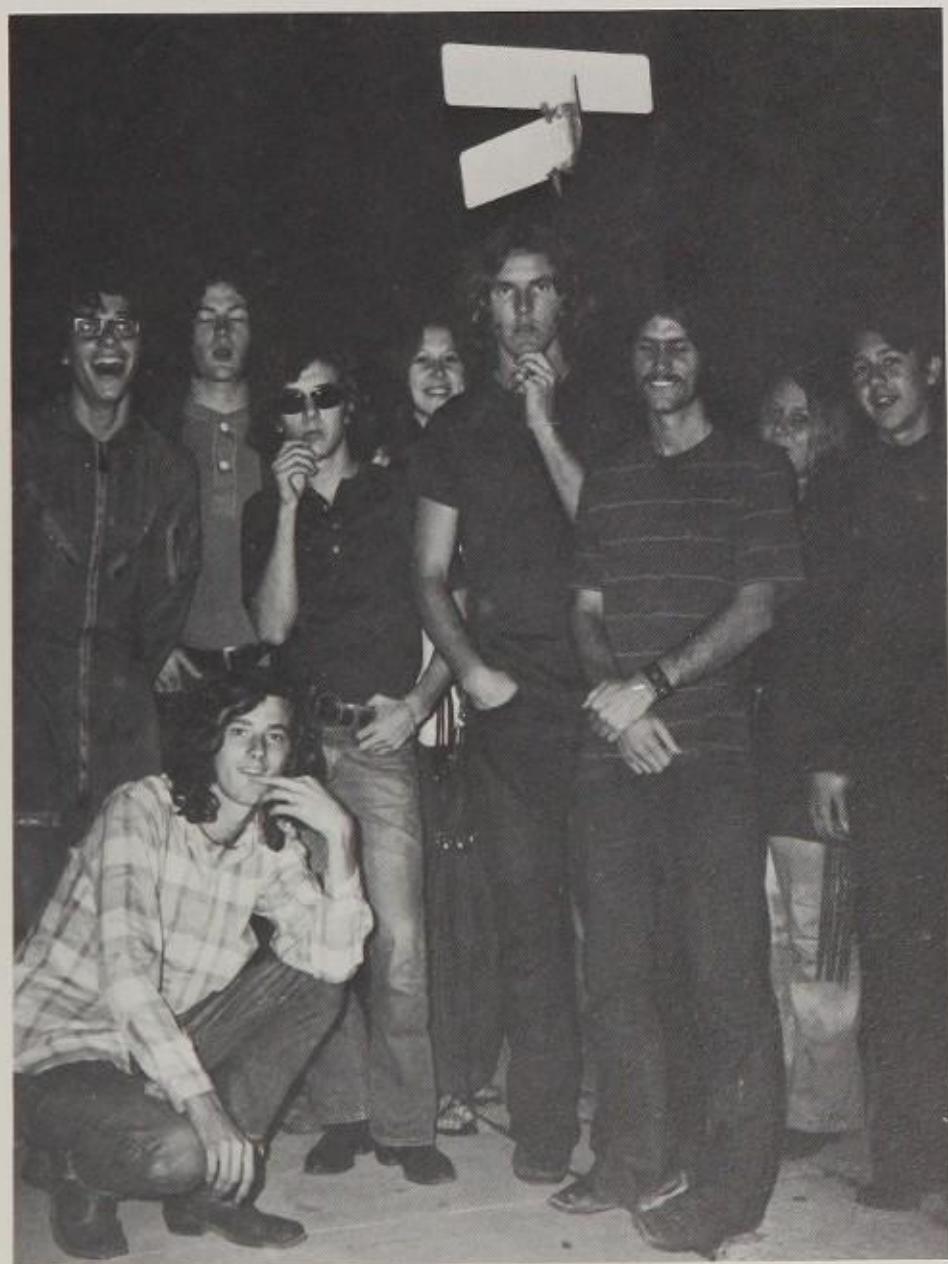

From beginning to end, spiritual guidance can be found at the many churches in Playground Area.

fort walton beckons mother nature's sons

"Born a poor young country boy — Mother Nature's son All day long I'm sitting singing songs for everyone."

Neon lights flash and luxury motels spring up with frequency of the tides. Beal Street, once a two-lane road, gradually transforms into a superhighway.

Eglin AFB and Hurlburt Field pour millions into Fort Walton Beach economy providing the opportunity for new shopping centers to open offering modern conveniences.

Forest areas are leveled making way for contemporary apartments and duplexes. Progress is the name of the game.

Yet, the more Fort Walton Beach changes, the more it remains the same. Nature still controls this city interlaced with bays and bayous, bounded by miles and miles of pure white virgin-fresh beaches and woods flourishing with doves, deer, and ducks.

Knowing that God's creations cannot be out done by man, fighting pollution, showing concern for neighbors, sharing with the less fortunate, and taking pride in our community, this is Fort Walton Beach.

Art, decoupage, and feathers are found at Feather Craft, on Beal Pkwy. Diane Adkison.

Golden Guidance

REPRINTED FROM "POEMS OF MAX EHLMANN"

Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender, be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others — even the dull and the ignorant; they too, have their story. Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans . . . Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism. Be yourself. Especially do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love, for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass. Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. With all its shame, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

Delores,

It has really been great knowing you and being in SHI with you (and SHI!). We have had a lot of fun and good times - and frustrations. You are a very sweet girl and I'm sure you will go far in life. Good luck always - you deserve the best! And don't ever change!

Always,
Loretta Hoover

As this conscientious student discovers, many hours after school are spent each week for completing make-up work and doing extra projects.

Twenty-seven people have given a large part of themselves to TOMAHAWK. I think they are different because of this experience. We hope you, too, may see a part of yourselves in this book.

But no less a part—

Mrs. Florence Graves with her patience and understanding she showed us all year. It takes a strong person to be the head of both a newspaper and a yearbook. She shows a great deal of concern for her students and in turn they show appreciation to her.

Stones Studio for taking all the underclass pictures.

Lorri Studios for making the senior portraits and for enduring all the last-minute planning with a smile.

James Waites and Don Hurd for being there when we needed them to meet those nerve-racking deadlines.

Mr. Robert Horn for all the interruptions we caused in his classes and for always being so cooperative.

Mrs. Ila Dudley for always being there when we needed the school opened on those last minute rushes.

Mrs. Ernestine Wilmot for juggling our funds.

Mr. Jerry Foote of Pensacola Engraving for the wonderful photograph on the last page.

Mr. Morris Kenig, Mr. Aden Sowell and Keys Printing Corporation for being so patient with us this first year.

And last but not least, I want to thank Mr. H. A. Bruner for understanding how much it takes to put an annual together.

Sincerely,

Pat Demski

Mrs. Catherine Barrow presents Beth Jordan with a token for her outstanding achievements in Home Economics.

"The Death and Life of Larry Benson," was dramatically portrayed by a cast of thirteen seniors.

First, third, and second place winners, respectively, in the Library-Folk Club Talent Show demonstrated musical abilities to the audience.

spring time sun rivals scholarly activities

Sun-filled days and swinging spring weather hampered school activities as students took off to the beach.

Drama versus Comedy? Both rated well within the student, parent filled audience.

Awareness of life and beauty inspired a group of ecology-buffs to present a dramatic warning to the community. Earth Day II proceedings were led by Andrew J. Kinney, (Maj. Gen. USAF ret.), Mr. Sam Smith, history, and by Mrs. Jane Brock, chemistry.

Second Semester sports participants held an athletic banquet for the first time in Choctaw history. Letters and awards were presented after the potluck dinner.

Grecian Gardens held the promise of Queenly Glory for three Choctaw beauties. Miss Sande Hall captured the coveted title of Miss Choctawhatchee High School.

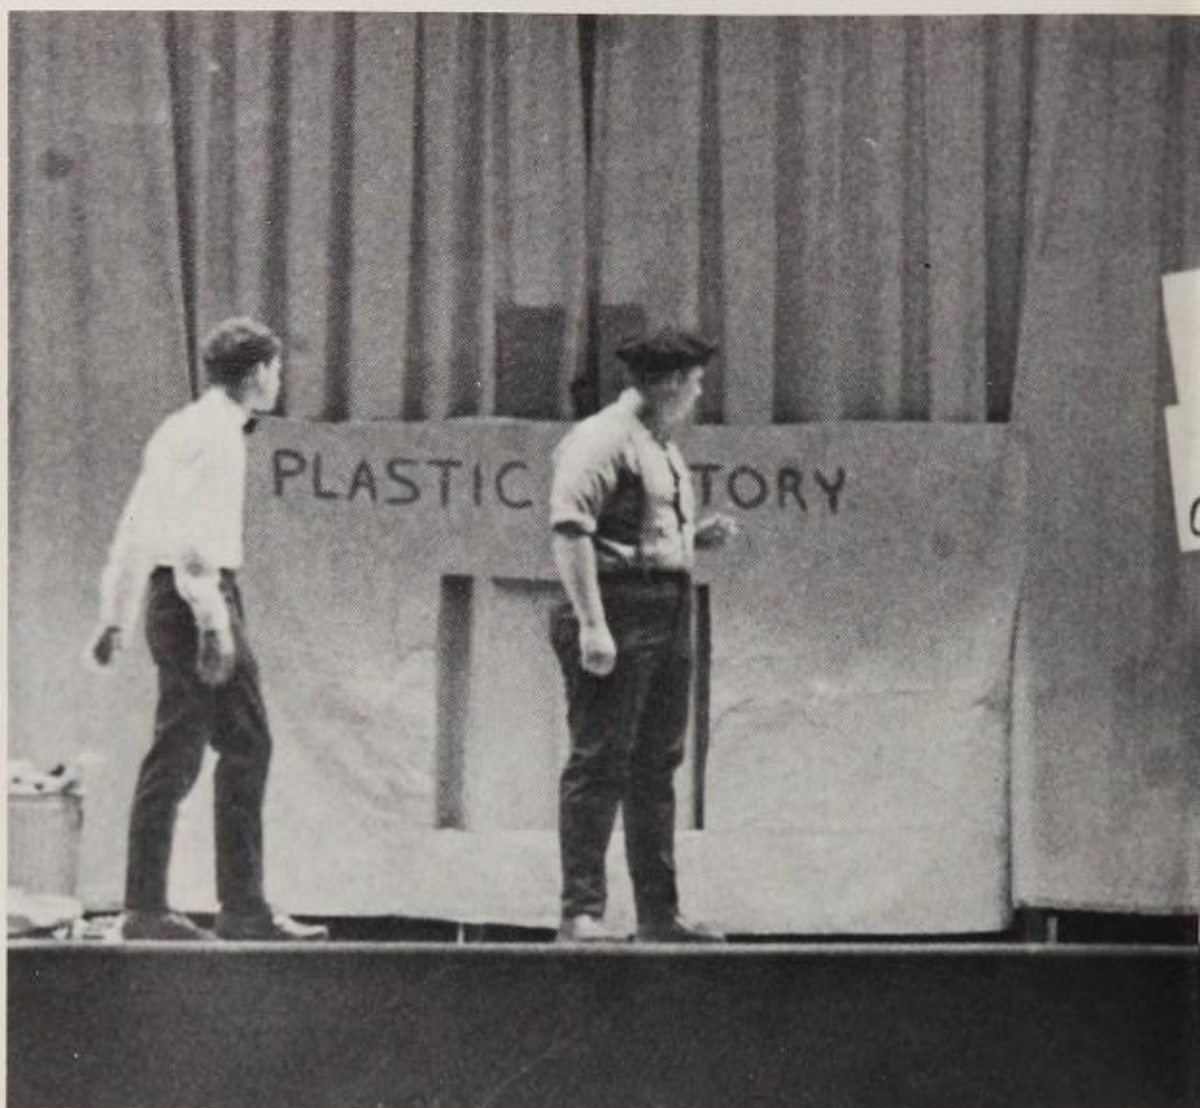

Sports opened a wider world of athletic competition for girls. GAA challenged the Girls' Service Clubs in the annual powder-puff football game. Softball enthusiasts represented Choctaw in County Competition.

Li'l Abner was brought to life by the Choral Department. Approximately 165 people helped in the production of this musical.

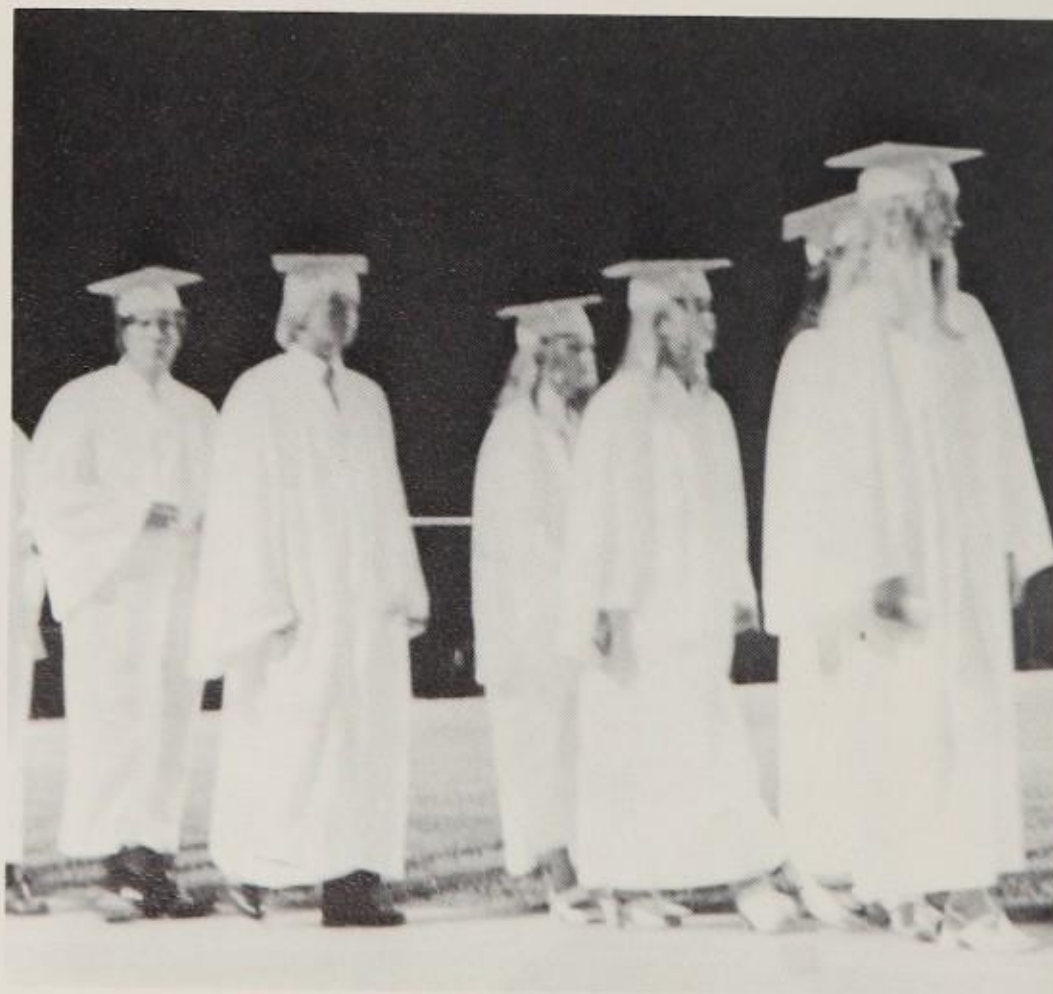

Paper flowers, fancy french furniture, and sweet sounds of music beckoned young couples to visit the "Enchanted Gardens." Prom-time pictures featured smiling faces, and tightly clasped hands as students took a magical mystery tour through a heavily disguised gymnasium and cafeteria.

Graduation night ended twelve years of school for 640 seniors. Choctaw's largest Senior Class looked ahead to a future more promising and eventful than any other generation could even imagine.

Faculty members remained behind to tie the loose ends of the school year together. So ended another year at Choctaw.

Apathy, money, and a failure to face reality were the reasons for pollution shown in Earth Day II proceedings.

Amidst tears, giggles, and friendly joking, 640 proud seniors lined up to receive their diplomas.

With the welcoming of a new basketball coach, new activities appeared such as the Green-and-White Basketball game.

Service Clubs team, in an effort to score against the GAA team, managed to gain some yardage, but was not able to score the entire game and lost 14-0.

three winners add to fountain of beauties

Singing "Three Coins in a Fountain," contestants christened the debut of a Spring Spectacular evening of entertainment and competition. Sande Hall reigned as this year's Miss Choctawhatchee High School.

Spotlighting the talents were little girl monologues, oral interpretation of poems and ballet. These were rehearsed for a week preceding the pageant.

Personal interviews were held by the five judges during a get acquainted tea in the library prior to the contest.

Moments of elation and relief came when Sande Hall was crowned by last year's Miss C.H.S., Susan Scrivner. Georgia McClure, first runner-up, and Patti Montgomery, second runner-up, joined Sande as this year's three winners in the fountain of Choctaw beauties.

Choctaw Stage Band presented entertainment for the Beta Club sponsored event.

Overjoyed and enthusiastic, Sande Hall receives a hug from Debbie Williams after just being crowned Miss C.H.S. for 1970-71.

Joining Sande in the fountain of Choctaw beauties are Georgia McClure, first runner-up and Patti Montgomery, second runner-up.

Bonnie Brinkman highlighted the talents with her Pink Panther skit.

Girls were introduced to the audience in their formal attire. Behind stage they show their enthusiasm by smiling and clapping.

Just before the big event of the night, contestants got acquainted with the five judges at the tea. This was held in the school library.

identity revealed -- family brought together

"The Death and Life of Larry Benson," a serious contemporary play about a boy coming home from war after three years, was presented by the Senior Class in March.

Ernie Beasley portrayed the emotional boy who mentally became Larry Benson. Conflicts occurred among members of the Benson family concerning the true identity of the boy. The family was brought together after they learned to love and accept the boy.

Leading parts included Liz Brazel as Freda Benson, David Levoy as Sam Benson, and Judy Douglas as Jessie Benson.

In finding out the true identity of the boy, Freda and Sam Benson also learn of their own son who was killed in battle.

Little things Larry used to do bring memories to Jessie and Freda Benson.

agatha's mystic power intrigues audience

Joan O'Hara (Brenda Weekly) places a hand on her husband Duff (Andy Corbin) as she talks to a friend about her maid.

"All Because of Agatha," Junior Class play, took the audience to a world filled with fun and mystery.

"All Because of Agatha" is a story about a witch who returns to Salem each year. After being burned at the stake in the eighteenth century, she swore to haunt a house in Salem. Agatha's curse was to use her witchcraft in order to keep the house clear of mortals.

When she returns one year, she finds the O'Hara's in the house. The O'Hara's find out that Agatha is supposed to haunt that house, so they have a party the night Agatha is to return. Agatha plots to get rid of them one by one. The O'Hara's find out about Agatha's plan and start repeating Latin verses. Finding one that aggravates Agatha, they continue to repeat it until Agatha and the curse disappear.

Fran Mixon played the dramatic role of Agatha Forbes. Other prominent parts included Brenda Weekly as Joan O'Hara and Andy Corbin as Duff O'Hara.

Sponsors for the play were Mrs. Mary Ready and Mrs. Virginia Graves. Diane Dickman was student director and Richard Bledsoe was stage manager.

traveling kentuckians crushed by indians

Big Green Indians slammed through the year with 8 wins and 12 losses. Falling behind near the middle of the season didn't break the Green Machine's spirit. They made a spectacular come back at the season's end.

Two of their better games were Manual and Owensboro, who came down from Kentucky to carry back losses. In the Owensboro game Choctaw was 6 behind but came back in the last inning to win 8 to 6.

Some of the last games of the season were won for ailing Coach Pitts who was out for knee surgery. During his absences Coach Christie took over his coaching duties.

Two All-Tourney winners this year were Bill Harrison and David Touchstone. All-state players were first team, David Touchstone and second team, "Wewa" Batson.

At the Leon game David Touchstone steps forward to slam the ball hoping that this one might be a winning homer.

Coach Fred Pitts watches the baseball team execute plays they have practiced and can now skillfully perform in the game against Leon.

Mike Allmon concentrates on strategy against the Owensboro team before the game while he puts on his catcher's equipment.

Eddie Murray hears the call of strike as he swings at the ball. But this doesn't hinder his next attempt, which helped Choctaw to beat the Manual team.

players keep in shape with their daily tee

Tee time for the champions of the Big Five Conference occurred every day at 1:20 p.m. FWB's Municipal Golf Course kept each of the 11 boys in shape for their matches.

Breaking a school record, all girls qualified for the state tournament held in Tampa. Susan Steiner (captain), Elaine Dudley, Janet Brock, and Sherri Mitchell put all their effort into ranking Choctawhatchee's girls fifth in the state.

For the second time in three years, the boys' varsity went to the State Tournament. While there, Bob Howerter, Charlie Ferdon, Doug Long, Tim Morgan, and Shawn Mitchell ranked their team thirteenth out of the 19 teams which participated in the match.

Tim Morgan and Bob Howerter, captain, take time out from their golf match for a coke break and a conference on golf techniques.

Stan Wildermuth puts all he's got into his drive.

While at the state tournament held in Tampa, Janet Brock finds it necessary to chip out of the rough onto the green.

Topped with her good luck hat, Elaine Dudley admires the display of first place trophies while at the meet in Tampa.

Girls' Golf Team — Susan Steiner, Rita Echols, Elaine Dudley, Janet Brock, and Sherri Mitchell.

tribe's teams finish strong at tournament

Undefeated boys and a winning girls' team advanced to district finals before ending their season. Finishing higher this year than in previous years, at the district tournament held in Jacksonville, was the highlight of the 1970-71 tennis season.

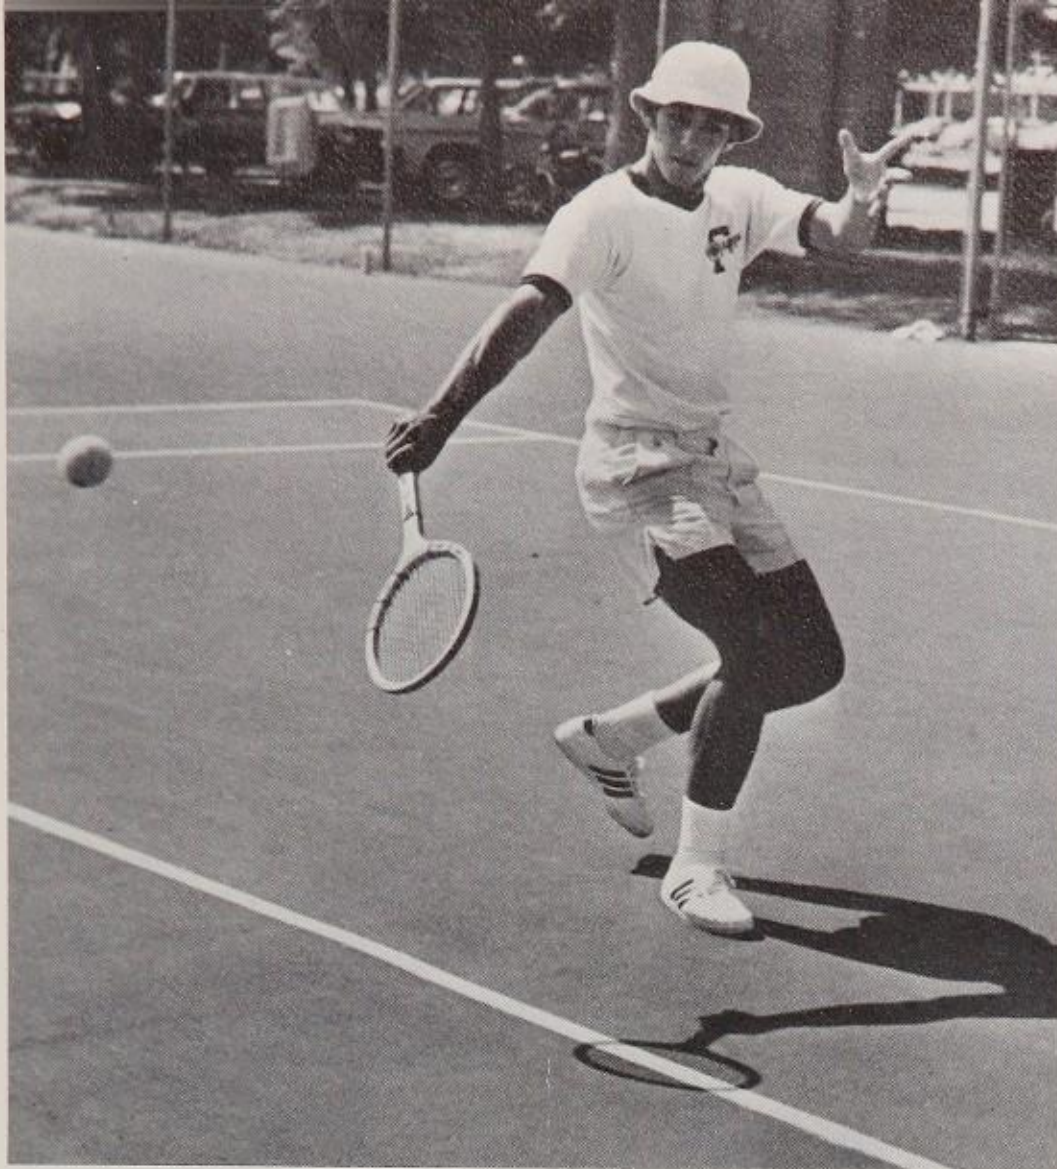

Boys placed fourth in the district while the girls' team finished tied for ninth place. Ronnie Maher also gained individual honors by winning second place in the fourth division of the finals.

Captains, elected before the beginning of the season, were seniors, Vince McQuillen and Linda Pennington.

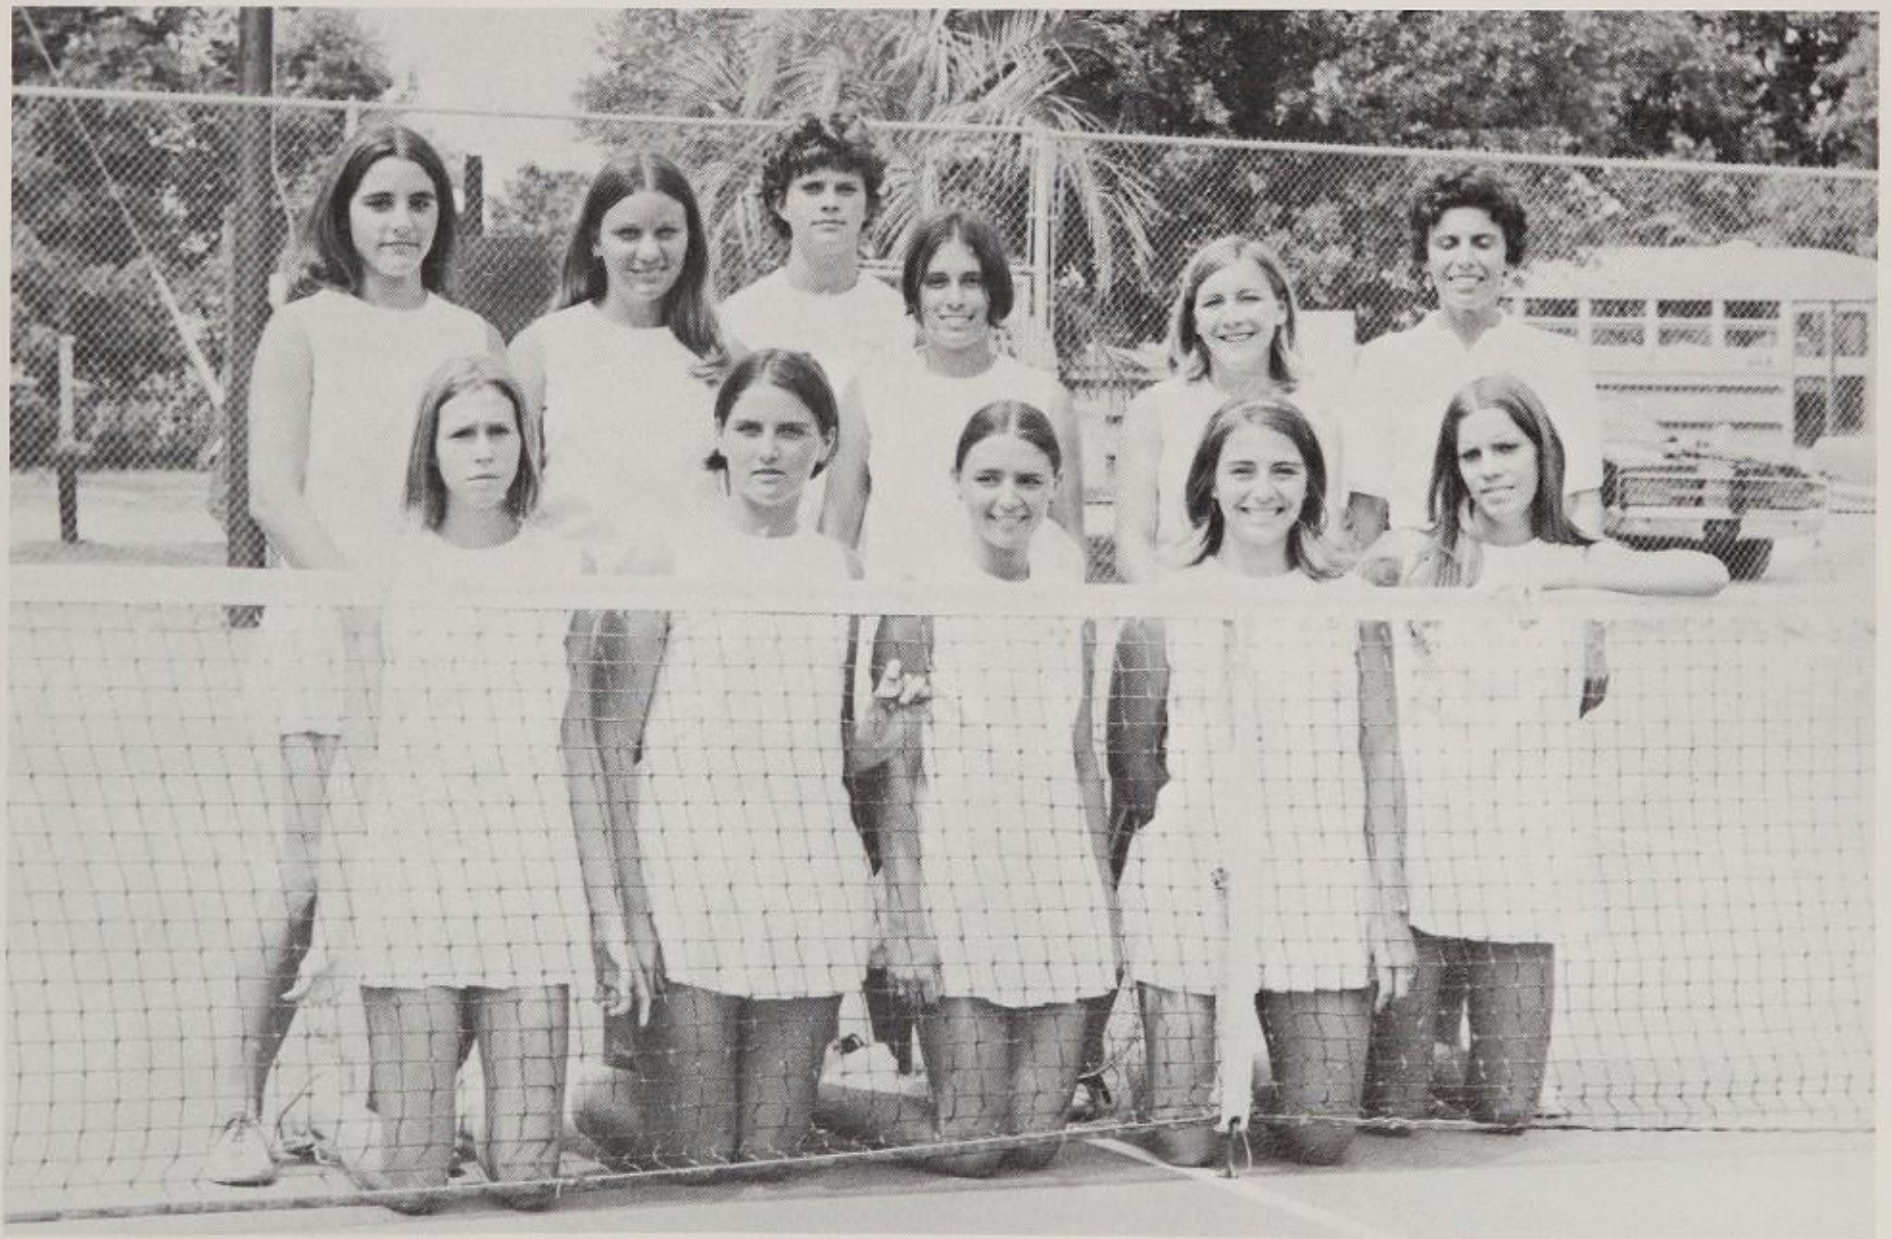

Strenuous exercise and practice throughout the year helped to increase the potential of the Green Machine's tennis effort.

Junior Jeff Williams returns the serve and exhibits his best form while qualifying for the state tournaments.

Tonya Nunes uses her forceful backhand to prevent a Tate victory during the 1971 season.

Van Ingalls, Linda Pennington — captain, Tonya Nunes, Rosa Talbot, Kathleen Smith, Mrs. Honey Huston — coach.

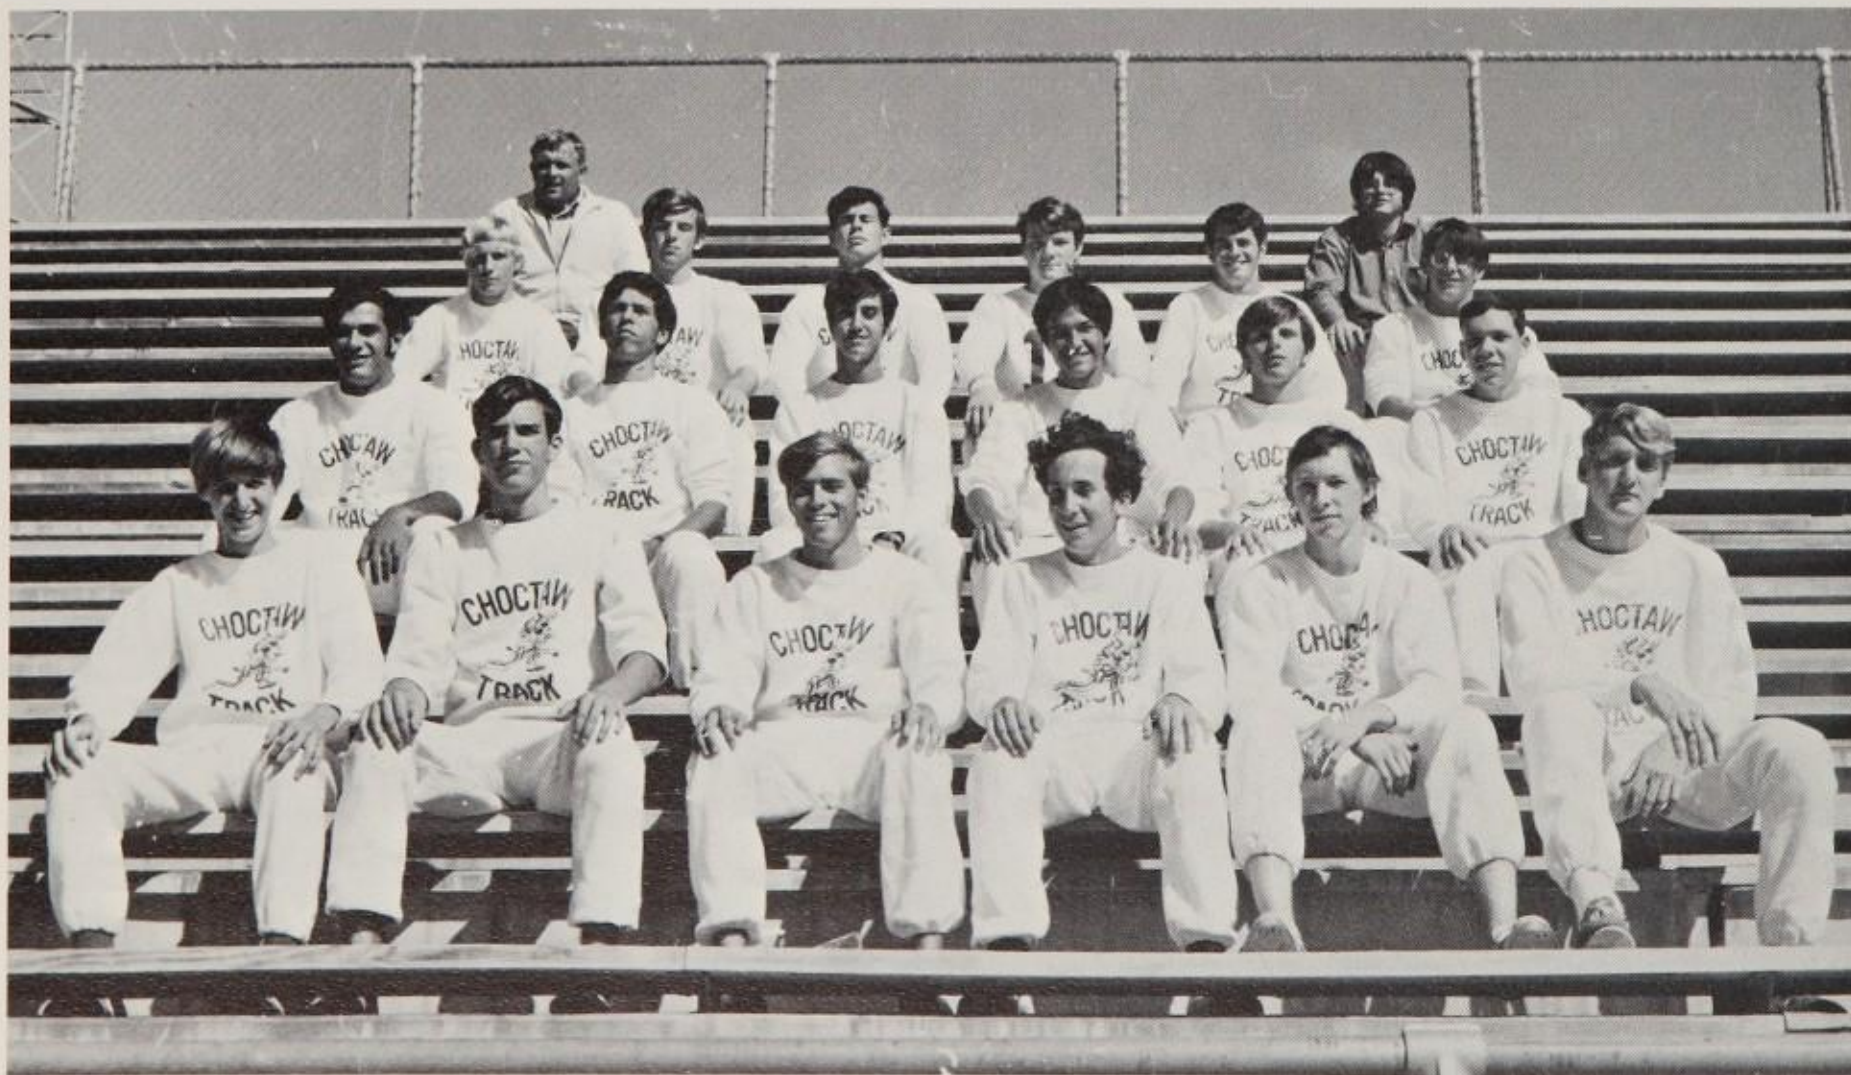

Paul Brown needs his last bit of strength to help him cross the finish line.

Relay team members Bob Stone, Steve Risher, Brad Bynum, and David Jones practice hand-offs before a big meet.

road runners schedule race to regionals

Behind the scenes of a track meet is a supporting cast of coaches, team managers and scorekeepers.

Dashing their way into another season of track, the road runners attended meets throughout the district. At these meets they witnessed and participated in events such as shot put, 440 dash, and the mile run.

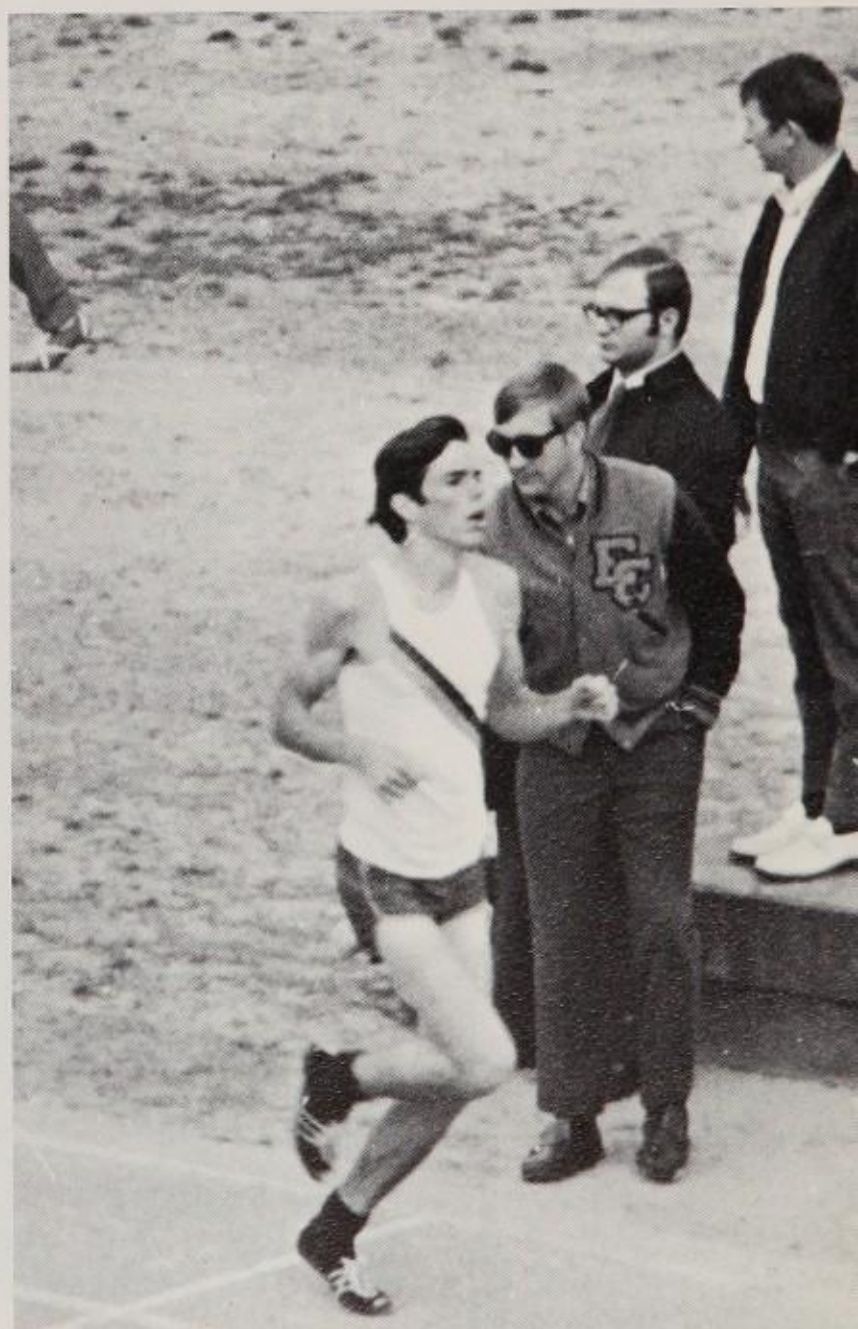

Four boys, Danny Mayo, Steve Bench, Roger Powell, and Frank Herty represented Choctaw at the Regional meet in Tallahassee. There Steve Bench placed second in both the discus and the shot put events.

Two track and field records were broken. Steve Bench hurled a discus 154 feet which topped the old mark of 148 feet, 6 inches set last year. Sherman Moon also destroyed a previously set record of 22.4 in the 220 yard dash. He sprinted it in a record timing of 22.2 seconds.

Senior Steve Bench competed in the State meet in Timber Lake. He was accompanied to the event by Coach John Christi and by Coach Jack Blutworth.

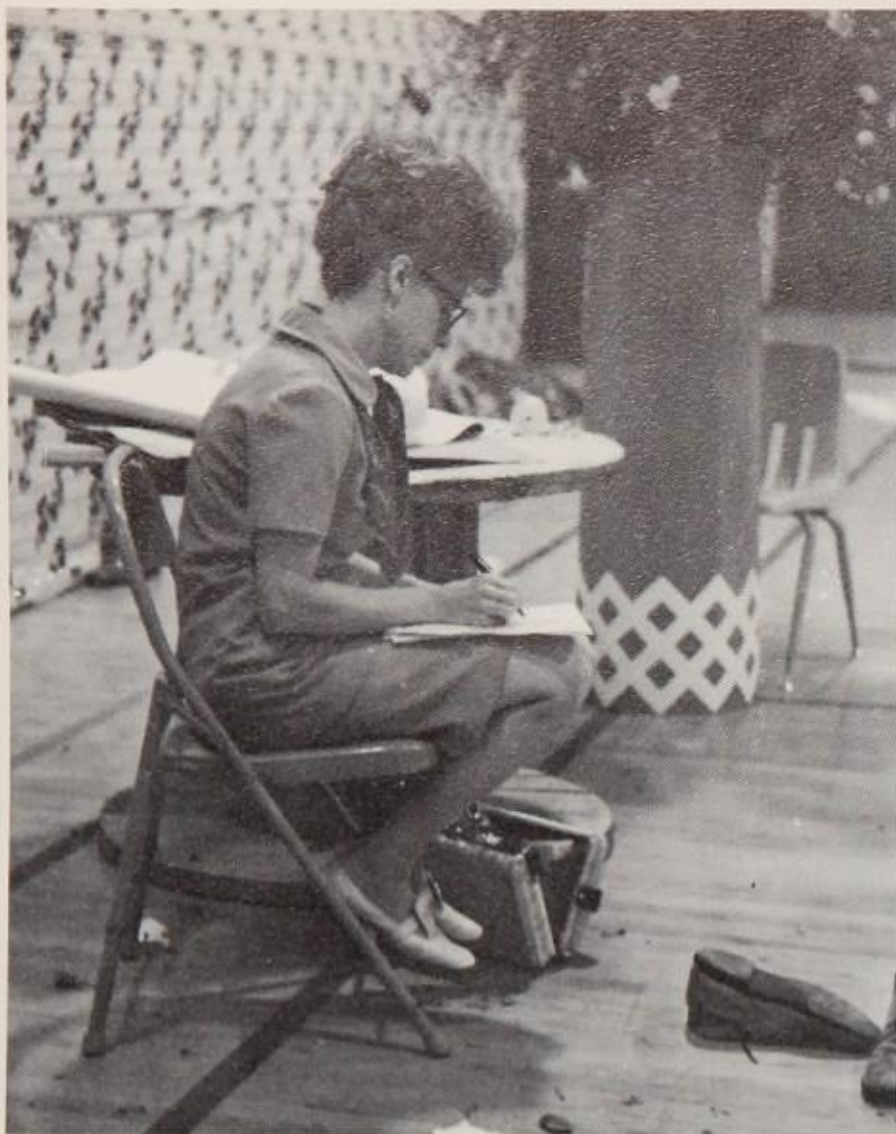

Bob Stone noses his opponent out of first place by stepping over the finish line a split-second ahead.

A puffing Byron Montgomery mentally computes the number of laps he has completed.

Mrs. Eleanor Head, junior class sponsor, grades papers while supervising students working on prom.

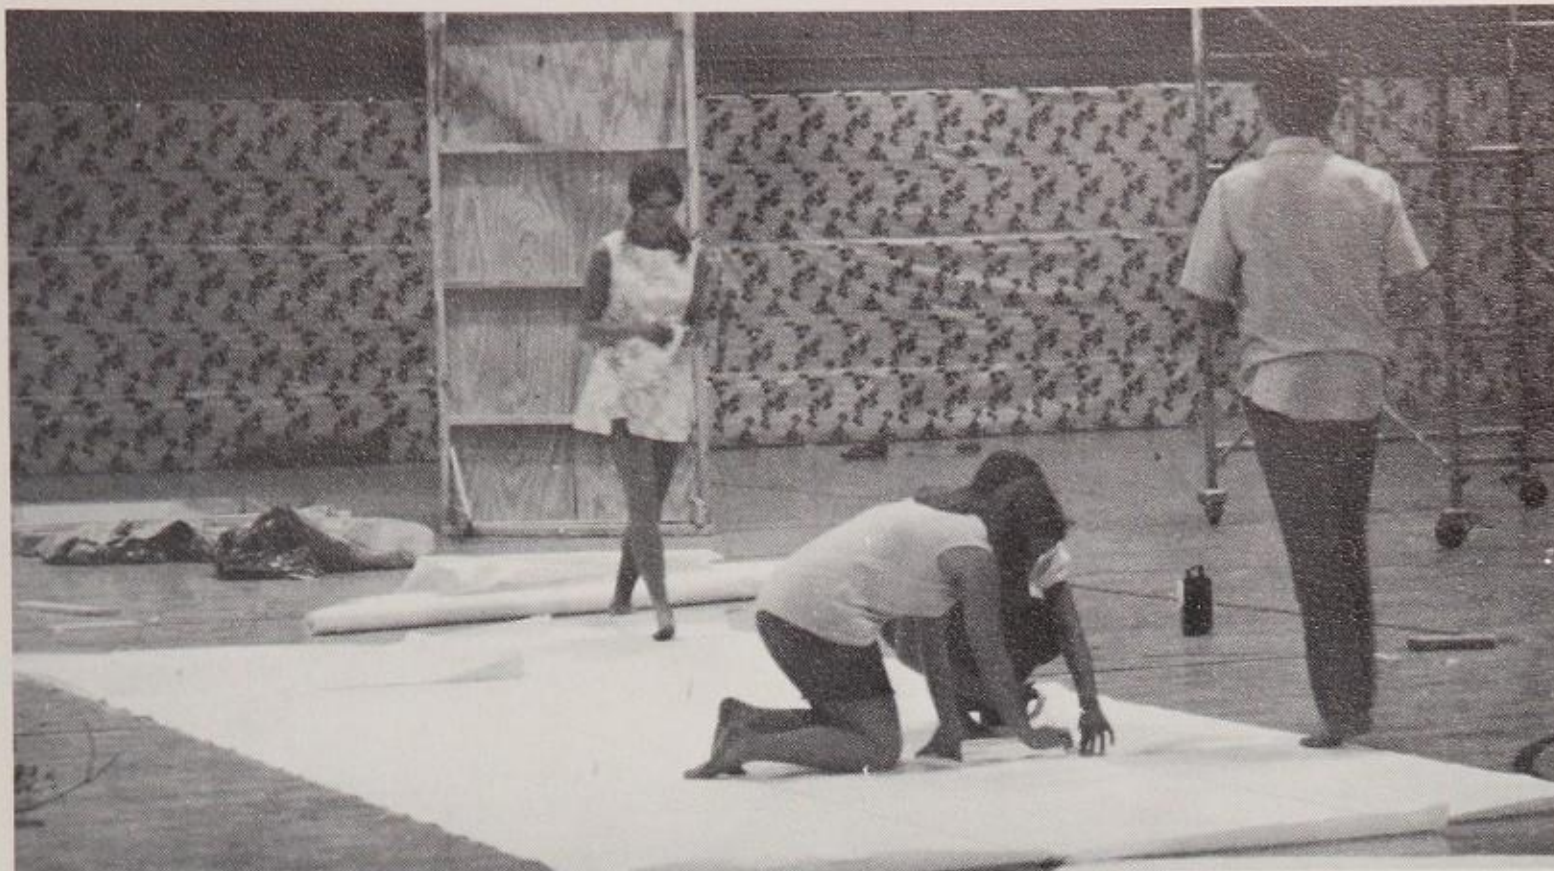

Judy Bosnake pauses to look at the bumble bee she has painted for the Flower Shoppe used at prom.

Judy Bosnake, Cheryl Fields, and Kathy Bowman mix paint in preparing the Flower Shoppe which displayed paper flowers that were sold at prom.

Steve King and Debbie Brown watch as Judy Bosnake sketches the pictures for a mural before painting it for the Junior-Senior Prom.

Entering through the arches of the decorated halls, Clay Reeves and Wade Winslette begin their prom night in the "Enchanted Garden."

Apple blossom trees, wishing wells, fountains flowing with refreshing punch, bridges crossing babbling brooks, walls hidden with murals and myriads of flowers helped to create the "Enchanted Gardens" that marked Choc-taw's 1971 Prom.

Costumed in beautiful new gowns and striking tuxedos, couples displayed an image in which old friends were smiling strangers.

Music was provided for the dance by the "Classic Symmetry" playing amid a collage of bright and colored lights.

Lynn Abbott and Rob Spivey find that a kiss is the perfect way to end the first part of Prom weekend.

Couples move from the gymnasium to the cafeteria for refreshments, served by Sophomores, and a chance to sit down and talk.

Prom '71 gave elegantly clad couples a chance to dance and listen to the music of a group from Panama City, the "Classic Symmetry."

Swinging to the beat of the "Classic Symmetry" couples dance on into the night, looking forward to the activities of the early morning.

Carla Buice and Mitch Frisch enter the "Enchanted Gardens" by way of a bridge crossing the small stream.

end of beginning for largest senior class

With the end finally in sight, deserving individuals were recognized for each area of curriculum at the Awards Assembly, June 1. Teachers from each subject chose the senior that was most deserving.

Choctaw's largest graduating class, 640 of them, met at the Hurlbert Field Officer's Club Wednesday, June 2, for the traditional Senior Breakfast. Charlie Schuler, senior, was selected as guest speaker.

Baccalaureate services began, for the Class of '71 on Sunday afternoon, June 6. Seniors became aware that their last week of high school was rapidly coming to a close. Some would start college this summer, some in the fall. Some had jobs, a few were getting married, but all faced new experiences.

Finally, Tuesday night, June 8 came.

Mr. Francis Salter presents Michele Beatty, Salutatorian, with the award for the outstanding Senior math student.

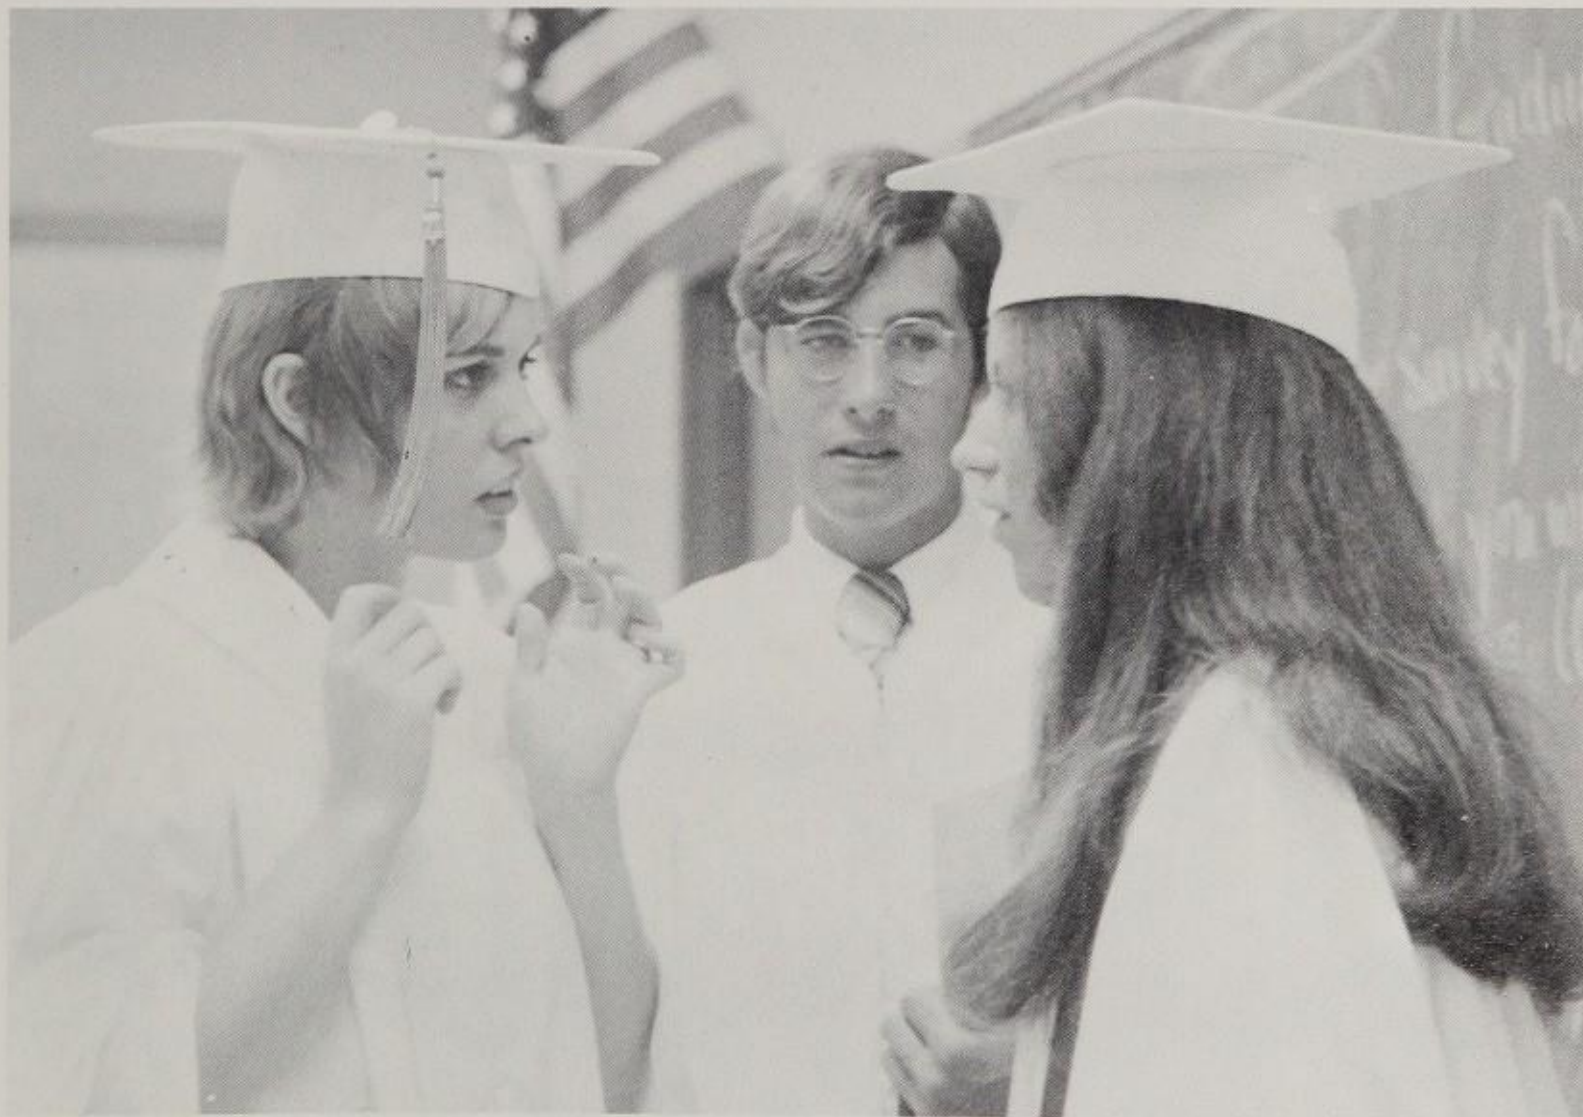

Madrigals provided the entertainment for the Awards Assembly. Senior members of the group gave their final performance before their fellow classmates.

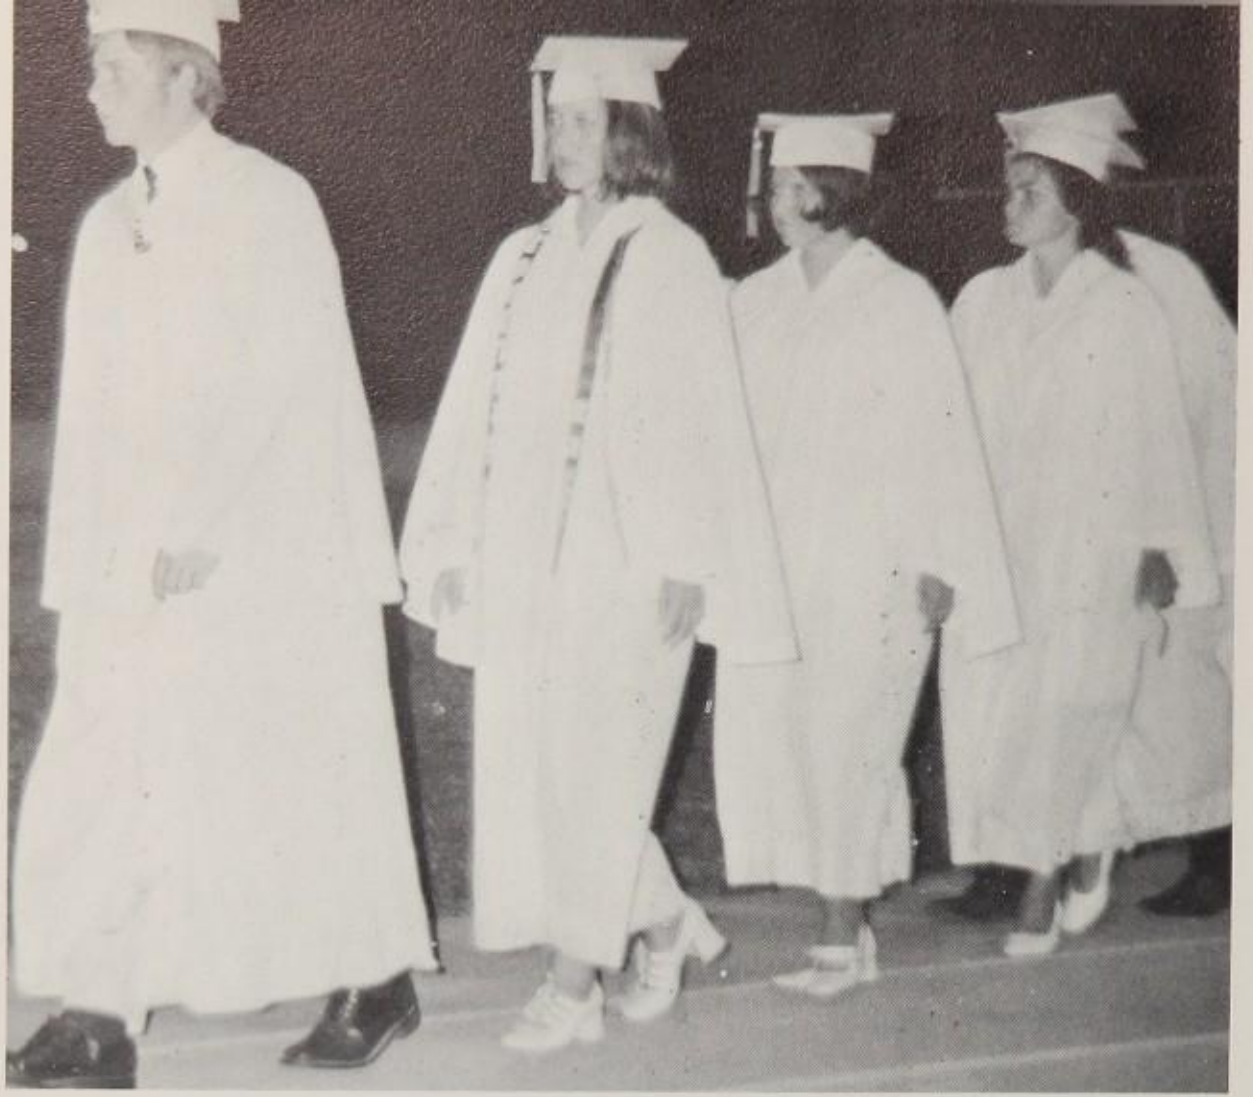

Carol Roby, Senior Class musician, accepts her award for outstanding band student from Mr. Jimmie Jones.

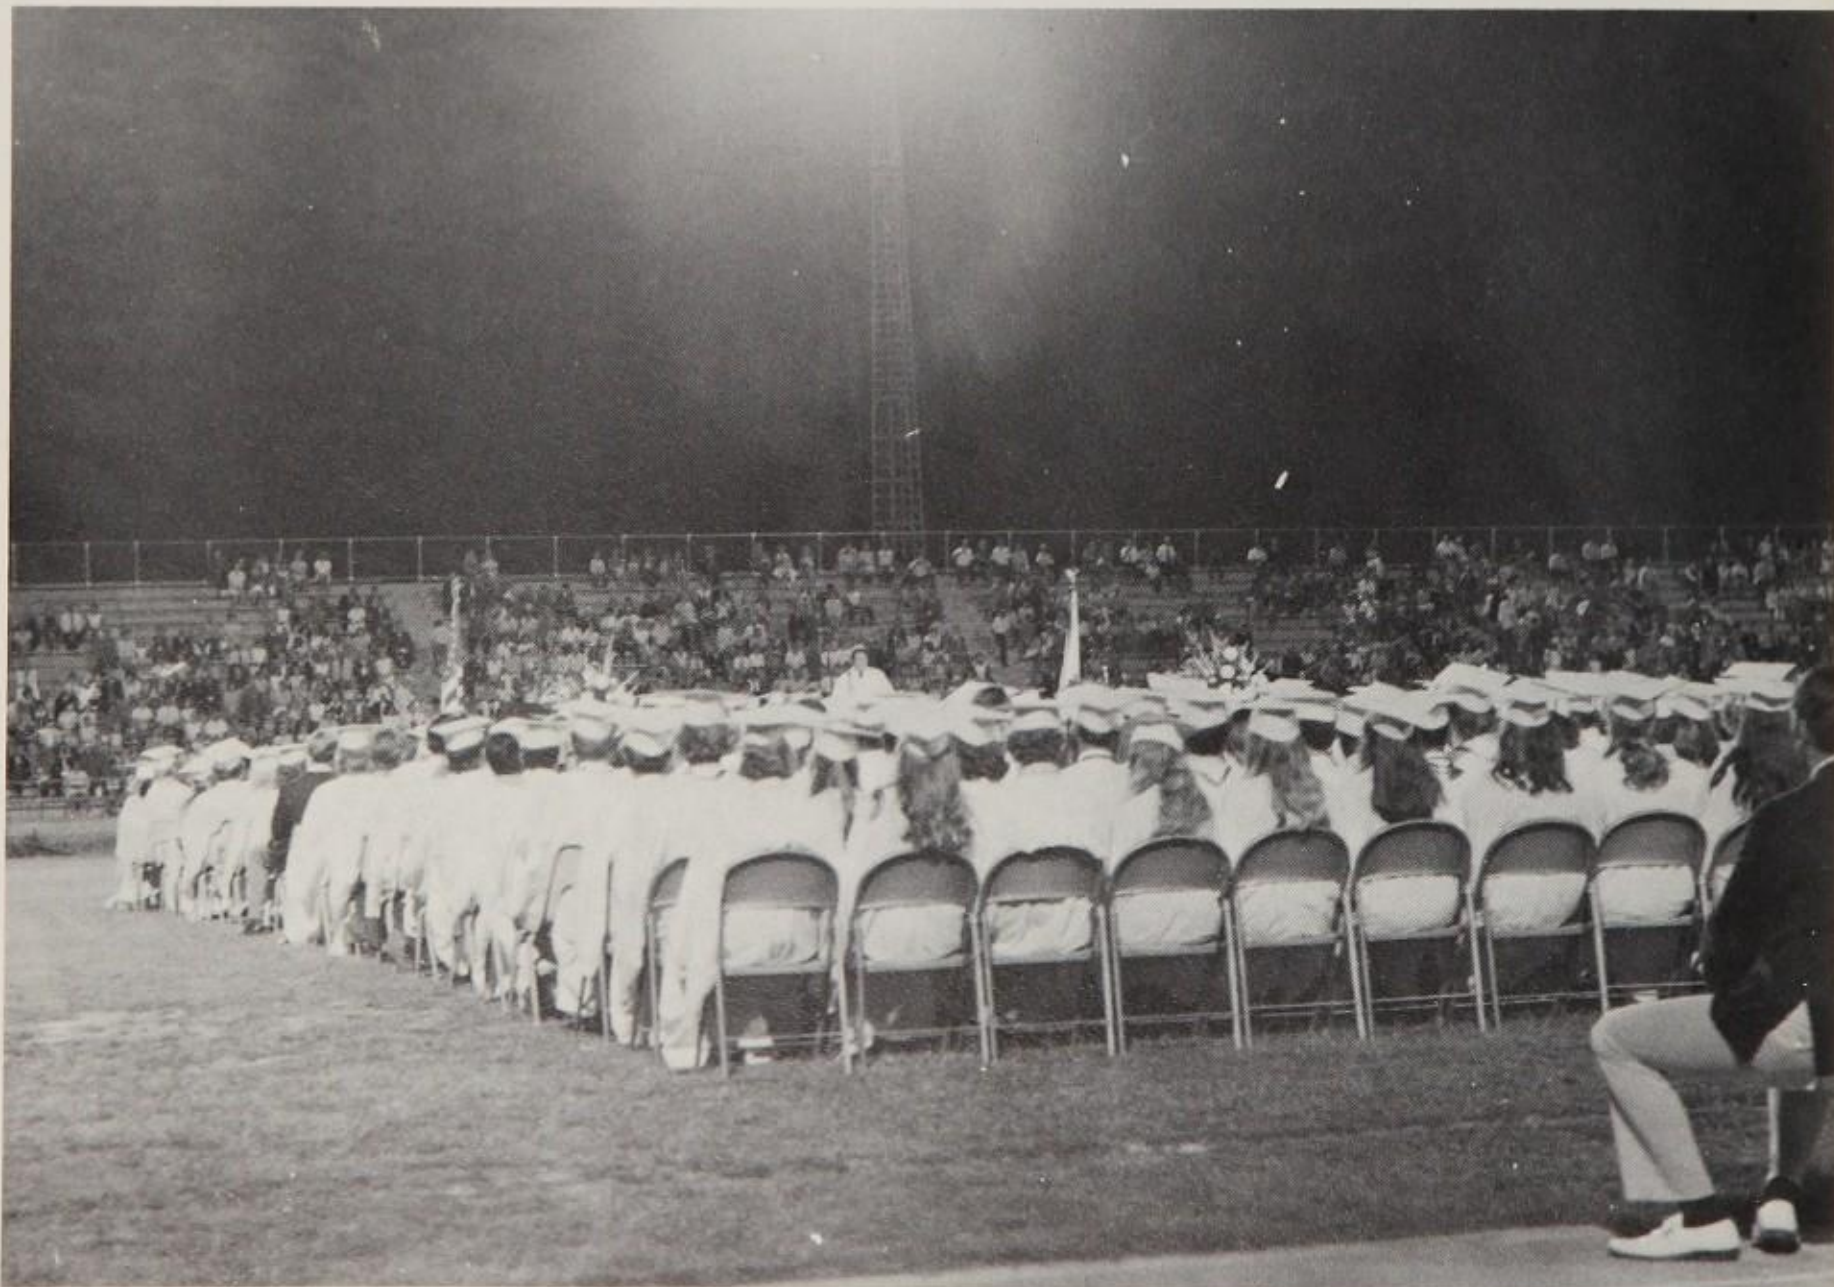

Lou Ann Smith, Chris Street, and Linda Strickland make last minute adjustments on their caps and gowns before proceeding to Memorial Stadium for graduation ceremonies.

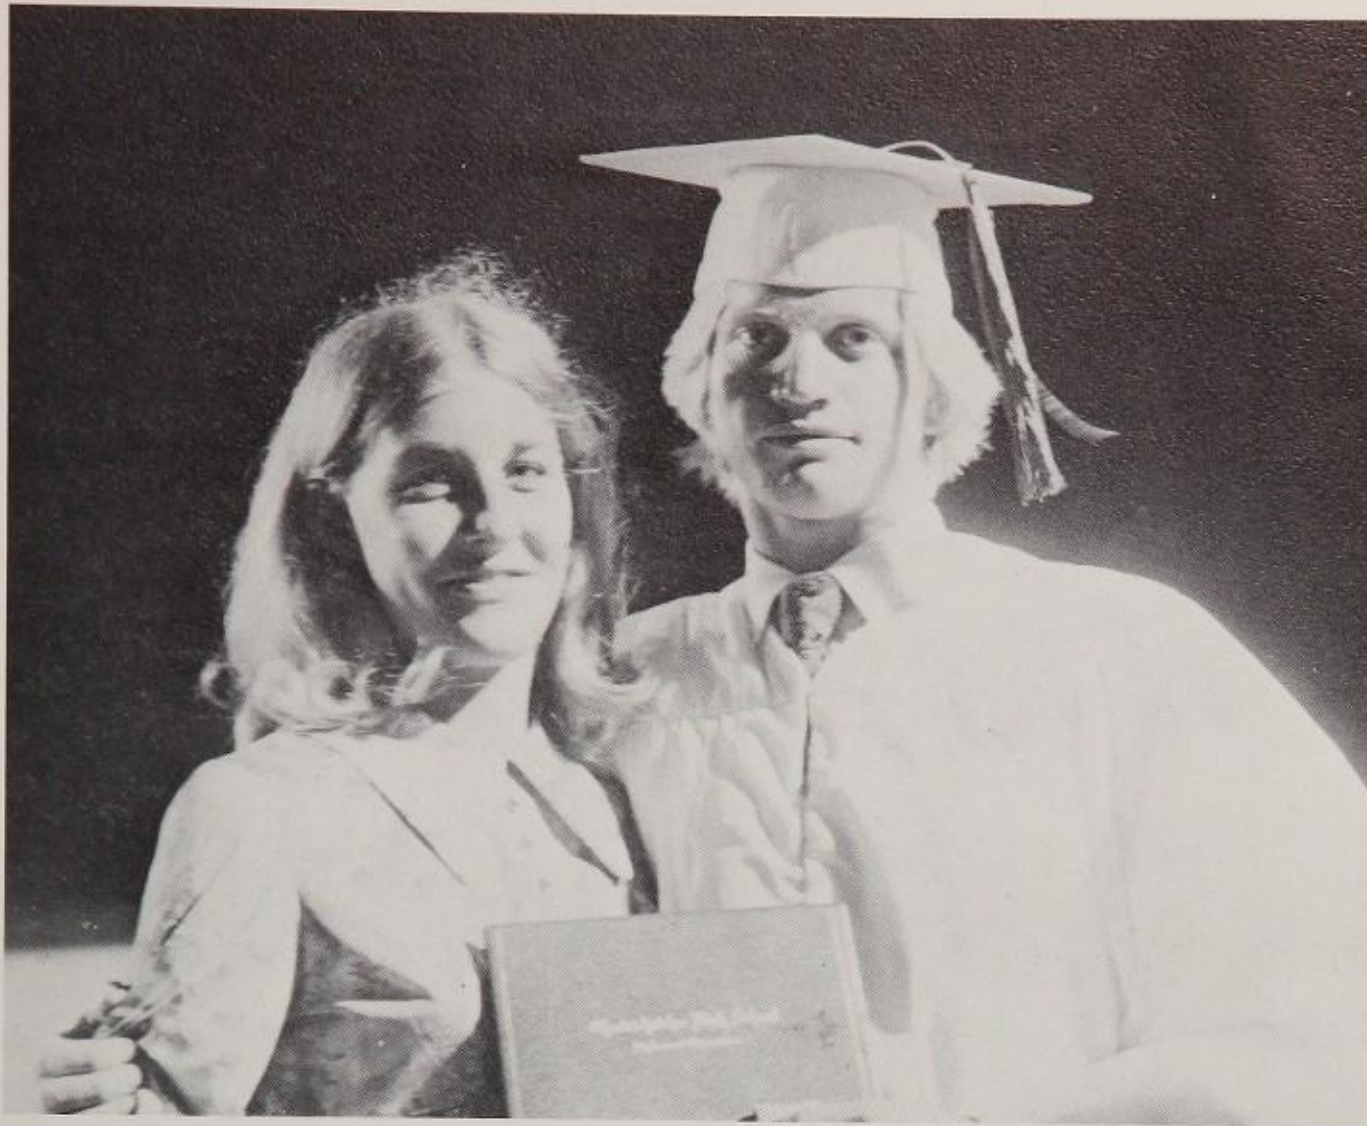

Seniors march into Memorial Stadium as Indians for the last time. Soon they will be faced with new responsibilities and experiences.

Steve Sparks, class president, speaks to his peers as they anxiously await the highlight of the ceremonies, the distribution of diplomas.

New graduate Bob Holifield and girlfriend stop to display his newly acquired diploma, symbol of accomplishment and work for all to see.

Mr. George Nied, assistant principal, gives instructions to the new graduates for returning their caps and gowns after the ceremonies were completed.

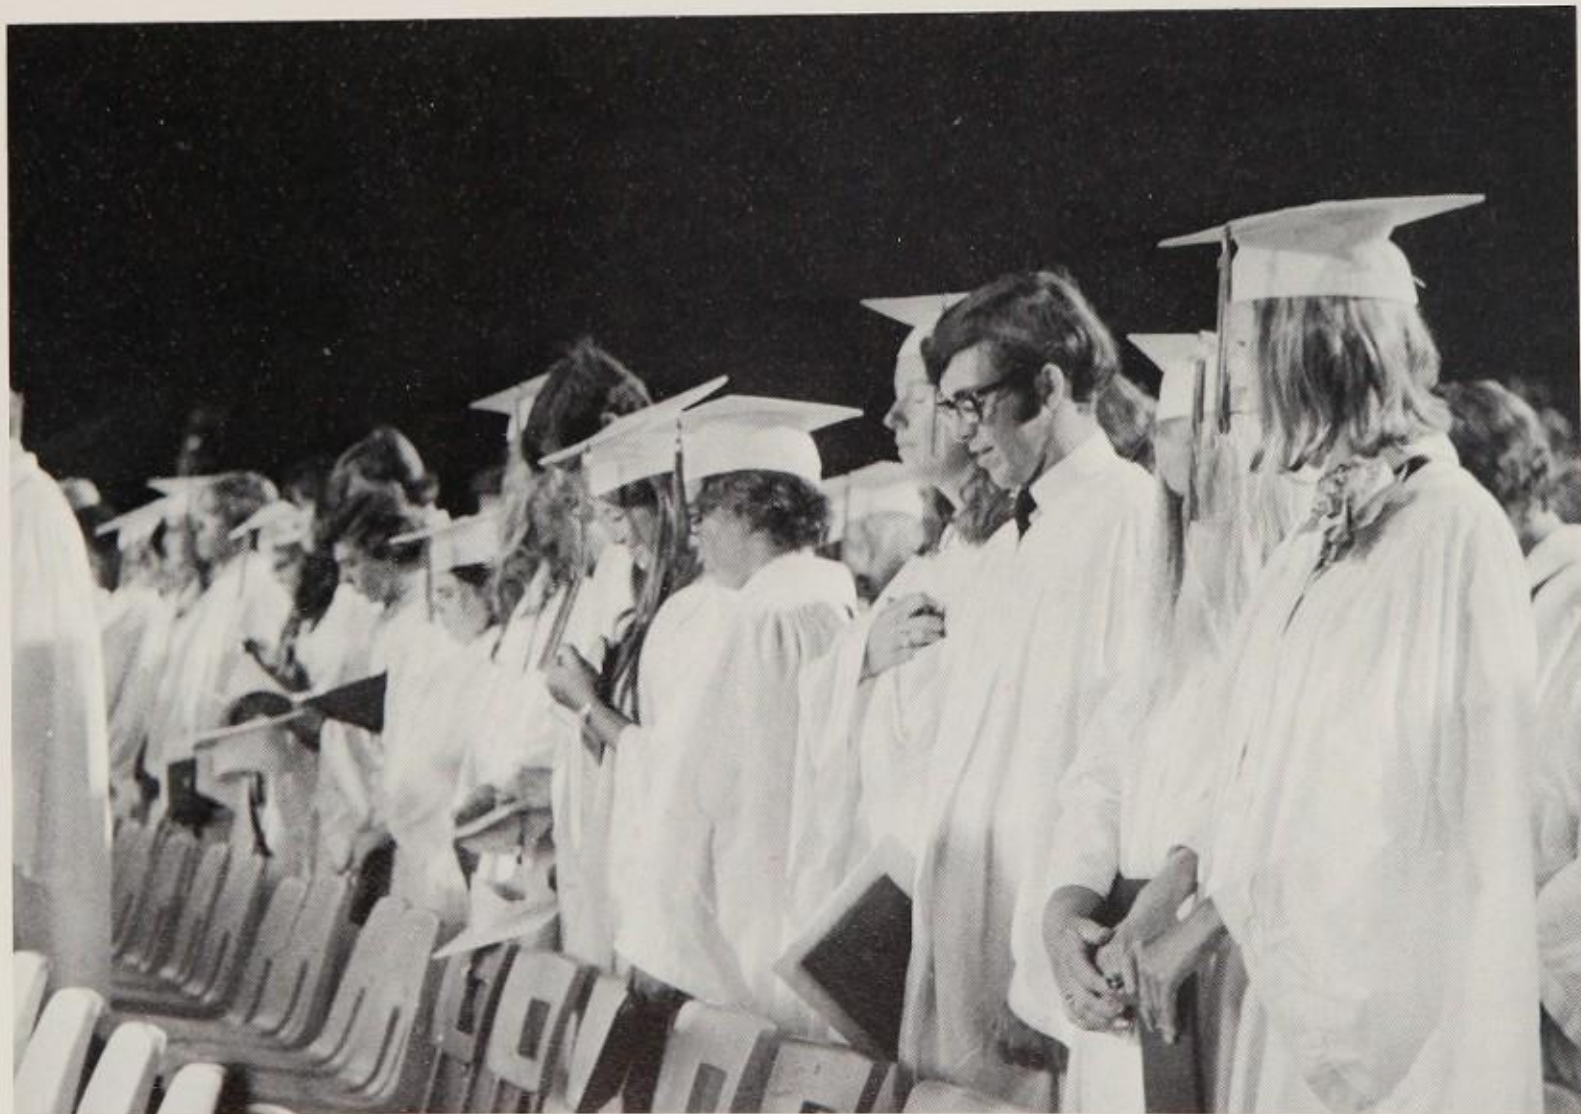

Seniors began their last hours as Big Green Indians at 8 p.m., June 8, 1971. Preparations for graduating were made in the various homerooms. Now they were ready for their appearance in Memorial Stadium.

Their moment of finality came after all the speeches had been made, all the advice given, and all the thanks said.

Graduation's usual solemn atmosphere was not the predominate mood. Giggles and smiles followed the seniors as they went forward to accept their diplomas, symbols of twelve or so years of arduous toil.

Mark Forsman tips his cap to acknowledge to friends and family the receipt of a well-earned citation, his diploma.

Most graduates found graduation a time for happiness and laughter, even as the benediction was pronounced and their time as seniors was past.

Delores,
as you probably know you have meant alot to me.
Thank you so much for being around
